VOL. XLIX. THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 17, 1930. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

Old Ironsides Relaunching on Theater Screen

The recent relaunching of Old Ironsides, the gallant fighting frigate Constitution, is among the interesting current events depicted in the latest issue of the Times-Universal Newsreel, now being shown in leading Southern California theaters. Equipped with three masts, the historic vessel is shown leaving dry dock in Boston Harbor and again taking to the waves. Graham McNamee, talking reporter, gives a description of the momentous event.

Other scenes show a jubilee celebration at Vatican City, an Indian ceremony at Flagstaff, Ariz., evacuation of the Rhineland by the last of French troops, summer ski-jumping at St. Mary's Glacier, Colo., and the flight of a blimp around the Chrysler Building, New York.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 58.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 16. [To the Editor of The Times:] In the the Hiram Johnson special session of the Senate, where Hiram is holding the Senate there while he investigates Dave Reed, he had Dave on the stand yesterday. Dave told him, "You can look at all the private communications, but it's a gentleman's agreement that you won't make use of the material." Well, Hi blew up when he found that he couldn't publish them serially in even so obscure a periodical as the Congressional Record. Why, he called Dave everything that a Pennsylvania Senator probably has to be. To insinuate that a Senator should keep a secret was perhaps unparalleled in those legislative halls.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

COL. TURNER MAKES NEW AIR RECORD

Vancouver-Agua Caliente Nonstop Flight Mark Cut Nearly Four Hours

SAN DIEGO, July 16. (AP)—Knocking nearly four hours off the border-to-border flight record Col. Roscoe Turner, former army flyer, landed at Agua Caliente, Mex., at 4:14:02.5 o'clock this afternoon, after a nonstop flight from Vancouver, B. C.

Col. Turner took off from Vancouver at 7 a.m., making his elapsed time 9:14:02.5. The previous record was 13.07, set by Tex Rankin some time ago.

An average speed of 180 miles was maintained and, aside from being tired, Col. Turner and his lion cub mascot seemed none the worse for their speedy trip. The flight was made in a Lockheed monoplane of special design.

Arrival of the plane was timed by J. Allison Moore, chairman of the local board of air control. William Van Dusen, local N.A.A. representative, who delegated Moore to take the time, said the record was sent to Washington, D. C., by air mail tonight.

Appropriations for Year Below Experts' Totals

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Figures made public today at the White House placed the amount of appropriations for actual expenditures during the present fiscal year at $4,203,254,457, or $670,674,775 below the total calculated by the chairman of the Senate and House appropriations committees.

White House officials said the calculations of the Appropriations Committee members included authorizations for public works which will be spread over a period of several years.

WARSHIPS TO EGYPT

Britain Moves in Crisis

MacDonald Tells Commons of Action to Safeguard Lives and Property

Trouble, However, Declared Viewed by Government as Domestic Affair

LONDON, July 16. (AP)—The immediate dispatch of two battleships to Alexandria, for the protection of life and property in the tense situation created by disorders there, was announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister MacDonald today.

The Prime Minister at the same time made it clear the government regards the present crisis in Egypt as purely a domestic affair of that country. He said this point of view had been conveyed, before the riots, to King Fuad and the Premier by the British High Commissioner. At the same time the British government informed the Egyptian government it does not intend to be used as an instrument for any attack on the Egyptian constitution.

Since the riots Sir Percy Lorraine, High Commissioner for Egypt, again has approached Premier Sidky Pasha and former Premier Nahas Pasha, who is leader of the Wafdists, and warned them the British government will hold them responsible if foreign lives and interests are endangered.

The Prime Minister was unable to give the House precise details as to the European casualties at Alexandria yesterday. Dispatches from there, however, say one Italian died of heart disease after being hit over the head during the disorders. Eight other foreigners were injured in the clashes.

The ships ordered to proceed to Alexandria are the Queen Elizabeth and the Ramillies, both vessels carrying eight 15-inch guns.

BODIES OF VICTIMS BORNE THROUGH STREETS

ALEXANDRIA (Egypt) July 16. (AP)—The bodies of thirteen victims of yesterday's rioting in Alexandria were carried through the streets of the city today in a great demonstration by Nationalists.

During the late afternoon several thousand Egyptians assembled outside the governments hospital and began pelting it with stones. The police, commanded by Fitzpatrick Bey, who was injured in yesterday's rioting, had great difficulty in restoring order.

The reason for the attack on the hospital was an announcement the Procurator-General had refused to allow removal of bodies of the victims of yesterday's clashes until post-mortems were conducted. The mob became agitated to get the bodies so as to give them public burial.

The bodies finally were handed over to the crowd after the formalities of the post-mortems had been completed. The biers then were carried shoulder high by members of the crowd. The procession was quite orderly. Frequently the demonstrators shouted: "Long live Nahas." Nahas is former Premier and leader of the Nationalists.

Police made no attempt to interfere with the demonstration. During the day a communique was issued stating in all fourteen persons were killed in yesterday's clashes, thirteen of them natives. The other was an Italian who died from heart disease, although he had been knocked on the head in a clash between strikers and police.

ONE RACE IN MONTANA UNCERTAIN

Representative Evans Cutting Lead of Wet Foe in Democratic Contest

HELENA (Mont.) July 16. (AP)—One contest tonight remained in doubt in the Montana primary.

Representative John M. Evans was paring down a slim lead held by his avowed "wet" opponent, Joseph P. Monaghan of Butte, in the Democratic contest for Congressional nomination. Returns from 258 precincts of 442 in the First District gave Monaghan 16,998, Evans 16,602.

In the Republican race for United States Senator, Albert J. Galen, Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court, had a commanding lead over O. H. P. Shelley, Red Lodge publisher. The figures for 1139 precincts of 1463 in the State gave Galen 39,169; Shelley, 19,140.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, unopposed Democrat, will face Galen in the November election.

In the Second Congress District the candidates were unopposed. They were Tom Stout of Lewiston, Democrat, and Congressman Scott Leavitt, Great Falls, Republican.

Saunders Plans California Trip

MEMPHIS, July 16. (AP)—Clarence Saunders, chain grocery magnate, said today he plans to go to California next week to "get things in shape there" if his affairs in connection with the receivership of Clarence Saunders Stores, Inc., will allow him to leave so soon.

Saunders said he plans to retain his residence and business headquarters here, but will be in California some time. He also announced he has obtained control of Saunders's Pacific stores.

CRASH ENDS REFUELING HOP

"K" Flyers on Nonstop Flight to Buenos Aires Jump When Gas Gives Out in Blinding Fog

MONROE (Ga.) July 16. (AP)—The proposed nonstop refueling flight of the monoplane "K" of New Haven from New York to Buenos Aires ended near here today when the ship crashed and the crew of three leaped to safety in parachutes.

The flyers, Garland Peed, Jimmy Garrigan and Randy Enslow, were lost for eighty hours. With her gasoline tanks empty, the "K" went out of control. Peed ordered his men to leap and followed them.

They landed without a scratch a mile from Bostwick, which is fifteen miles from here. The ship plowed into the ground about one-half mile away and was demolished. The men rested at a hotel here tonight, "lucky to be alive" and determined to try again. They expect to leave for New York within two days.

Low visibility and a sticky fog down the seaboard forced the flyers over Georgia's inland and the fuel which they hoped would take them to Havana was wasted as they flew blindly.

"For eight hours last night we could not even see our wing tips," Peed said. "About 9 a.m. things cleared up a bit, but still we couldn't see anything. The "K" went out of control with her gas gone. I knew a forced landing would be dangerous, as I had no idea where we were, so we jumped.

"You can bet that Georgia felt good under our feet."

The "K" had traveled 800 miles of her proposed 9000-mile hop before she crashed.

WILL NAMES LINDBERGH AND TUNNEY

Bequest Voided, However, Because Testator's Son Outlives His Father

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, were named in the will of Wylie P. Jameson, filed here today for probate, but the money which they were to have divided under certain conditions will go to another beneficiary.

The testament provided that if Mr. Jameson's son, Wylie B. M. Jameson of Memphis, Tenn., should die before his father, all but $20,000 should go to Lindbergh and Tunney, but the boy, who now is 9 years of age, survives his father, and, therefore will receive the money.

New York City's Dust Sets Mark

NEW YORK, July 16. (Exclusive) New York City's air was thicker than ever last month.

There was an average of 2.1 pounds of dust for each 1,000,000 cubic yards of air, 45 per cent more than in May and 9 per cent more than in February, which had been the year's dustiest month. These figures, made public today, are from records at the United States Weather Bureau's meteorological observatory in Central Park.

RARE BIBLE USED BY GANGS

"Oath" Book in Chicago Cafe Revealed as Argos Gospel Lectionary of Tenth Century

CHICAGO, July 16. (Exclusive)—The "oath" Bible of gangland meetings at Colosimo's Cafe at Twenty-second street and Wabash avenue was revealed today as the famous Argos Gospel lectionary of the tenth century acquired by the University of Chicago this spring.

The ancient manuscript, regarded by the university authorities as the most valuable in its collection and the most important antique piece ever to emerge in Chicago, is the sacred object, on which numerous gangsters formerly locked hands in the office of Colosimo's. The words which sealed many an underworld deal were spoken over this rare parchment made by monks in Greece ten centuries ago.

"Mike the Greek" Potson, manager and part owner of Colosimo's, picked up the Bible on one of his travels to his native land. Mike took over the restaurant after "Big Jim" Colosimo, proprietor, was slain in the cafe in May, 1920. When the boys gathered in the office for a conference the Bible came in handy for a binding oath. For several years the manuscript served, and then in came a well-known criminal attorney to talk business. He eyed the Bible, realized its worth, and informed Mike. This was a year ago. Potson was in financial difficulties and owed money to his partner, Michael Biskos. He gave Biskos the Bible to settle a debt.

Biskos sold the lectionary to Dr. Harold E. Willoughby, associate professor of the New Testament of the University of Chicago, and he described its acquisition in the current issue of the University Record as "the climax of the year's experiences" in collecting manuscripts.

"The owner," he said, "divulged the information that the manuscript had been used as an oath book by patrons of his restaurant. This suggests that it may have figured strategically in the recent history of Chicago gangland."

WAR-MAIMED MEN FETED BY HOOVERS

President and Wife Give Extra Time to Veterans at White House Party

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover gave double measure of hospitality to 250 disabled veterans who were their guests at a White House garden party this afternoon.

After standing for half an hour under the trees to receive the 734 guests, including veterans and many of the nation's notables, the Chief Executive and his wife sought out the men in wheel chairs and on crutches to have a little informal visit with them.

Cabinet officers and women in smart summer attire stood aside while the President and Mrs. Hoover chatted with Tom Cushing of North Carolina, flat on his back on a wheeled hospital bed. Tom wore a yellow and black striped dressing gown to the President's party because of an injured back received while he was an aviator in the World War.

To Capt. William McEvoy, another disabled veteran, the President expressed hope he will soon be back home in California.

The party marked Mrs. Hoover's first appearance at a large reception since her injury many weeks ago. Gowned in black and white chiffon with large black hat, she stood straight and smiling, giving hearty hand clasps. She showed no fatigue and seemed more buoyant and cheerful than usual.

Gangsters Fire Fusillade but Miss Their Mark

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Gangland's guns blazed again today but, quite queerly, slew no one. The fusillade was intended for "Spike" O'Donnell but the bullets hit a neighbor's house and didn't even wake the intended victim.

"I sleep pretty sound," O'Donnell said, when the police inquired how he happened to survive. They thought O'Donnell had been ambushed on his way home. "A bullet would have to hit me before I'd know anything about it," he added. He "couldn't imagine" why anyone should shoot at him.

Crops Damaged by Kansas Heat

KANSAS CITY, July 16. (AP)—Temperatures in parts of Kansas rose to nearly the record heights of last week today. Corn was reported damaged by a temperature of 108 deg. near Smith Center today, and growing crops near Salina, where the mercury rose to 102, and Newton, where the maximum was 99, suffered.

GERMAN AVIATRIX DIES IN ODENWALD CRASH

DARMSTADT (Germany)—July 16. (AP)—Paula Kistler, 38 years of age, an aviatrix of this city, was killed in an airplane crash in the Odenwald today. She had engine trouble and attempted to land in a glide, but one wing of the plane caught in tree tops.

MAURICE GRAHAM'S BODY FOUND IN UTAH WILDS

Discovery Made in Mountains Five Miles From Spot Where His Mail Plane Crashed

SALT LAKE CITY, July 16. (AP)—The correspondent of the Salt Lake Tribune late tonight reported over long-distance telephone that the body of Maurice Graham, missing air-mail pilot, had been found near Cedar City, Utah.

No details were immediately available, the Tribune correspondent saying the searching party had just returned with the body.

Graham, a Western Air Express pilot, became lost in a storm last January 10, and the first clew to his whereabouts was discovered about a month ago when his wrecked plane was found in the Panaca Mountains, twenty-two miles southeast of Cedar City. Since then a thorough search of the vicinity has been made.

WESTERN AIR EXPRESS OFFICIALS NOTIFIED

Officials of the Western Air Express in Los Angeles were apprised of the finding of Graham by Maj. Richard McDonald, a relative of Mrs. Graham, in a telegram last night. The message gave no details as to who found the body, but stated it had been located five and one-half miles southeast of the wrecked ship. Maj. McDonald has been in Cedar City directing the search since the wrecked plane was found.

The aviator's wife, who during the five months her husband has been missing, had refused to give up hope that Graham might be found alive, was unable last night to say if she would go to Cedar City to accompany the remains of her husband back to Los Angeles.

The widow with her 2-year-old twin children, Monte and Melodite, lives at 1317 North Fuller avenue.

RECORDS FOUND

Maurice Graham crashed his mail-laden plane on a mountain ledge eight miles south of Cedar City, Utah, on the morning of January 11, last.

The final entry in his log-book, found when the wrecked ship was located and the valuable mail cargo intact, was the terse words: "Arrived 2:35 a.m.—no destination."

Graham, crack pilot of the Western Air Express, left Las Vegas, Nev., at 10:10 p.m. January 10, last, bound for Salt Lake City. He was due to reach there at 2 a.m. He never arrived and search for the pilot and plane developed into a manhunt that utilized every known method.

A heavy snowstorm, into which Graham rode to his death, covered all the surrounding mountains and made the search difficult. Planes which took the air in the search which got under way early on the morning of January 11 found the blinding snow an almost insurmountable obstacle. It made visibility so poor, the pilots reported, that their first day's hunt was foredoomed to failure.

SEARCH EXPANDS

With the report of the missing airman spread over the entire West, hundreds joined in the search, which included experienced woodsmen, trappers, guides and employees of the Union Pacific Railway. The hunt grew in volume, but heavy snowfall continued to hamper the searchers.

Hundreds of reports and clews were run down and hope was held high for weeks that Graham would be found alive. Many of the reports that reached the Western Air officials were from distant points, which they directed be investigated, but they concentrated their principal activities on the territory contiguous to the line of the air-mail flight, in the belief that Graham would not waver far from the course that he knew so well.

Air-mail pilots, buddies of Graham, devoted their days and nights to unceasing search and army planes were sent to the scene to render any possible aid, as were flying ships of the Navy.

VALUE OF MAIL

Rumors of the value of the mail Graham was carrying added to the hunt when it was reported that he carried about $500,000 in currency in the plane. These were later denied by government officials, who announced that the mail carried amounted to 200 registered letters which contained only $300 in currency and $1700 in securities. All

PACT VOTE GOAL SET

Action Tuesday Hoped For

Backers Seek Agreement on Treaty Show-down While Foes Carry on Debate

Move Begun for Cloture as Some Fear Filibuster; Attendance Grows

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—With the opposition bearing the whole burden of debate, negotiations were begun in the Senate today looking to an agreement for a vote by next Tuesday on the London naval treaty.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, the leader of the treaty opponents, withheld any promise for an agreement pending the return to the Capitol of his chief lieutenant, Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who was called away by death in his family.

The dominant treaty forces grew restless, however, as the speeches of the opponents stretched into hours. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, spoke for three hours. Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, followed with a spirited attack upon President Hoover for his refusal to give the Senate all the papers relating to the London meeting.

COPELAND CLOSES

Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, closed the last two hours of debate. Fewer than ten members were on the floor as he read extracts of historical data relating to treaty negotiations.

Aroused by what they consider indications of a filibuster, some treaty advocates were moving tonight to invoke cloture to shut off debate. Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, said a cloture petition has been drafted, but said it has not been circulated for the necessary sixteen signatures and will not be unless a definite filibuster against the treaty develops.

Senator McKellar formally introduced his reservations late in the day, one providing for freedom of the seas in war time as well as peace, and the other calling for the elimination of British naval bases in the vicinity of the American continent.

PACT CALLED "SHAM"

In a bitter attack upon the treaty, the Tennessean termed the pact a "sham" and protested no printed record exists of the London negotiations. Senator Johnson said the State Department is engaged in printing a volume embodying its own views on the agreement. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, said the secretary of the London conference kept a record of the proceedings.

An attendance today of sixty-four members, the largest to appear thus far at the special session, led leaders to predict more than seventy will be present for the final roll call.

They estimated there will be no more than twelve votes in opposition, thus assuring a heavy margin above the necessary two-thirds for ratification.

FEAST CELEBRATED

ROME, July 16. (AP)—The feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, whose origin dates back to between 1376 and 1386, was celebrated this morning with solemn masses of thanksgiving in all the churches of the Carmelite order in Rome.

VETERAN OFFERS EYESIGHT

Inoculation for Trachoma Invited by Jobless Man to Provide Funds For His Wife

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) July 16. (AP)—Unemployed for the last month with no immediate prospect of finding a job, a Bridgeport World War veteran is ready to gamble with his eyesight for sufficient funds to provide for his wife.

He is Chester Taylor, 35 years of age, and the hazard he invites is inoculation for trachoma, an infectious disease affecting the membrane lining the eyeball. An attempt previously had been made to induce Woo Dak Sen, a condemned Chinese in a New Mexico prison, to submit to the inoculation in exchange for a commutation of his sentence, but the Governor of New Mexico declined to place the suggestion formally before Woo.

A week or so ago Taylor read news dispatches telling of a western doctor's desire to find a suitable subject for his trachoma experiment. Taylor had just completed another day of futile job seeking and he immediately mailed his offer of himself.

"If the disease kills me," he said, "I'll die content knowing that I've provided well for my wife."

His wife of eleven years is opposed to her husband being the subject for the test regardless of how much money he might gain.

SPECIALIST SEEKS BLIND PERSON FOR TEST

SANTA FE (N. M.) July 16. (AP) Dr. Francis I. Proctor, trachoma specialist, said today he and his colleagues interested in attempts to isolate the trachoma germ have decided to seek a blind person for the experiment.

More than forty volunteers for inoculation have been received since the suggestion was made to use Woo Dak Sen, condemned Chinese. None of the offers has been accepted, Dr. Proctor said. Gov. Dillon refused to allow the Chinese to be used.

Dr. Proctor emphasized trachoma is never fatal and does not result in blindness unless neglected. He explained science prefers a blind person, if one can be found who will submit to inoculation, because the trachoma germ will have the same effect on a blind person as it would on a person with good eyes.

FIRE SITUATION BETTERED NOW

Rising Humidity Able Ally of Weary Fighters

Blazes in Tehachapi Still Cause Anxiety

Trinity County Flames Held Incendiary's Work

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (Exclusive)—Lowering temperatures and rising humidity promised a check to the forest-fire menace today, according to Federal and State forest officials.

The favorable conditions caused a relaxation of vigilance, except in the Tehachapi Mountains, where a 4000-acre sheet of flame was fought desperately by an army of exhausted fire fighters.

The fire in the Basin Creek section was thought under control Tuesday night but was fanned to life by a brisk wind and swept another 1000 acres of range and brush land.

Bakersfield was in a fog of smoke and scores of fire fighters were drafted on the streets of that city.

Backfiring may be necessary, said Harold Bowhay, State Ranger, to save game preserves and 100 summer homes on Mount Breckenridge.

Another 4000-acre brush fire, caused by campers, was brought under control in the Calaveras country after 100 men had battled for two days.

In the Madera section an 1800-acre fire in pasture and brush lands burst out again after being brought under control, compelling Ranger Winter to rush more fire fighters to the front.

Declared incendiary, a forest fire north of Hayfork, Trinity county, necessitated an appeal to Redding for men. Fifty were rushed to the front in trucks and touring cars.

George Gowan, Forest Supervisor at Weaverville, called Fred Richardson, law enforcement officer on forest fires, from Redding to investigate.

WASHINGTON BLAZES SET BY LIGHTNING

SEATTLE, July 16. (AP)—More than 200 forest fires in widely separated parts of the State of Washington, nearly all started by lightning Sunday, had been brought under control today by regiments of fire-fighters.

Increased humidity aided in halting the blazes before great damage had been done.

Fifty or more fires are still burning on the Olympic Peninsula, where more than 400 men are fighting them.

OREGON FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

BEND (Ore.) July 16. (AP)—Three forest fires in the Deschutes section of Central Oregon tonight were trenched and believed under control. Despite the encouraging situation nearly 800 tired men were held in readiness to continue the fight.

The Makiaka Mountain fire which covered 1000 acres, is patroled tonight by 180 men and 125 men are held in reserve to relieve them. A crew of 225 men succeeded in trenching the Dugout Lake fire after it had burned 1500 acres of timber.

YOUTHFUL AVIATOR JOINS DEAD FATHER

Frank Goldsborough

JUNIOR-FLIGHT CHAMPION DIES

Goldsborough Succumbs as Result of Crash Injuries

Coma Continues Until End Despite Doctors' Efforts

Victim Holder of Records for Hops Across Country

BENNINGTON (Vt.) July 16. (AP) Frank Goldsborough, 19 years of age, holder of junior transcontinental flight records, tonight joined his father, Brice Goldsborough, also an aviator, in death.

Unconscious since being taken to the Putnam Memorial Hospital here, hours after his plane had crashed into a fog-hidden tree on Monday, Goldsborough died as his stepmother hastened to his bedside.

Frank died while doctors and nurses strove to revive him.

The Dawn, Mrs. Frances Grayson's trans-Atlantic plane, carried his father to death in one of the unsolved mysteries of attempted trans-Atlantic flights, only companion crew members with him.

FATHER NEVER FOUND

The Dawn never was found after his father hopped from New York to Newfoundland in 1927 preparatory to a trans-Atlantic flight attempt.

The youthful holder of three junior transcontinental flight records died in a coma that enshrouded him for sixty hours following his crash. He had shown no improvement since the time his unconscious form had been extricated from the wreckage of the plane, which had pinned him down for eighteen hours while an army of men searched for him.

With Donald Mockler of New York, Goldsborough was on his way to Keene, N. H., Monday when they encountered a thick fog. In an effort to get below the fog, Goldsborough dropped to a level of 2500 feet, only to crash into the trees of a mountain 2300 feet high.

COMPANION INJURED

Mockler was slightly injured and tried to extricate the unconscious Goldsborough from his pilot's seat. For an hour he worked, but on failing he set out in search of aid.

Goldsborough passed his tests for a private flying license last November and in April of this year he left Westfield, N. J., on his transcontinental flights. His east-west crossing set a new junior record and his flight back to New York was in record time. The round-trip time of 62 hours and 21 minutes was another junior record.

BANK BANDIT LOSES LIFE IN GUNFIGHT

Robber Shot Down by ex-Police Chief in Ohio; Latter Also Wounded

CANTON (O.) July 16. (AP)—A bandit identified as Charles Williams, alias Charles Kish, 25 years of age, of Canton, was shot to death, and Charles M. Riblet, 69, former Canton police chief, was wounded today in a pistol fight that followed the robbery of two messengers of the First National Bank.

A black bag, identical with one taken from the messengers, was found by police in a raid on a room said to have been occupied by James Romeo, who was arrested. Police said the bag contained $60,000 in currency.

Williams was killed by Riblet, who is head of the bank's protection service. The former chief had been shot down by the bandit. Riblet's condition is described as critical.

The second bandit grabbed the package and escaped to an automobile in which a third man was waiting.

BROTHER ASKS FOR SEVIER ESTATE PAPERS

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Ralph L. Shainwald asked permission today to examine all papers in connection with the estate of his sister, Mrs. Marion Sevier, who, he has always asserted, did not die of natural causes. Mrs. Sevier, wife of Col. Granville Sevier, commander of Fort Shafter in Honolulu, died in 1928, and physicians attributed her death to acute dilation of the heart. She left all her estate, believed to amount to about $700,000, to her husband.

COLLEGE AT OXFORD DAMAGED BY FLAMES

OXFORD (Eng.) July 16. (AP)—Historic Trinity College of Oxford University was the scene of a fire today, but the solid stones of which the seventeenth-century building is constructed were effective in keeping the blaze within a small space. The fire started in the undergraduates' quarters and was confined to two suites. Students in pajamas watched the fire fighters at work.

MURDER SUSPECT CAPTURED

Man Wanted in Capital Slaying Recognized by Montreal Police

MONTREAL, July 16. (AP)—When Herman Henry Barrere walked into detective headquarters today to complain that $50 had been stolen from him, he was arrested as a man wanted in Washington, D. C., in connection with the slaying of Mary E. Baker, whose body was found in a culvert in Arlington county, Virginia, last April.

Montreal police had been furnished a description of Barrere in circulars sent broadcast from Washington, and said they recognized him immediately.

Detectives said Barrere admitted his identity, but denied knowledge of the killing. He was quoted as saying he had been under arrest in the United States and had been questioned regarding the slaying.

EAGLET TO TRY WINGS SOON

Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., Will Take First Plane Ride In Few Weeks

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., may have his first airplane ride within the next four weeks, but his father says no plans have been made yet for a flight with Mrs. Lindbergh and Charles, Jr., to the summer home of Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father, at North Haven, Me.

If Col. Lindbergh and his family fly to North Haven, he said, it probably will be in a smaller plane than the colonel's Sirius, in which he and his wife set a transcontinental record on Easter Sunday. Charles, Jr., is 4 weeks old.

GROWTH OF RED VIOLENCE TOLD

Cessation of Federal Curb on Radicals Blamed

Justice Department Quit When Laws Failed

Use of "Sucker List" Cited to House Committee

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Growth of organized violence in strikes and demonstrations staged by Communists was attributed today largely to the cessation in 1925 of the Justice Department's efforts to curb soviet activities due to insufficient laws under which to act.

Charles K. Wood, conciliation commissioner of the Labor Department at Washington, told a special House committee investigating Communist activities organized violence had become a "serious menace" to the nation's industries in the past five years.

MOSCOW DIRECTS

Testifying for five hours as the only witness of the second day of hearings, Wood charged Communist activities are directed in this country from Moscow, but expressed the belief the soviet government did not spend any money officially to aid in formulating a basis for a revolutionary movement.

As author of the book "Reds and Lost Wages," and in charge of negotiating strike settlements for the government, Wood said he has found Communists sponsored strikes not to better conditions of workers, but to raise money from strike sympathizers. Money intended for women and children of strikers went, he said, largely to Communist propagandizing work.

"SUCKERS" AID REDS

All strikes initiated or encouraged by Communists, he said, were of a revolutionary and political character, in addition to being a means of obtaining funds from a "sucker list" of "pinks" and parlor Bolsheviks" who, he said, lived on money they did not earn.

Wood charged Communist leaders precipitated the clash of Gastonia, N. C., in 1929 between strikers and police in order to create sympathy and obtain funds. Similar tactics were employed, he said, in the 1926 textile strike at Passaic, N. J., when $600,000 was raised, and at the strike in New Bedford, Mass., in 1928.

LEADERS LISTED

The names of Fred Beal, Jake Rubinstein, Albert Weisbord and Fred G. Brendenkopt were given the committee as leaders in the Communist-sponsored strikes.

The witness charged the Daily Worker, official Communist organ published in New York, is revolutionary in character. He described the "Workers' Training School" here, which, he said, on investigation by one of his agents, was found to be training youths and old to teach the overthrow of the existing government.

League Formed by Girl Scouts

LYNDHURST (Eng.) July 16. (AP) Girls representing the Girl Scout movement in twenty-eight countries today adopted a tentative constitution for a world association, after a week of conferences at Foxlease House, training school of British girl guides.

Princess Mary was one of the keenest workers during the week for the international association. Striving with her were five Americans. The world bureau will be situated in London.

VICTIM OF PLANE CRASH IN HILLS

of the mail was found intact by postoffice officials when they found the wrecked plane.

A reward was offered by the Western Air Express to any private party locating the lost plane and pilot, and this sent additional hundreds into the isolated regions of the mountainous district of Southern Nevada.

The search continued without any signs of success until June 25, last, when the badly wrecked plane was found. There were signs that Graham had escaped the fall, and since that time the hunt for him has been renewed.

FLYER WAR VETERAN

Graham was 35 years of age and had been flying for thirteen years. He started his air career on November 8, 1917, and took the army air courses at San Diego and Fort Sill, Okla., Fort Worth, Tex., and finished in an overseas training camp.

He enlisted in the Army June 26, 1917, at San Diego, asking immediate air training, and after completing his schooling, served at the front in France with the Fiftieth Aero Squadron and served in Germany with the Army of Occupation.

At the close of the war Graham made an air tour that was considered quite unusual at that time. He flew a plane from Germany through Belgium to England, Scotland, across the Irish Sea to Ireland, back to England, Belgium and France. It was a two weeks' tour and created attention.

G.O.P. of Iowa Backs Hoover; Lauds Tariff

DES MOINES, July 16. (AP)—Support was pledged President Hoover and the Federal Farm Board by the platform of Iowa Republicans adopted in State convention today.

The platform commended Congress for "giving agriculture the best tariff rates it has ever had," but declared the "present level of farm prices is inequitable and unfair." Support was pledged to President Hoover and the Federal Farm Board.

Salinas Picks Rodeo Queen

SALINAS, July 16. (AP)—Margaret McCulley, a blue-eyed, brown-haired 17-year-old Watsonville High School girl, today was enthroned on her own pinto pony, "Sweetheart of the Rodeo," as queen of the nineteenth annual California rodeo.

Headed by Miss McCulley, the colorful array of 400 cowpunchers and cowgirls moved through lanes of brilliant color in the downtown district to the wild west arena to compete for four world championships and purses totaling $40,000.

Seal Fisherman Buys Byrd Ship

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—The steam trawler Eleanor Bolling, which won fame and a thousand scars in battles with ice and weather with the Byrd expedition in the Antarctic seas, went back into humdrum commercial life today to become a North Atlantic seal-fishing boat.

Capt. David C. Bedrick announced he has purchased the ship.

IRON HAND AT GERMAN HELM

Cabinet Will Make Use of Dictatorial Powers

Harsh Action Designed to Put Over Tax Bill

Unruly Reichstag Rejects Finance Program

BERLIN, July 16. (AP) — The Bruening Cabinet today invoked the dictatorial powers granted under Article XLVIII of the German constitution to put through its financial program. The decision followed the Reichstag's rejection of Finance Minister Dietrich's proposals.

The action created a situation making the fate of the present Reichstag seem problematical. That body will be informed officially of the Cabinet's decision in the Gazette. The Reichstag then will have the opportunity tomorrow, if unwilling passively to consent to the measure, of voting down the government's application of Article XLVIII.

DISSOLUTION POSSIBLE

Since the government, on first indication of a majority against it in the Reichstag, doubtlessly will dissolve the Reichstag, observers tonight said further opposition to Finance Minister Dietrich's plans would be highly improbable.

Under article XLVIII the President of the republic is given dictatorial powers in the event the public security and order in the German nation should be considered disturbed or endangered so that he may take necessary measures to reestablish such public security and order. Article XLVIII had been invoked but rarely since the German republic became firmly established.

SPECIAL TAXES LAID

The finance bill provides, among other things, a special tax to be levied on incomes of more than 8000 marks (about $2000) a year, and an extraordinary tax imposed on Federal employes. Drastic reductions in the expenditures of all departments of government are also contemplated.

The day's proceedings in the Reichstag seemed to indicate the legislators on the one hand were unwilling to swallow the tax bills, but on the other were not ready to unseat the government, nor were they willing to end their own terms of office.

A vote to dissolve the Reichstag was turned down, as was also one expressing lack of confidence in the government.

Members of the Reichstag apparently wanted to wash their hands of the unpopular tax increases and let the government bear the full brunt. The government accepted the challenge.

HAPSBURG FAMILY LEAVES FOR SPAIN

BRUSSELS, July 16. (AP)—The former Empress Zita, Archduke Otto and other children of the Hapsburg family have left Steenockerseel Castle for Le Quesita, Spain, on a two months' holiday. At the end of September Archduke Otto will resume his studies at Louvain University. The young Archduke will shortly become of age and in recent weeks there have been many rumors of plans to place him on the Hungarian throne.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LEADER DIES IN EAST

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) July 16. (AP)—James M. Lynch, for many terms president of the International Typographical Union and leader of that organization's nation-wide battle for the forty-eight-hour working week, died in a hospital here this morning of blood infections. He was State Commissioner of Labor under Gov. Glynn and subsequently one of four industrial commissioners.

FEDERAL AGENTS SEIZE SMUGGLED ALCOHOL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (AP)—Federal prohibition agents seized 1380 gallons of asserted smuggled Belgian alcohol near Pascadero today, arrested three men, and took their surfboat, motor truck and automobile. Those arrested were Lee Lewis, 45 years of age; Charles Allen, 40, and James Diero, 36, all of San Francisco. The alcohol, agents estimated, is worth about $75,000.

LARGER CITIES' NUMBERS JUMP

Hundred Thousand Class Now Embraces Ninety-three

New Accessions Show Double Percentage Gain

Texas Population Nearing 6,000,000 Mark

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—An upward leap of population that has carried twenty-five additional cities over the 100,000 mark, making a total of ninety-three American cities of this class, was shown today by complete Associated Press census compilations for the larger municipalities.

A careful count of inhabitants of these cities has reached a total of 36,393,221, or more than one-quarter of the nation's estimated population.

AMONG FIRST

In five cities alone more than 15,000,000 persons are shown to dwell. Led by New York with its nearly 7,000,000 inhabitants, the four other cities in the million class in order of their size are Chicago Philadelphia, Detroit and Los Angeles.

Newcomers to the 100,000 class generally are shown to have grown considerably faster than the sixty-eight cities placed within the select group by the 1920 count.

Showing a total 1930 population of 2,928,405, the twenty-five "new" cities increased at a rate of 45.5 per cent since the last census, while the larger group of sixty-eight, with a present population of 33,464,816, increased by 22.0 per cent.

AVERAGE LARGE

Although the latter figure is smaller than the increase of this same group of sixty-eight cities from 1910 to 1920—the former rate being 23.8 per cent—the combined growth between 1920 and 1930 of all the ninety-three municipalities now within the 100,000 class stands at 32.6 per cent.

The complete Associated Press tabulation of the nation's largest cities follows:

TEXAS POPULATION APPROACHES 6,000,000

DALLAS (Tex.) July 16. (AP)—The 1930 population of Texas is 5,810,683, an increase of 1,147,455, or 24.62 per cent, according to figures released by census supervisors of the various districts and compiled by the Associated Press today. The 1920 population was 4,663,228.

All sections participated in the growth but the greatest increases were recorded in the Panhandle, West Texas, the Rio Grande Valley and a number of coastal areas.

ELDERLY MINER SLAIN; PARTNER SURRENDERS

EUREKA, July 16. (AP)—Sheriff Breen announced tonight John Orloff, 76-year-old miner, had been slain at Frog Pond on the headwaters of Alkhouse Creek in Siskiyou county. John Apple, 70, walked forty miles to Grants Pass, Or., where he surrendered, declaring he shot in self-defense following a quarrel with Orloff, the Sheriff said. The two had been partners for a year in mining ventures in Northern California.

BERLIN SENT HIGH PRAISE BY HOOVER

President Lauds Deeds of Gen. Von Steuben in Note to Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—President Hoover today communicated to President Von Hindenburg of Germany the greetings of the American people upon the occasion of a dinner in honor of Gen. Von Steuben, who fought with the American forces in the Revolutionary War.

"I am happy to have this occasion to address your excellency personally and to convey to you the friendly greetings of the American people. Gen. Von Steuben's invaluable service in the cause of independence is taught in every American school, and is gratefully remembered by every American citizen," the President wrote.

"The people of the United States have also never forgotten the other great contributions to our national life that have been made by men of German birth or German blood in this country. They have influenced our educational ideals and methods, our scientific and technical thoughts and our cultural and artistic life. They have greatly served the land of their adoption and have done honor to the land of their origin."

Plane Squadrons Bomb Mt. Ararat

Air Attack Made from 20,000 Feet

ISTANBUL, July 16. (AP)—Kurdish invaders beleaguered high among the volcanic rocks of Mt. Ararat today shot down one Turkish airplane, gouged out the eyes of the aviator and tore the machine to shreds during a terrific bombardment by an aerial squadron.

The Kurds, reinforced by Armenians, according to Erzeroum dispatches, made desperate reply to the bombers with machine guns. In the engagement the Turkish planes used for the first time in an effort to check the fanatical incursion against modern Turkey, flew to an altitude of 20,000 feet, higher than Mt. Blanc, before swooping down on their hidden foes and dropping tons of bombs among the crevices used by the Kurds as hideouts.

Official bulletins cited the heroism of flyers sent to bomb Ararat and patrol 150 miles of mountainous Turko-Persian frontier to prevent the ever-recurring raids.

Turkish reinforcements advanced slowly across a devastated area where the marauders had destroyed 200 villages on their sweep toward the mountain.

Mrs. Ada Blake Again Tells of Great Benefits

MRS. ADA BLAKE

"About five months ago I gave a statement telling of the wonderful results I got from Sargon. I want to make this second statement, to say that although I was able to decrease my doses right along, my improvement has been steady; so Sargon doesn't help one for just a few days or weeks, but its marvelous benefits are lasting," recently stated Mrs. Ada Blake, of 2384 La Jolla Ave., San Diego.

"Before I took Sargon I suffered so with pains like neuritis in my lower limbs and feet I couldn't walk two blocks. My kidneys were over-active, my back ached almost continually; and I was so nervous I never slept more than an hour a time. I had attacks of 'smothering' and heart palpitation — my heart would sometimes miss every fifth beat, and I was refused insurance. Constipation bothered me for thirty-three years.

"Sargon overcame every ailment I had and reconditioned my entire system to new and splendid health!

"Sargon Pills completely overcame my constipation. I started out with the regular dosage and was able to taper off of them as well as the liquid. Sargon is truly a remarkable medicine!"

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

PROPHESY MADE TO LIONS' CLUBS

Mrs. Willebrandt Speaks at Denver Convention

Assurance Given of Nation's Industrial Stability

Forecast of Ultimate Dry Victory Voiced

DENVER, July 16. (AP)—Confident in the cementing of international relations, the idustrial stability of the United States and the ultimate complete enforcement of the national prohibition laws was expressed in an address today by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant United States Attorney-General, before the fourteenth annual convention of Lions' clubs.

"This period," she said, "will come to be known as one of great spiritual acceleration; one marked by the influence of intangible forces in thought, industry, business management and, most of all, in leadership and decision of national policies . . . A few years hence a superstructure of business development and national growth and international good will will appear, much greater and more permanent than ever before."

HOOVER KEEPS FIRM

Characterizing the present as an "economic zero hour," she said: "For the past eight years every aim has been for money, prosperity, the acquisition of things, such as motor cars, the evidence of wealth. We went to extremes to get quickly what we had previously done without, like liquor, luxury, pleasure."

Recounting accomplishments of the Hoover administration, Mrs. Willebrandt observed "this last winter has been a hectic political time. The mud-slingers, sarcasm manufacturers and editorial croakers have had an inning, but the President has not permitted himself to be deflected from either the methods which are peculiarly his own or the aims he believes to be right."

Mr. Hoover, she added, cannot perform, because he is too busy. "He avoids a fight as long as possible," she said, "but when it becomes the only alternative he 'gives 'em hell'."

DRY FAITH STRETCHED

As for prohibition, Mrs. Willebrandt said her faith had been "stretched thin on some occasions when I have observed the amazing lack of sportsmanship of some citizens on this subject." She added, however, she was confident success would attend the efforts of Amos Woodcock, new director of prohibition enforcement.

Dr. Walter F. Dexter of Whittier College, Whittier, Cal., urged the delegates to "desocialize" war.

"We have been taught to believe," he said, "that in order to eliminate war as a means of settling international controversies and misunderstandings, we have to master the insurmountable task of changing human nature.

"With this point of view modern educators and psychologists cannot agree. During the past ten years some of the best minds of the country have come to the conclusion there is no fighting or pugnacious instinct in the human race.

"Therefore, the problem of outlawing war becomes one of changing legal, social and spiritual customs."

Bay City Holds Forgery Suspect

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (AP)—Allen B. Stecher, 34 years of age, was arrested today by police and secret operatives on a New York warrant charging forgery of a government compensation check.

Police said Stecher also was wanted in Chicago for asserted swindling operations and by Glendale and Santa Ana (Cal.) authorities for asserted stock-selling frauds.

STUNT FLYER KILLED

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS (N. J.) July 16. (AP)—Roy Ahearn, a stunt flyer, was killed today when the wings of his biplane dropped off at an altitude of 10,000 feet above the Terboro airport.

This season YOU CERTAINLY CAN AFFORD GOODYEARS

THERE never has been a time when the tire-buyer's money could buy as much as right now.

Rubber's cheap—and consequently tire prices are the lowest they've ever been.

People with an eye to values are seizing this chance and making the most of it.

Now is the time to get YOURS

They're buying Goodyear Tires—because right now they can buy them for as little as they used to pay for inferior or unknown tires.

Why are they singling out Goodyear Tires with especial insistence as against all others?

Because Goodyear Tires are definitely superior in tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

The Goodyear All-Weather Tread is superior in traction.

The Goodyear Supertwist Carcass is superior in vitality and long life.

You are not asked to accept these statements without inquiry.

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

The facts certainly are: Goodyear Tires do give greater value.

As far back as 1916, it became a fact that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Every year since that time it has been increasingly true that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Today this preference for Goodyears runs into millions: millions more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

More Goodyear Tires than any other kind annually leave motor car factories on new cars—more Goodyear Tires go into service through the great Goodyear dealer organization—more Goodyear Tires are used by transcontinental, urban and interurban buses.

There can be only one conclusion: Goodyear Tires must be better—and at present prices they are a matchless bargain.

Now is the time to get yours.

MORE RIOTING IN INDO-CHINA

France Gets Word of Clash and Three Deaths

Mob of 500 Natives Held Off by Dozen Soldiers

Fifteen Killed, Seven Hurt in India Disorders

PARIS, July 16. (Exclusive)—The sinister thunder in the East, which still is rumbling in India and which yesterday signaled bloody riots in Egypt, has been heard again in French Indo-China.

After several weeks of calm since the last outbreak, the lid was blown off again and there was new bloodshed. Censored dispatches from Saigon today described a battle between a handful of soldiers and a mob of 500 natives. Only the courage and cool-headedness of the native officers prevented a duplication of the massacre at Yen Bay.

The battle occurred on Monday evening as a result of efforts by Communist agitators to prevent the populace from honoring the French holiday, Bastille day. Hearing that the Communists were running wild in the little village of Sadec, the French administrator sent a detachment of eleven native soldiers, commanded by one native officer to restore order. Three leaders of the mob were killed and a number were wounded.

ADDED TROUBLE IN BENGAL AREA

CALCUTTA (India) July 16. (AP)—Four rioters and eleven other persons have been killed and five government officers and two natives injured in disorders at Mishorenanj, which tonight had not been put under control after many hours.

The Bengal Governor tonight informed a deputation of five councillors of the extent of the casualties.

The Governor said the situation, while still not under control, is in its general aspects improved.

He said the riots appeared to be of economic origin rather than communal and probably were connected with low prices obtaining in the jute market.

Trip Planned in Boulder Fight

PHOENIX, July 16. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Peterson announced tonight he and Clifton Mathews, special assistant Attorney-General in Colorado River matters, will leave tomorrow morning for Washington to "make certain investigations" incident to impending litigation by Arizona to prevent construction of the Boulder Dam project.

IOWA STUDENT PILOT DIES IN PLANE CRASH

FORT DODGE (Iowa) July 16. (AP) Donald Sabin, 27 years of age, Fort Dodge student pilot, was killed in an airplane crash tonight a mile north of the local airport. Sabin was flying alone at a height of about 3000 feet when his plane went into an inverted spin. He was dead when taken from the wreckage.

Mr. Du Pont, according to announcement of friends, will marry Mrs. Caroline Hynson Stollenwerck, attractive widow of Baltimore.

Mrs. Stollenwerck, long prominent in eastern society, is at present making her home in Scarsdale, N. Y. Mr. Du Pont and Mrs. Stollenwerck will have a fall wedding.

AUTO FUNDS DENIED FOR CRIME TRAP

Webb Rules Revenue from Vehicles Cannot be Used for Teletype System

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (AP)—The proposed expenditure of motor vehicle funds for installation of a teletype system throughout California for apprehension of criminals was declared illegal today by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb.

The State Department of Public Works had requested a ruling, explaining the Legislature had appropriated money for such a system but Gov. Young had failed to sign the bill, in the belief the project could be financed by motor vehicle funds.

The proposal involved erection of trunk and lateral teletype lines throughout the State at a cost of $50,000, permitting city and county police to communicate directly with the State bureau of criminal identification in Sacramento.

Webb ruled the use of motor vehicle funds is limited to the maintenance of the division of motor vehicles.

Actor of Stage Takes Own Life

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Howard Haas, an actor known on the stage as Frank Howard and a player for many years in the companies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coburn, took his life today at his apartment by inhaling an anaesthetic.

His wife, Mrs. Reta Haas, who was on the stage with him under the name of Constance Howard, attributed his suicide to the decline in stage employment and to his loss of $20,000 in the stock market decline of last October.

NAVAL TRIO INJURED IN CRASH OF PLANE

PHILADELPHIA, July 16. (AP)—Lieutenant - Commander O. W. Erickson, chief inspector at the naval aircraft factory in the Philadelphia navy yard, was seriously injured today in the crash of a navy bomber on the flying field at the yard. W. B. Stith, naval hospital apprentice, and E. L. Talley, civilian inspector, were also injured. They were testing parachutes with 200 pound dummies when a parachute, fastened to the bottom of the ship prematurely opened and caused the bomber to go out of control. It fell about 200 feet. The plane caught fire, but the men were rescued.

POSTAL CHIEF SPURNS ADVERTISING PROJECT

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Bulk packages of unaddressed advertising matter will not be delivered by government letter carriers. Postmaster-General Brown ruled so today to end a long controversy. Advertisers supported the proposal before a joint Congressional postal committee in 1925 but it was opposed by the Postoffice Department. Postmasters, in answer to a questionnaire, recently said they are against it. The Postmaster-General said if the plan were allowed "the mail would be flooded with this class of matter."

LEWIS CHARGE QUIZ DEMANDED

Mrs. McCormick Asks Call for Democratic Nominee

Article on Million-Dollar Campaign Under Fire

Senate Committee Leader to Announce Course Today

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Ruth Hanna McCormick today demanded that James Hamilton Lewis, Illinois Democratic Senatorial nominee, be called before the Senate campaign funds committee to explain an article in which he is quoted as saying $1,000,000 was used in her campaign for the Republican nomination.

Senator Nye, chairman of the committee, said he will consider summoning the Democratic nominee, and will make known his stand tomorrow.

Mr. Lewis, when informed of Mrs. McCormick's demand for his appearance before the committee, said he will appear if requested.

Mrs. McCormick also explained she has not accounted for a $10,000 donation to her campaign by Col. R. R. McCormick, her brother-in-law and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, because she has not spent the money.

Senator Nye questioned numerous ward committeemen of Chicago about the financing of their political campaigns within their various wards, inquiring particularly if any of them received funds from Mrs. McCormick. All denied receiving any financial support from her, although the majority said they indorsed her candidacy.

LABOR SURPLUS NOTED IN JUNE

Practically All Trades Have Men Out of Work

Increased Demand Shown in Certain Industries

Government Bulletin Tells of Job Situation

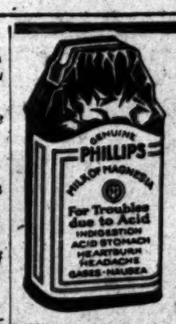
WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Although there was an increase in demand for certain classes of labor in the United States during June, there was, nationally, a surplus of workers above jobs in practically all trades.

The United States Employment Service in its monthly bulletin on industrial conditions today attributed such additional demand for labor as became evident in June to municipal and State improvement programs, and to the seasonal increase in farm operations. Factory organization in general showed part-time and part-force programs, with some curtailment because of inventory and vacation periods.

One of the unusual additions to demand for labor, the summary noted, arose during June from a new trend toward extension of pipe lines for gas and oil. Public utility enterprises, in addition, were maintaining good forces on construction and improvement. An increase in road construction employing many men also was noted.

NEW TRIALS DENIED BANDITS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (AP)—Lloyd B. Sampsell and Ethan A. McNabb, serving life sentences in Folsom prison for robbing two Oakland banks, were denied a new trial today by the State Appellate Court.



When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians, in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

CHINESE REBEL ROUT CLAIMED

President Chiang Kai-Shek Reports Victories

Confirmation Lacking from Other Sources

Some Dispatches Declared Nationalists Halted

SHANGHAI, July 16. (AP)—President Chiang Kai-Shek's provisional military headquarters at Suchow, west of Shanghai, asserted tonight northern rebel opposition on the two Shantung Province battle fronts had virtually collapsed, leaving the Nationalists in almost undisputed control of China south of the Yellow River.

Dispatches from other sources, however, said government troops were meeting stiff opposition in both sectors and making little, if any, progress.

Chiang's claims said Nationalist forces east of Tsinan, capital of Shantung, which they seek to recapture, had approached along the Tsinan-Tsingtao Railway to within ten miles of that objective and were awaiting arrival of the main column from Chowtsun. On arrival of that column it is proposed to undertake a siege of Tsinan, cooperating with another column approaching Tsinan from Yenchow in the south, along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.

The Nationalists yesterday claimed capture of Yenchow with slight opposition and continued northward to Taian, an important point about thirty miles south of Tsinan. This claim lacked impartial confirmation.

No further word had come from Peiping regarding a rump meeting of rebellious Kuomintang central committeemen there with the announced purpose of establishing a separate northern government cooperating with the military rebels.

SHANGHAI UNDER MARTIAL LAW FOLLOWING RIOTS

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

SHANGHAI, July 16. (Exclusive.) All zones in Shanghai are under martial law tonight as a precaution against further outbreaks by Communists, who today launched three serious riots in Nanking road, the main business thoroughfare, stoning tram cars and foreign-owned automobiles and smashing store windows.

The demonstrations were organized in protest against the "activities" of China's war lords, who are "ruining the country," but the police in all areas had been forewarned and special emergency squads were in readiness in all police stations.

Asserted Rum Runner Killed in Gun Battle

HAMPTON (Iowa) July 16. (AP)—One man was shot to death and his two companions, a man and a girl, were arrested following a gun battle between asserted rum runners and Federal agents three miles east of here late tonight.

Harland Peterson, 35 years of age, was the victim. His companions were Louise Wheeler, 28, and Cecil Vinton, 25, both of Waterloo, Iowa.

Six officers drove to a lonely spot about 10 p.m. where one of the Federal officers had arranged a meeting with Peterson with a fake order for alcohol. When one of the officers displayed his badge Peterson drew his gun and fired. The agent returned the fire, killing Peterson.

Well in Home Traps Owner

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) July 16. (Exclusive)—Trapped in a well in the basement of his house in Grandville, a village six miles west of here, Henry Paul, 63 years of age, former justice of the peace of Wyoming township, remained pinned by debris up to his waist late tonight.

Crews from the Grand Rapids highway repair department are tunneling to free him, fearing a collapse of walls if they attempt to dig around him.

Marine Survey Plane Crashes

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) July 16. (AP)—A United States marine Corsair plane crashed today while making an aerological flight near Tecuantepe, ten miles south of Managua. It was reported tonight one of the two occupants had been killed, but their names were unknown here.

The crack-up occurred in a densely wooded section. A relief party of marines was sent to the place.

Two Oklahoma Felons Executed

NEW AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN ENDS TALKS

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—W. Cameron Forbes of Boston, newly appointed Ambassador to Japan, has concluded his conferences with State Department officials preparatory to sailing the 29th inst. on the President Taft from San Francisco for Yokohama. While in Washington the Ambassador talked at length on Japanese-American problems with Assistant Secretary of State Castle, American Ambassador to Japan during the London naval conference.

"GIRL ON QUARTER" NOW BRIDE

Dr. and Mrs. William Baum (AP photo)

NEW YORK, July 16. (Exclusive) It might be remarked that the "girl on the quarter has become a better half." Anyway Doris Doscher, of Whitestone, Long Island, upon whose likeness virtually every person in the United States has gazed, is the bride of Dr. William Baum, of this city.

When the new 25-cent piece was being designed, Treasury officials cast around for a model American girl to adorn the quarter. From thousands of applicants, Miss Doscher was chosen. And since that time she has been known as "the girl on the quarter."

MOONEY'S WITNESS ON WAY WEST

John MacDonald Starts from New York Escorted by Unionists and Lawyers

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—John MacDonald, elderly witness through whom efforts will be made to prove the innocence of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, union labor agitators now serving life terms in California on charges growing out of a Preparedness Day bomb explosion, left tonight for the West Coast.

He was accompanied by Charles Ruzicka and Hilary Gans, Baltimore attorneys; Frank P. Walsh, eastern attorney for Mooney, and Edward N. Nockels, Chicago union leader, with whom he conferred after arrival here from Baltimore.

Walsh made public affidavits regarding the man's first admission of perjury. One was a statement by Max Kesselman of Trenton, N. J., who swore MacDonald told him nine years ago he gave false testimony at the instigation of the California authorities.

Memorial Rites for Song Writer Held at Church

SHIOCTON (Wis.) July 16. (AP)—On the quiet lawn of the Congregational Church where Eben E. Rexford, author of yesteryear's popular ballad, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," once attended services, more than 2000 persons met here today and dedicated a memorial in his honor.

Rexford wrote the song while a student at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis. He had lived in this vicinity from 1855 until he died in 1916.

RUMANIAN PEASANTS SEEK TO OUST JEWS

BUCHAREST (Rumania) July 16. (AP)—Hundreds of anti-Semite peasants today marched into the village of Borza, led by a priest, demanding that Jewish officers who struck their fellow religionists leave the district permanently. The Hebrew leaders telegraphed the Bucharest authorities demanding help.

LEAGUE OFFICIAL TO QUIT

GENEVA, July 16. (AP)—Sir James Arthur Salter, director of the economic and finance section of the League of Nations, will resign at the end of this year, it was learned today.

MOTORIST KILLED BY TRAIN

GILROY, July 16. (AP)—Joseph Burrer, Gilroy blacksmith, was killed here today when he drove his automobile in the path of a Southern Pacific train.

ACREAGE STILL MAY BE SIGNED

Contracts to be Accepted as Count Progresses

Whirlwind Canvass Goes on While Auditors Work

Last Effort Being Made to Secure Signatures

FRESNO, July 16.—With the arrival here today of two members of the auditing committee of the Farm Board who will examine records to determine if the grape-plan sign-up reached the 85 per cent State tonnage goal, it was believed probable that several more days were left to the sign-up committee in which to secure contracts needed to erase the present deficit.

The Farm Board announced that it will accept contracts secured during the time the audit is in progress, and, seeing this as their only hope, leaders under Chairman Wylie M. Giffen were conducting a whirlwind canvass to attempt to secure the hearly 35,000 acres declared to be needed.

E. E. Kaufmann, State Agricultural Statistician, and H. R. Tolley of the University of California were the members of the committee who arrived here. Alonzo E. Taylor of Stanford University is on his way here from the East.

Kaufmann said it would take several days to determine the result and that it was possible that the State acreage estimate might be reduced slightly, but that he did not believe this reduction would be large enough to make any material difference in the drive situation.

INEXPENSIV
VACATIONS
YOSEMIT

You're lucky to live so close to Yosemite—to be able to spend a whole summer's vacation where sightseers from all over the world come for a day or a week.

This vast wonderland has never been completely explored, even by the old-timers who return each year—but two weeks will show you all of the better known scenic marvels in Yosemite Valley, with several days, besides, for rambles in the High Sierra!

HOTELS

Spice your visit with the vacation sports you like best... riding through leafy meadow trails and up the massive cliff sides... swimming where you can turn on your back and sight 3,000 feet up a sheer granite wall to Glacier Point... fishing through the floor of the Valley or in cool blue Sierra lakes... hiking each day over a new trail, in pine-fragrant mountain air and skin-bronzing sun-rays.

A vacation in Yosemite—just overnight by train from anywhere in California—is one of America's greatest outdoor experiences. More than that, it is inexpensive.

LODGES

Accommodations (room and meals) range all the way from $4.00 a day in floored electric-lighted hotel tents with central dining room, to $10 a day and upward at the luxurious, granite-walled Ahwahnee, aristocrat of National Park hotels. Lodges, hotels, housekeeping accommodations, or tent-camps 'way up in the High Sierra... whatever you want to do or whatever you want to pay for a Yosemite vacation, you will find the best of accommodations at a surprisingly low price.

CAMPS

Everything is described in an illustrated booklet on Yosemite which you can pick up at any travel office — or one will be mailed to you upon request. Get it now!

Germany Opens Door Slightly to Alien Films

BERLIN, July 16. (AP)—The education committee of the Reichstag today recommended for passage a law for the protection of the German film industry, which is calculated slightly to improve the quota of foreign films that can be admitted.

Though the previous contingent ratio of one German film to each foreign film admitted remains practically unchanged, the Minister of the Interior is given discretionary powers by the proposed law to admit twenty additional foreign films annually over and above the contingent ratio.

WINS WATER SERVICE

TUJUNGA, July 16.—The Tujunga Kiwanis Club is in receipt of a silver water service recently awarded as first prize at the international Kiwanis convention, for having scored the best average luncheon attendance during the past year. A score of 99.56 was made.

JANITOR'S WIFE SAVES FORTUNE

Angeleno Sons to Profit by Thrift of Mother

OMAHA, July 16. (AP) — Otto E. Sandberg, for twenty-eight years a public school janitor, knew all through his wedded life that his wife was thrifty—but he didn't know half the story.

Following the deathbed instructions of his wife, who had worked by his side as a janitress, Sandberg recently found $19,000 in cash and securities concealed in various hiding-places in their home. The posthumous find was revealed when probate of the estate was asked in County Court today.

She left no will so the cached savings will be divided, according to law, between her husband and three sons—Elmer J., of Hollywood, and Robert L. and Lawrence V., of Los Angeles.

TWO HURT IN SHIP BLAST

LISBON, July 16. (AP)—The Admiralty announced today that an explosion resulting in two casualties occurred aboard the destroyer Macau, which is stationed in Chinese waters.

Three Florida Banks Suspend; One Chartered

TALLAHASSEE (Fla.) July 16. (AP) Failure of three State banks and approval of a charter for a new banking institution were announced today by the State Banking Department.

The First Bank of Lake Worth, Fla., the Bank of Canal Point, Fla. and the Reddick State Bank of Reddick, Fla., failed today.

The First Bank of Lake Worth, a reopened institution, had $958,726 on deposit March 27, according to records here. It was capitalized at $175,000.

The Bank of Canal Point had deposits of $61,518 on June 30 and was capitalized at $25,000.

The Reddick State Bank on June 30 had $40,202 on deposit.

Approval of a charter for a new bank in Miami Beach to be known as the City Bank of Miami Beach also was announced.

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Alice E. Ives, successful playwright of the nineties, is dead. Her most popular play was "The Village Postmaster."

INSECT SWARMS INVADING WEST

Department of Agriculture Pushes Plans for War

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP) — An increasing army of insect pests was reported mobilizing today to plague the western farmer, and plans were pushed forward in the offices and laboratories of the Department of Agriculture to combat the invasion.

An outbreak of grasshoppers, forecast by the department two months ago, is described as apparently materializing in half a dozen States.

Dr. W. H. Larrimer, department entomologist, at the same time reports a host of range caterpillars, capable of laying waste to thousands of acres of grass, is gathering in Northern New Mexico.

Meanwhile, other department entomologists indicate the dread sugar beet leaf hopper—described as one of the most serious existing drawbacks to the beet industry—might appear in greater numbers than last year.

Addressed to a woman who knows exactly what we mean

YOU are a modern, to be sure.

You glory in the new-won freedom that a world contrived to your needs accords you.

But you're feminine to your finger tips, just the same.

Your home, your dress, your whole environment, unmistakably suggest how much you care about appearances—and the value that you place upon impressions.

Yet, while most of your possessions eloquently complement your personality, it has been different with your motor car—until now.

THIS brings you news of a strikingly new and different type of automobile—the most advanced, yet most obedient motor car in all the world.

It tells you of the first car ever made which a woman can drive all day, yet leave serene and fresh as when she entered it.

If you do any driving of your own at all, this achievement alone will impress you as remarkable.

For you've learned that keeping your car well-groomed will not keep you well-groomed. You've learned that pedal pushing is a trial in fragile shoes—and that the nervous strain and physical strain of constant gear-shifting combine to wilt the freshness of your own appearance and the things you wear.

But here is a car that literally floats along—in gear and fully controlled—yet free and silent as though there were no gears.

A car in which you shift with silence, safety and precision from high to second, back and forth, at forty . . . fifty miles an hour—and never touch the clutch!

A CAR in which you never dread to lift your foot from the throttle when traveling at speed—so completely does it eliminate forcing of the engine by car momentum and the resulting sensation of "piling up."

A car that takes half the fatiguing footwork out of driving—that is incredibly easy to stop—that steers quite as easily because it automatically rights itself and swings to "straight ahead" the instant you round a turn.

It's a car with the good manners of your home at its best. Every moment of motion is cushioned and hushed.

A new engineering development—free wheeling—one of the greatest forward steps in automotive history, makes possible the delights this new car will give you.

It makes your driving a surer, simpler, safer experience than it has ever been before.

SO we urge and invite you to see the car—to revel in the bewildering new beauty of its contours and appointments—its longer wheelbase—longer hood—wider doors—wider seats—wider windows—its slim, silvery radiator with Ovaloid headlamps, and with tiny parking lamps glimmering on its broad, sweeping fenders.

We know you'll like this different car. We rather feel you'll strive to be the first one in your circle to own it, once you've known the thrill of gliding 'round the boulevards on a trial drive.

But the interest is keen. And so we strongly advise that you telephone the Studebaker salesroom most convenient to your residence and make a definite driving appointment. Simply say you wish a demonstration of a New Series Studebaker President or Commander Eight.

Vote in Parliament Victory for MacDonald

Attack by Stanley Baldwin Reveals Strength

Premier Musters Majority of Seventy-one on Ballot

LONDON, July 16. (AP)—The Labor government tonight safely weathered another of the crises by which it has been beset in a series recently, defeating by 312 votes to 241 a Conservative motion proposing safeguarding of home markets against "unfair foreign competition." The motion was made by former Premier Baldwin and was regarded as a vote of censure.

Instead of the slender margin of two votes by which the Laborites avoided defeat during the finance bill debate last week tonight's ballot showed the government standing firmly with a majority of seventy-one, a margin so comfortable as to warn its foes to proceed cautiously in developing further moves.

The crisis was precipitated this afternoon during a debate of the Egyptian situation.

SPEAKING OF THAT

When announcement was made that two of His Majesty's battleships were on the way to Egypt the former Conservative Premier switched to an attack on the Labor party for insufficient attention to the causes of unemployment.

The much-bandied coal bill also had proven a disquieting element in the day's sessions of Lords and Commoners. But this had been disposed of for the moment by a move of Premier MacDonald for a conference with the Lords, after talking over the deadlock with miners' representatives. The Lords had stood firm for their ninety-hour fortnight as opposed to the Commons' amendment to the miners' bill for a seven and one-half-hour day.

Tonight the former Conservative Premier pressed to a conclusion his motion of the afternoon but found, although the Conservatives supported him, there was no strength in other quarters for his cause, the Liberals joining with the Laborites in sufficient strength to decide the issue.

CHANCE TO BE HEARD

Mr. Baldwin had pressed his motion because, he said, it was almost the last chance to raise the question before the imperial conference at which questions of taxation and imperial reference would come up.

The issue was not gravely in doubt at the beginning of the debate. It was rendered almost certain when David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, described the vote of censure as "extraordinary and inexplicable." Lloyd George taunted Mr. Baldwin with having been "forced by Lord Beaverbrook to take up a position in favor of imposing taxes on foreign goods which he (Lloyd George) previously had condemned repeatedly."

AUSTRALIAN PAY SLASH ADVOCATED

Government Opposition Plans Move to Reduce Salaries of Officials

CANBERRA (Australia) July 16. (AP)—Australian political circles were startled today with the announcement the opposition planned to move for reduction in salaries of the Prime Minister and the Cabinet and of the members of the House of Representatives.

J. G. Latham, leader of the Nationalist opposition, and former Minister of Industry, gave notice of his intention to move an amendment during debate on the budget. He estimated a saving of £4,000,000 (nearly $20,000,000) could be effected by all round reduction in salaries.

There is considerable discussion also of the likely result of the budget debate in the Senate, as delay in the upper house would seriously affect the Labor government's legislative program and might even delay the departure of Prime Minister Scullin for the imperial conference at London.

The Prime Minister announced today the sales tax imposed in the recent budget will be effective from August 1, next. It will not apply, however, to sales contracted for before the budget was introduced.

OFFICIALS' SALARY REDUCTIONS PLANNED

HOBART (Tasmania) July 16. (AP) The speech from the throne read at the opening of the Tasmania Legislature today by Sir James O'Grady, Governor of the State, said the Tasmanian government, like that of New South Wales, will reduce the salaries of ministers and members of the Legislature, in line with necessity for rigid economy in all State undertakings.

Bandits' Haul Found Heavy

WILLMAR (Minn.) July 16. (AP)—Loot amounting to $142,000 was obtained by five machine-gun bandits who held up the Bank of Wilmar yesterday and escaped after shooting down two women.

Edwin Selveg, vice-president, said today the bandits obtained "about $100,000 in stocks and bonds" in addition to $42,000 in cash. He estimated about $35,000 of the paper is negotiable.

Pastor Fined as Smuggler

JAMESTOWN (N. Y.) July 16. (AP) Rev. Stephen Czuturos, 35 years of age, pastor of the Magyar Presbyterian Church, Cleveland, pleaded guilty in Federal Court today to an indictment charging alien smuggling.

Judge Adler imposed a fine of $500 and suspended a sentence of one year and one day in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

El tracoma es una gravísima infección del ojo, que frecuentemente se desenlaza con ceguera total.

A Statement to the Customers of Barker Bros.

Prices of furniture and home furnishings are lower today than at any time in 13 years. Not since 1917 has the household dollar been able to buy so much. The decline since last November has been severe and furniture and accessories are on a new low level of cost.

Barker Bros. believe the present level is the bottom—the lowest average level that prices can be expected or forced to touch. The factors causing the decline in prices indicate this to our observation.

Raw materials used in furniture and furnishings have definitely established their costs at new low levels. Manufacturers of furniture and furnishings have been taking enormous losses in the disposal of goods produced under the higher cost levels of last winter, last fall and last summer. Today this liquidation is practically completed and Barker Bros. believe that prices are stabilized at the new low level determined by the decreased cost of raw materials.

This has not been an overnight development—it has been an evolution through the past several months. In step with the downward trend, every month of this year has found this store adjusting its prices downward with the trend of the times—first in our January Clearance—then through the succeeding months of our Golden Jubilee Sales—now in our 50th Annual Summer Sale. Through drastic price reductions in our own merchandise and by taking advantage of the necessity forcing many manufacturers to sell quickly to save themselves possibly greater losses, we have, we believe, creditably and successfully protected the buying power of our customers' dollars through a series of uncertain and trying months.

Hence we can state with assurance and advise our customers accordingly:

Prices are now established on a new low level and there is no evidence visible to us that they will be lower soon or at any time in the reasonable future. There is, on the other hand, strong evidence that the trend will be upward before the year ends because of certain expected increases in demand for raw materials.

Therefore, this is pre-eminently a time to buy—a time to cease waiting—to seize the economic advantage that most decidedly favors the consumer who is ready and willing now to use his cash or his credit for the furnishing of his home. Not since 1917 has your dollar been so big. Possibly not in the next decade will it buy so much as right now.

The short remaining period of this store's 50th Annual Summer Sale (ending August 2nd) will reflect our redoubled efforts to dispose of every piece of merchandise that does not in price or value fit into the new conditions of today. Our objective is complete disposal, by August 2nd, of all merchandise which came into our stocks during former high cost periods.

Reductions and mark-downs? Yes, probably beyond your most expectant hopes. Values? In many instances beyond any former record of this store for similar goods. And in many items and departments, not just a few. During this final period of the Summer Sale, prices on a great many things are below the present day costs of reproducing similar merchandise.

But since we are completely rebuilding our stocks on the basis of newest fashions as well as on the new low price level of the present, we are committed to the disposal of all older, higher cost goods.

Therefore, we invite you to share now in these opportunities before August 2nd. Those who come to this store and buy now can be congratulated upon their forethought and thrift. Those who are not quite ready may be cheered by this fact:

At any and all times, now, next month, next year, the stocks and prices in this store are and always will be completely adjusted to the lowest current price levels and to the newest trends and fashions in home furnishings. They will submit to the most exhaustive comparisons on the basis of:

1. Their value in relation to the customers' budgets and ability to purchase.

2. Their fashion rightness in relation to today's standards of living.

We invite you to shop anywhere for anything for your home and compare with Barker Bros.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

It was three days before Tarzan located the point at which Von Harben had been abandoned by his men, as a heavy rain and windstorm had obliterated the trail, but at last he stumbled upon the tent which had blown down, but nowhere could he see any signs of Von Harben's trail.

Ascending diagonally and in a westerly direction in the hope of crossing Von Harben's trail, Tarzan moved in the opposite direction from that taken by the man he sought. Presently he encountered an almost perpendicular barrier along the base of which he picked his way among the rocks.

So engrossed was the ape-man in the dangerous business of picking his way along the mountainside that he gave little heed to anything beyond the necessities of the trail, and so he did not see the little group of black warriors gazing up at him from the shelter of a clump of trees far down the slope.

As Tarzan advanced his body was pressed closely against a granite face of the cliff while he sought a foothold upon the ledge of loose rubble. Where the footing was narrowest a stone gave beneath his foot, throwing him off his balance. Nkima shrieked and leaped from his shoulder as Tarzan lunged down the embankment.

EDUCATION IN RAPID STRIDES

Congress of Educators in Session at Tia Juana

Northern District of Baja California Progresses

Gov. Tapia Devotes 51 Per Cent of Funds to Schools

TIA JUANA (B. C., Mex.) July —The first Educational Congress of the Northern District of Lower California, now in session here under direction of Gov. Tapia, reveals outstanding educational strides for the district, as reported by Martin Berry, prominent San Diegan active in Baja California development cir-

Fifty-one per cent of the total funds of the district has been set aside by Gov. Tapia for education, in harmony with Mexico's drive to educate its people. This is said to be the highest percentage of the total funds allotted education by any district in the world. The report is that of the 5000 children in the district, of a total population of 25,000, 4836 are enrolled in and attending school. The finest building in Tia Juana is the new Alvaro Obregon High School, built at a cost of $250,000, and rated by foreign American, as well as Mexican, educators as a model school.

The Northern District of Lower California reports a 98.72 per cent attendance at its public schools, which number fifty-eight in all, and are divided into five superior or grade schools, sixteen elementary, forty-five rural, one night school for adults at Mexicali and one industrial and preparatory school.

The district's income averages $2,500,000 annually, of which $1,300,000 is allotted to public education. In 1926, the district spent $4000 for public education; in 1910, $62,000; in 1920, $130,000; in 1925, $600,000; in 1926, $800,000; in 1927, $900,000, and the 1930 appropriation is estimated at $1,350,000.

The sum of $1,350,000 is already invested in school buildings in Baja California, with each structure up to the minute in equipment, including the latest and most highly approved radios. The radio plays an important part in Lower California educational work, important lectures originating throughout Mexico and the United States being available to the children.

It is not generally known that interest in the Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girl organizations is intense throughout Lower California, which is enrolled with uncommonly high ratings by the international organizations.

Work on Power Line in Blythe Area Planned

BLYTHE, July 16.—Actual construction on the Calipatria-Blythe line of Southern Sierras Power Company's transmission line will begin early in September, according to advices received here today. The estimated cost of the new power line is $330,000, and will take from sixty to ninety days for completion.

The Blythe terminal will be enlarged to provide for a number of transmission lines, planned for the future. The Blythe terminal will be a distribution point for the entire Palo Verde Valley, and possibly for the Palo Verde Mesa, it is understood. This terminal will cost $43,000. The corporation will be entirely of steel.

The local Southern Sierras Company Diesel plant will be kept intact for emergency service, and will not be moved. The Southern Sierras Company has been serving the city with Diesel engine plants for fourteen years. Until recently, Blythe was shut off at midnight, and the entire city was in darkness during the small hours of the morning.

Novena Begins for St. Anne

SANTA MONICA, July 16.—The novena in honor of St. Anne, a nine-day religious event which annually draws thousands of worshipers to St. Anne's Shrine, at Colorado avenue and Twentieth street, this city, will start at 7:30 p.m. today, according to an announcement today from the priests of St. Anne's parish. Father Hickler of the Redemptionist order from Whittier will conduct the services this week.

The Pilgrimage to the Shrine, in honor of the relic of St. Anne is borne in an impressive procession, with the church dignitaries leading the file of pilgrims, will be held on the afternoon of the last day of the novena, the 27th inst.

According to the announcement the novena and services will be held daily at 7 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. On Sunday masses will be at 7 and 10:30 a.m., with afternoon and evening services at 3 and 7:30 p.m.

CHURCH BELL ONCE CURFEW GETS REST

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 16.—With the razing of the old First Christian Church building this week, the bell which has served the edifice for a quarter of a century will be lowered and stored away, to be held besides summoning members of the congregation to worship, also served for a number of years as the curfew bell of the city. A curfew ordinance was passed in 1909 which required that all children under 16 years of age, be in their homes by 9 p.m. If on the streets they were to be in company with their parents or guardian. The bell was used for this purpose for three years, after which the high school bell became the curfew bell. The old bell is to be placed on an archway at the new building which will be in November.

MIX-UP IN RELATIONSHIP

Fathers Are Cousins, Mothers Are Sisters, Offspring Don't Know Exactly Where They Are At; Peculiar Branches on Family Tree at Covina

COVINA, July 16.—Try this one on your family tree: If two persons' fathers were cousins and their mothers were sisters, what would their relationship be? If one person's mother's mother married another's father's father, then what do you have?

Mrs. C. S. Landram with her aunt, Mrs. Nina J. Littleton of Pasadena, and her cousin, Mrs. Zura Haun of Dinuba, have tried to thrash this perplexing family tree matter out, but to no avail, as they are still thrashing. However, the discussion proved partially successful as this is the result. Mrs. Littleton is an aunt of Mrs. Landram and her second cousin; she is a double-cousin to Mrs. Haun who is a first cousin to Mrs. Landram. Mrs. Littleton's and Mrs. Haun's fathers were cousins; Mrs. Littleton's and Mrs. Haun's mothers were sisters, their fathers cousins.

Mrs. Haun's grandfather was Mrs. Littleton's great uncle, who lived to be 112 years of age. But Mrs. Littleton's mother's mother married her father's father—that is, mother and daughter married father and son—which complicated matters still further.

The maiden name of both Mrs. Haun and Mrs. Littleton was Mann. Mrs. Haun says she was a Mann before she was married. Mrs. Littleton says her mother was a better Mann than she is. And so it goes.

Mrs. Haun's mother died when she was 18 months of age and Mrs. Littleton's mother died when she was only 3 months of age. Consequently they were told little concerning such matters as family trees. And they met for the first time only recently—which partly accounts for the fact that they are not just sure yet how the family tree does grow.

Mrs. Landram is proprietor of the Covina Hotel.

CROP OUTLOOK FAVORABLE

Agricultural Conditions in Ventura County Declared Good by Experts; Beans Unhurt by Hot Spell

VENTURA, July 16.—General agricultural conditions in Ventura county point toward a comparatively favorable crop, it was learned today from agricultural authorities. The bean crop has not been damaged by the three days of hot weather, and in some instances has been distinctly benefited, according to Larry Teasdale, field man for the California Lima Bean Growers' Association at Oxnard.

Teasdale declared that the crop is coming along fine and promises to be as big as ever before. Harvesting of the beans probably will begin the latter part of August and continue until about October 10, he said.

Citrus crops, while not as heavy as before, are in excellent condition, according to A. H. Call, county agricultural commissioner at Santa Paula.

Valencia oranges, Call stated, while light this year, have a wonderful set for next year. The unusual feature is, according to Call, that indications are that next year's Valencia crop will not only be large in number, but also will be large in size of fruit.

The county's apricot harvest now is almost ended, Call said. Little damage from the hot spell has been recorded throughout the county, he declared.

Walnut growers will get about a 75 per cent yield this year, but the quality will be good, the expert stated. Walnut harvesting is slated to get under way in about sixty days.

Mayor's Gavel Vanishes From Santa Monica

The new game at the Santa Monica City Hall is far more exciting than "button, button" or any of the old kissing games. In this new Council chamber sport there is absolutely no kissing.

It started yesterday when Mayor Michel's cherished gavel disappeared. Not only the Mayor but T. H. Dudley, president of the Planning Commission, missed the gavel, for Dudley used it too when irate citizens waxed abusive during hearings over oil zoning, setback lines and the like.

That missing gavel has becomes a municipal problem. At the detective bureau downstairs Capt. Watson perspires over tangled clews and mutters about shake-ups and shake-downs. Chief Webb wears a grim expression as he searches the plumbing inspector's kit and the trusties' cells. One theory is that a trusty, hearing the Mayor handle that gavel, thought it was a sledge-hammer and coveted it.

Police were inclined to scout the theory that some one broke the gavel and was afraid to confess, for that would limit the possible suspects to the two high officials who wield it.

Scouts Honored for Camp Work

REDLANDS, July 16.—Three local boys are included among the fourteen Boy Scouts who have been made members of the Tribe of Siwanis, honorary camping club. The Scouts, it was announced yesterday by Scout Executive A. J. Roberts, were given the honor because of unusual ability in camp. They were voted members by other Scouts now belonging to the tribe. The new members are Wade Snell, John Rehwald, Nate Hellman, Robert Spikema, Jack Abbott and Arthur Sidler of San Bernardino; Dean Cell, John Isham and Earl Isham of this city; Bert Eby of Colton; Donald Earl, Evan Wasden and Gordon Fulton of Las Vegas and Elliott Stoll of Santa Barbara.

Camp officers for the second period were also announced yesterday as follows: Senior officers, Executive Roberts, S. H. Schutte, Howard Smith, Carl Wiggins and James Sims. Junior officers, Clifford Propst, head officer; Dean Cell, bugler; Yoshio Katayama, quartermaster; Bert Eby and John Isham, life guards; Chefs George Wagner, Barstow and Delbert Falkenstein.

The Scouts, numbering eighty, will be in camp until the 26th inst. when the third and final period of the summer will start.

Woman Thought Fatally Hurt in Traffic Crash

CHINO, July 16.—One woman is near death and another woman and five children miraculously escaped serious injury today when an automobile overturned on the highway south of Ontario. Mrs. Daisy Wolfinbarger of this city was the more seriously hurt and is thought near death at San Antonio Hospital, Upland.

Mrs. Wolfinbarger was found at the side of the highway by Mrs. Vernon Decker and Miss Mildred Jacobson of Chino. The automobile was overturned in the ditch and five children and one other woman were in it.

Their names were not taken, as the injuries of Mrs. Wolfinbarger were so serious she was rushed to the hospital, where it was found that her skull was fractured.

MORE CONSTABULARY ASSIGNED TO PUENTE

PUENTE, July 16. — Following newly adopted plans of the Sheriff's office to increase the constabulary forces for Rowland township, comes the announcement this week that three full-time deputy constables and one additional night patrolman will be provided for Puente and vicinity. Constable Gratian Bigart now has a regular force of three full-time deputy constables. Charles Rowland is his assistant during the day, and on the night force are Thad McClelland and J. A. Brown. In addition, the citrus and avocado groves of North Whittier Heights are patrolled nightly by Special Officer P. E. Scheerer.

PUBLISHER'S CASE CALLED

Federal Judge McCormick Voices Disapproval of Delay in Appearance of A. R. Sauer Before Him

SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Calling the case of the United States versus A. R. Sauer, local publisher, for the third time, Judge Paul J. McCormick started sitting here in the July term of Federal court last Monday. His clerk today got a response from Wayne Compton, Sauer's attorney. After an expression of disapproval over the delay by the court, Compton pleaded that neither he nor his client had realized the case was to be called at this session.

Judge McCormick, expressing himself somewhat strongly, explained that in felony cases the defendant, as well as his attorney, must make court appearance. After a delay Sauer was produced before the court and heard his case set for hearing on October 1, next.

The pending matter dates back to the time of the disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist. A series of articles published by Sauer at that time in his paper led to the filing of the case on charges of using the mails for the transmission of obscene matter.

Judge McCormick expressed the opinion that the matter already had been excessively postponed.

POLICE MUST LIVE IN CITY HIRING THEM

SAN FERNANDO, July 16.—All members of the local police department, who are not residents of this city must either move here immediately or resign their positions. This was the order issued by the City Council at its meeting this week and the Chief of Police was instructed to notify his men of the new ruling. The order was directed at the police department because two of the officers, brought in from other cities recently, have not taken up residence here. The Council ruled that employees of this city should at least live within the city boundaries.

GIRL LEARNS PARENTAGE

Relma Rathbus of Oxnard Told, After Year of Inquiry, That She Comes from French Ancestry

VENTURA, July 16.—Sixteen-year-old Relma Rathbus of Oxnard has just discovered who her parents are. For more than a year the county probation office has been trying to determine the girl's true parentage, following the discovery that she had been adopted and was not the child of the man and woman with whom she had been living.

She now learns that her real name is Harriet La Rivie, that she is of French descent, and that she was adopted November 13, 1916, at the age of 3 years in Berkshire county, Massachusetts.

Her father's name is Andrew La Rivie, and her mother, who abandoned the family when Harriet was but a baby, and who cannot be found, was Georgiana La Rivie. Harriet has a married sister, she has discovered, and a brother, 24, another sister who has been adopted and a younger sister.

Relma's asserted mother, it developed, was not married to the man with whom she had been living. In one of her tantrums she had said something about Relma's being adopted by her, and that "the papers" were "behind a picture."

At first Relma attached little or no significance to this statement, but upon being questioned by the probation authorities it was decided to make a search of the woman's belongings.

After going through several trunks full of miscellaneous articles, an old picture was unearthed. When taken apart Relma's adoption papers were found lodged between the picture and the frame.

FIRE GUTS STRUCTURE IN CORONA

Damage to Kinney Hotel Building Estimated About $50,000; Quick Run Made

CORONA, July 16.—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused late today by fire which gutted the Kinney Hotel Building, covering a quarter of a block here. The J. C. Penney Company, a cigar store, the hotel grill and the postoffice occupied the ground floor of the building, all of which suffered heavy damage except the postoffice.

The blaze started from an unknown cause in an air ventilator of the grill and was not discovered until it had made considerable headway. The local fire department was baffled by black clouds of smoke, which the fighters could not penetrate to locate the seat of the blaze.

An emergency call was sent to the Riverside department and one truck company made the fifteen-mile trip to this city in sixteen minutes. A county fire department crew in Santa Ana Canyon also saw the smoke and came to assist. With gas masks brought by these two crews the fighters were able to work more effectively, but the flames had gained too much headway. Discovered at 3:30 p.m. the blaze was not controlled until after 6 o'clock.

Suicide Makes His Car Lethal Gas Inclosure

SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Ralph H. Hohmann, 31 years of age, committed suicide near Dehesa today by converting his closed car into a lethal gas chamber, Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly announced.

Hohmann drove to the village early this morning, attached an ordinary garden hose to the exhaust pipe of the car, started the motor and permitted the flow of deadly carbon monoxide to fill the car.

The victim apparently committed the act because of despondency over a love affair, Kelly said. A note in one of the man's pockets was addressed to a young woman and said: "Please forgive me." It was signed, "Ralph."

The body was removed to the Fred Erickson funeral establishment in La Mesa pending an inquest. Hohmann lived at 3721 Sixth street, with his mother.

Noise of Train Cause of Man's Hurts by Truck

UPLAND, July 16.—Pedro Arviso of Cucamonga was removed in an unconscious condition today from San Antonio Community Hospital here to the County Hospital at San Bernardino, the victim of a peculiar accident at Eighth street and Vineyard avenue.

Arviso was walking east on Eighth street, watching a freight train pass. S. R. Robertson of this city was driving a truck on Eighth street in the same direction Arviso was walking. Repeated honkings of Robertson's horn failed to attract the attention of Arviso, due to the thundering noise of the freight train. Suddenly Arviso leaped directly into the path of the truck, according to report filed with the police.

It was feared his skull was fractured in the impact. He failed to regain consciousness during the night.

March Field to Let Contracts

RIVERSIDE, July 16.—Contracts for the construction of a new hospital and of twelve sets of noncommissioned officers' quarters at March Field, totaling $250,000, will be let on or a few days after August 20, according to Col. W. C. Gardenhire, construction quartermaster. The bids are to be opened at 11 a.m. on the date mentioned.

The new hospital at the army post will be a two-story structure which will not only harmonize architecturally with the other new buildings at the field, but will be modern in every respect. It will cost $150,000.

The noncommissioned officers' quarters will include many minor improvements over those which have already been constructed at the field. The twelve sets call for an appropriation of $100,000.

These two contracts are the largest single items to be included in the 1930-31 building program of the army flying field.

CITY ENGINEER TOURS STATES IN LONG TRIP

REDLANDS, July 16.—George S. Hinkley, city engineer here, and of a pioneer orange-growing family, has just returned from a 10,000-mile motor trip over the United States, visiting road construction in various States, and water plants and also citrus districts in Florida and in Texas. He says that Florida will have a good crop of oranges the coming year and that the groves appear to be in the best of condition with no indication of fruit fly.

City Provides "Rain" to Cool Off Children

ONTARIO, July 16.—It didn't make any difference to the local youngsters today how hot it got. The city provided them with a bountiful rainfall.

For a week city workmen have been constructing a huge sprinkler that was duly dedicated today. The sprinkler throws a wide circle of water, giving a generous shower-bath effect. It is easily moved, and during certain hours of the day is taken to parts of the city and children given the privilege of frolicking under it.

The first place it was put in operation today was in the Mexican settlement. While firemen stood by as protection, several hundred Mexican boys and girls romped under the deluge. They not only got cooled off, but according to the keeper of the bath, several score of Mexican youngsters got the first bath they have had for a long time. Each day it will be turned on in the Mexican quarter from 9 to 11 a.m. At 11 o'clock it is turned on at Central School, and at 3 o'clock at Lincoln School. The sprinkler is part of the city's playground program.

Opinion Gives City More Cash

SAN FERNANDO, July 16.—As a result of an opinion given by the City Attorney here, this municipality will have thousands of dollars available for use in construction, maintenance and improvement of all its public streets. The attorney interpreted Section 160 of the State Motor Vehicle Act as providing that all money collected from fines and forfeitures, following arrest in this city of persons for violations of provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act, or for misdemeanors, may be used by the city on its streets.

Heretofore such money collected has been placed in the motor vehicle fund, which is contributed to by the county and which has been used only on county thoroughfares. As a result, money has not been available for improving other streets here.

A new street-improvement fund will be created by the Council and fines collected in City Court will be placed in this fund.

WIDOW BRINGS SUIT FOR SPOUSE'S DEATH

VENTURA, July 16.—Asking $100,000 for the death of her husband, A. J. Mepham, 58-year-old local plumber who was killed the 3rd inst., while walking across Ventura avenue at McFarlane Drive, Mrs. Flora C. Mepham filed a damage suit in Superior Court late Tuesday against John F. (Tex) Walker, driver of the death car, and the Petroleum Securities Company, with whom Walker is associated.

LACK OF SIDEWALKS DELAYS MAIL SERVICE

TUJUNGA, July 16.—Tujunga is entitled to a city mail delivery by foot carriers, recent increases in its postal receipts justifying the change, according to the regulations of the national postal authorities. A postoffice inspector has visited here only to announce that the change cannot be made until more sidewalks are paved in the residential section. National postal officers do not advocate foot mail carriers where there is an absence of sidewalks.

ROTARY OFFICERS SEATED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 16. Russell A. Quisenberry last night was formally installed new president of the local Rotary Club, succeeding Martin A. Pollard. Horace Martin, George N. Drahne and Lorne D. Oliver, new directors, also were seated. Clive Webb, a past president of the Van Nuys club, assisted in the installation ceremonies.

POST GETS QUOTA

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 16.—Robert T. McColley American Legion Post went "over the top" in the recent membership drive, securing its quota, 430 members. Since that time eighteen more have been added, making the post's membership 448, the largest in its history.

BARGE PRESENTS PROBLEMS

Santa Barbara Officials Conclude Gambling Craft Can Operate Off Their Coast Unless Boundaries of County Are Changed

SANTA BARBARA, July 16. With the William H. Harriman palatial four-masted gambling schooner lying off Santa Barbara about three miles in the channel for the past few weeks, county and city officials have been at a loss as to what action to take regarding the craft. After a conference with the Los Angeles District Attorney's office, Dist.-Atty. Ward yesterday announced the most expeditious way he could find to force the craft to leave these waters would be to extend the Santa Barbara county line around the channel islands, thereby including the channel waters. This would require an act of the State Legislature and could not be made effective for a year.

"I am not sure that changing the county boundaries to include all the channel for county administrative purposes, in so far as these did not conflict with the jurisdiction of State and Federal government, would be practical," said the District Attorney this morning, "but I am practically convinced that there is no other way for the county or Santa Barbara city to drive away the gambling ship now anchored in the channel and causing much protest."

Ward spent several days in Los Angeles county learning how that county had battled against gambling ships and had lost.

He said that since Federal law does not make gambling on the high seas a felony the boats which serve the gambling ship from the shore cannot be prosecuted for aiding and abetting, since they are not aiding and abetting anything that is illegal where it is being done.

However, if the channel was subject to county jurisdiction gambling there would be illegal and the boats carrying passengers to the gambling barge could be seized.

CHARGES REDUCED

Tom McGuire Pleads Guilty to Simple Assault in Case in Court at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, July 16.—Pleading guilty to a reduced charge on the eve of his Superior Court trial, Tom McGuire, Corona service station proprietor, was fined $100 or fifty days by Superior Judge Freeman, for simple assault, growing out of the charge of extortion of $1.35 from a Long Beach Sunday-school party at a point on the Santa Ana Canyon highway. An extortion charge against the service-station man was dismissed, leaving him facing a charge of threatening members of the party with a revolver. This then was reduced to simple assault when he pleaded guilty to this charge.

McGuire and George Northcliffe, a special officer, were scheduled to come to trial in Superior Court today on the double charge. It is probable Northcliffe's case will be continued for trial. McGuire also faces a serious felony charge growing out of relations with a small girl whom he boarded at his Corona home. He is awaiting trial on this charge now.

Charges against McGuire and Northcliffe were filed by Donald Earl, Mrs. May Hansen and James Byrne of the church party. Young Earl, riding a motorcycle, had tire trouble and driving into McGuire's service station, asked to be shown second-hand inner tubes. One handed him burst when air was applied. Young Earl started to leave but McGuire rushed to him and tore from about the youth's waist a hunting knife and belt he was carrying for use in preparing the picnic fire. The Chief of Police made McGuire return the knife and the party started on its way, after the boy had purchased a new inner tube at another shop. He testified McGuire had not asked for payment for the bursted inner tube.

Nearing Santa Ana Canyon, the party noticed McGuire ride by on a motorcycle. After they had driven farther, he again passed them, this time with another man, later identified as Northcliffe, riding tandem. They stopped ahead of the truck hauling the picnickers and when it drew up to them, flashed a gun on the driver. They then demanded 85 cents for mileage for Northcliffe as an officer and 50 cents for the inner tube, threatening to jail the whole party if payment was refused. The money was paid but charges were sworn out the next day.

Rim-of-World Bowl Plans to Open in August

CRESTLINE, July 16. — Clyde Garrett, who is to be director of music at the Rim of the World Bowl at Crestline, now being built here in the mountains, is planning a big season.

Garrett has been ill for several days, but his organization is so perfected that it will not delay the opening presentation of the bowl which is expected to be staged early in August.

Theodore Harvey, concert master, has been organizing the Rim of the World Symphony Orchestra which now has a membership of thirty musicians from Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino. They are practicing weekly, preparing for the remainder of the summer season.

The construction of the bowl under the direction of Charles S. Mann is becoming a much bigger project than first visualized. The bowl, as it is more completely planned, is expected to cost more than $10,000. A new idea is to equip the bowl with canvas chairs which can be taken down after each performance. This will greatly add to the comfort of the spectators. The bowl is now being wired and precautions will be taken to wire it properly for sound pictures should it be used for this purpose.

The Riverside Junior College summer season at Rim of the World Park, with James Scott as director, is lending its efforts to the success of bowl productions. Its dramatic and musical students will participate in the presentations.

CLYDE GARRISON NEW FIRE CHIEF AT AZUSA

AZUSA, July 16.—Clyde Garrison has been appointed by the City Council to succeed the late Steve Saunders as Fire Chief. Garrison has been a member of the fire department staff for many years and at one time was Chief. Saunders, who organized the fire department more than twenty years ago, died two weeks ago from the result of a tank explosion.

WARRANT DENIED IN CASE

San Diego District Attorney Will Take No Action in Shooting of Alex Zauri by Federal Officer

SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Demanding a warrant today for the arrest of Charles G. Smith, Los Angeles dry officer, in connection with yesterday's shooting of Alex Zauri, Charles C. Quitman, attorney for the wounded man, found that the matter is regarded here as purely Federal and that no action will be taken through the Sheriff's office, according to the District-Attorney's spokesman. Quitman appeared with some persons who asserted they had witnessed the affair and demanded an investigation, but the District Attorney replied, according to his spokesman, that no evidence had yet been produced to warrant action.

Paul Holland, field agent for the Los Angeles district, here yesterday to investigate the affair, declared that Smith's action was beyond doubt justified and that the central office will back him to the limit. Should Zauri be successful in proceedings for a warrant, local authorities point out, the Federal court alone would have jurisdiction, with the United States Attorney acting as defense consul.

Smith and Walter H. Patton, another Federal agent, had just arrested two men in connection with the purchase of three cases of gin. Patton and the prisoners were in one car, with Smith close behind in a second car, carrying the evidence. They were waiting to pick up a third agent, who had been doing point duty and had not yet appeared. "While we were waiting," Smith's official statement says, "a strange man came rushing up to me with his hand in his pocket. 'Release these men,' he shouted. I explained to him that it was a Federal raid and ordered him to take his hand from his pocket. He drew a pistol and pointed it at me, again demanding that the prisoners be released. Fearing for my life I moved quickly aside, drew my own gun and shot him through the arm, using all possible care not to kill him. He dropped to the pavement still clutching his gun. I may add that at no time during the affair did he mention who he was nor did I learn his name until some time later."

Patton's statement is corroborated by that of his brother officer. He testified that he distinctly heard the words, "This is a Federal raid," shouted in Smith's voice, followed after an interval by the report of a pistol.

"It's a clear-cut case," said Holland.

Joe Carrio and R. F. Lemon, the two liquor suspects previously arrested, were arraigned yesterday afternoon before United States Commissioner Henry O. Ryan on charges of possession, transportation and sale, under the Jones Act. Bond was set at $1000 each and furnished by the defendants. Mrs. Carrio, included in the charge, received identical disposition, on advice of counsel. All refused to make a statement. Two warrants will be asked, Quitman said, charging assault and battery, and assault with a deadly weapon.

Zauri recently announced his candidacy for the office of public administrator.

CITY MAY FIRE ITS FIRE CHIEF

John O. Shewman Charged With Insubordination

He Refuses Resignation to Pomona Council

Definite Action Postponed Until Next Week

POMONA, July 16.—Fire Chief John O. Shewman, under fire on charges of insubordination and inefficiency preferred at today's City Council session by Councilman Roscoe M. Hoover, fire and health commissioner, today refused to hand in his resignation as requested by Hoover, and indications point to a heated Council discussion at next week's session.

Due to the absence of Councilman C. B. Afflerbaugh from the session, although it was reported that he had attended a special session of the Council in the Mayor's office up to five minutes before the regular meeting, action on Hoover's motion for dismissal of Shewman was delayed, and hearing of the matter was put over for one week.

HEATED REMARKS MADE

The session was enlivened by heated remarks by W. D. Frederick and A. V. Storer, local business men, who spoke at length in defense of Chief Shewman, while in rebuttal Councilman Hoover went into considerable detail in presenting the facts upon which he demands the fire chief's resignation.

An attempt on the part of Hoover to bring the matter to a vote failed for lack of a second. City Attorney Joseph A. Allard, ruling out Mayor Caves's suggestion that the Mayor be allowed to second the motion. Accusations by friends of Chief Shewman, that Mayor Caves and Councilman Hoover had "put Shewman on the skids," when they were voted into office, brought forth denials, Hoover stating that he was absolutely "for" Shewman at that time and had consistently tried to co-operate with him in every detail, but that later actions of the fire chief indicated that co-operation between the commissioner and fire chief was an impossibility.

CHIEF MAY DEFEND SELF

A full council attendance has been requested when the matter comes up for decision next week, also Chief Shewman has been notified to appear in person, when he will be given an opportunity to speak in his own defense.

As the matter now stands, Mayor Caves and Councilman Hoover are a unit in insisting on the resignation or dismissal of Shewman. The balance of the Council, C. B. Afflerbaugh, R. C. Stahlman and C. C. McKay have given no indication of their feelings in the matter, other than that Stahlman and McKay made the suggestion that the matter be held over for a full session of the Council.

Presidio May Be State Park, Ruling Permits

SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Possibility that Presidio Park, marking the birthplace of present civilization in California, may be made a State park, together with other choice park sites now controlled by both city and county, was seen today with receipt of word that the State Supreme Court has paved the way for such transfer. In substance, the ruling of the court was that counties may transfer property to the State for public park purposes under provisions of the State Park Bond Act.

The particular case involved an appeal from Los Angeles county. The court ordered Sydney T. Graves, chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, to deliver certain property the board had voted to the State for a public park. Graves had refused, contending the board was without authority to make such a transfer, although he conceded the county might convey land to be used as a site for a State building or for highway purposes.

"There are both statutory and constitutional sanctions for such a transfer," the court said.

Pioneer Dies in San Diego Home

SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Guilford M. Whitney, president and founder of Whitney & Co., died today following a paralytic stroke in May, 1929, which has confined him to his bed since that time. Whitney was born in Illinois March 9, 1849, and leaves his daughter, Mrs. Harry W. Forbes of Ridgewood, N. J.; two sisters, Mrs. H. D. Cone and Mrs. C. J. Philbrick of Seattle, and his son Guilford of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Johnson Saum chapel Thursday at 2 p.m. Interment will be made privately at Greenwood Cemetery.

GLOBE GRAIN IN ANNUAL REPORT

Decline in Commodity Prices Lowers Profits

Net Earnings for Period Set at $259,710

Prospects for Current Year More Favorable

While net earnings of Globe Grain and Milling Company for its fiscal year ended June 30, last, as revealed in the statement released yesterday, showed a marked decline from the previous year, due principally to the slump in commodity prices and particularly the farm products in which the company deals, officials of the company expressed the opinion that the present operating position of the company is the best it has been in years, with favorable prospects for the current year.

The profit and loss statement for the year showed a net gain of $289,710.51 after expenses, depreciation and interest, equal after allowance for dividends on $1,385,500 of 7 per cent first preferred stock and on $200,000 of 8 per cent second preferred stock outstanding at the close of the period, to about 61 cents a share on 240,000 shares of $25 par common stock, as against $736,132.13, or $2.11 a common share in the previous fiscal year.

Sales totaled 359,735 tons, valued at $18,870,724.94, as compared with 348,143 tons, valued at $20,431,-926.33 in the previous year.

Inventory prices, which were based on the market at the close of the year, were the lowest the company has experienced in approximately twenty years, C. C. Hine, vice-president, stated, in pointing out that it is impossible to operate three or four months on a gradually declining market and, in addition, to write down a $2,500,000 inventory from 15 to 20 per cent without materially affecting earnings.

In expressing the opinion that the outlook for the current year is highly favorable, Mr. Hine said that many farm products are below the cost of production and, therefore, it would seem unlikely further declines should be encountered. Any further change in values should be favorable, while low cost of commodities, low interest rates and present volume of business are all favorable factors, he added.

During the past year the company has retired $200,000 of first preferred stock and $99,500 of debentures and is in a strong financial position, the report showed. Current assets as of June 30, last, were $5,034,833.34, as against current liabilities of $133,797.83. Surplus amounted to $2,781,447.06. Total assets were given as $11,636,501.18.

Sharp Texas Oil Output Cut Due

FORT WORTH, July 16.—A reduction of 126,000 barrels in the daily average crude oil production of Texas fields has been recommended by operators of the State meeting here today to receive reports and recommendations of the committee of six organized a short time ago to study the demand and supply situation in Texas and to make suggestions to the Texas Railroad Commission for enforcement of a new pipe line law.

The committee's report showed average daily production in Texas to be 863,450 barrels, with the maximum demand 76,500 barrels less than this amount. The report recommended production be cut to this level, but the general meeting adopted a resolution asking for an additional 50,000 barrels daily reduction.

Copper Cut at Custom Plants

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Custom Smelters today reduced the price of domestic copper to 11 1-4 cents a pound delivered, a reduction of one-quarter of a cent from the previous level and the lowest price the metal has sold in the domestic market since 1921.

Large producers, however, continued to hold copper at the 11 1-2 cent price. There was no change in the foreign price of 11.80 cents a pound, c.i.f. European base ports. Foreign sales of copper during the forenoon today amounted to 2,250,-000 pounds and yesterday totaled 3,500,000 pounds.

THRIFT IDEA GAINS FAVOR IN SCHOOLS

More Than 200,000 New Accounts Added in Year by Savings Society

Los Angeles bank school savings accounts have increased 38 per cent in the past year, more than 200,000 new accounts having been opened, bringing the total as of June 30 to 72,179, with aggregate deposits of $1,561,274.99, the average per student being $21.63, C. C. Lincoln, retiring president, announced yesterday following the annual meeting of the Los Angeles Banks School Savings Association.

Frank R. Alvord, vice-president and cashier of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, was elected president for the coming school year, succeeding Mr. Lincoln, who is assistant vice-president of the Security-First National Bank.

R. D. Gordon, senior assistant comptroller of the Bank of Italy, was elected vice-president of the school savings association, and Gardner Turrill, assistant cashier of the California Bank, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The association, Mr. Lincoln said, has closed one of the most gratifying years in its existence. "The banks of this city, while they are sincere and anxiously trying to promote thrift in the lives of the school children, would be powerless and ineffective were it not for the assistance rendered by school people," he stated.

Net profits for the June quarter totaled $3,013,364 or $1.25 a share as compared with $4,184,973 or $1.74 a share in the similar period last year.

EARNINGS HOLDING UP FOR FOSTER WHEELER

NEW YORK, July 16.—Sailing for Europe aboard the Leviathan, Louis B. Nutting, president of the Foster Wheeler Corporation, stated that the trend of the company's business continues highly satisfactory, and that although the ratio of increase in earnings over 1929 would not be as gratifying as the 100 per cent increase recorded last year over 1928, nevertheless a substantial gain could be looked for.

TIRE COMPANY EXPANDS

E. W. Shaw, general manager of Goodrich Silvertown, Inc., announced yesterday the opining of four new stores during the current month, at Los Angeles, Seattle, Tacoma and Sacramento, increasing the number of stores now in operation in the Pacific Coast region to forty-two. The stores are operated as the retail division of the Pacific Goodrich Rubber Company.

ANALYSIS ISSUED

Russell Miller & Co., member of the New York Stock Exchange, has issued for general distribution from its Los Angeles offices an analysis of the American Tobacco Company.

EXCHANGE ACTION POPULAR

Plan for Listing of Major Film Stocks on Local Market Given Wide Indorsement

BY DOUGLAS A. McKAY

Development of an active market here for motion-picture stocks is forecast by a favorable reaction to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange's recently announced campaign to obtain the listing of all major issues of the industry. A canvass of film company executives and of bankers and brokers closely associated with the business indicates a 100 per cent indorsement.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the action is that a market here for motion-picture stocks would check the considerable flow of money from the west coast to New York that is involved in the trading of film stocks. The volume is especially large in the case of marginal trading where stocks for the account of westerners are lodged in the collateral vaults of New York banks. Bankers and New York Stock Exchange brokers who are also members of the local exchange supported this contention.

TRADING ACTIVE

While there are no accurate figures on the proportion of the total trading in film stocks that originates on the Pacific Coast, opinions place this amount, anywhere from 25 to 35 per cent, depending largely on the character of the market, the percentage being greater when film stocks are in popular demand.

Records of the New York Stock Exchange show that last year 30,-000,000 shares of the ten leading motion-picture companies were traded on that market. Assuming an average price of $50 a share, this was a total market valuation of $1,500,000,000. Commissions on the basis of 20 cents a share were $6,000,000.

WIDE DISTRIBUTION

Investment holdings of motion-picture securities on the Pacific Coast and especially in Southern California run into the millions and the advantages, such as the time saved in making transfers, is expected to materially increase distribution of the issues here, brokers assert.

The motion-picture industry, according to the Department of Commerce figures, ranks largest of all industries next to petroleum in Los Angeles county, and along with petroleum and agriculture in California as a whole. The development of many of the companies was originally aided by California funds and supported by the Los Angeles banks.

All members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange have pledged their support for the maintenance of an active market in the securities, and it is not unlikely that, if the listings are obtained, the market will rank next in business to the New York Curb. The interest displayed will, in addition, attract attention of more tradegs to the possibilities of other Pacific Coast securities on the board.

Pacific Gas Construction at High Level

Depression has not halted building activities of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, according to an announcement yesterday by A. F. Hockenbeamer, president, who stated that the May pay roll totaled $2,124,000, or $520,000 more than for May, 1929. Employees numbered 14,-242, an increase of 3761.

"Pay roll of this company for the year," said Mr. Hockenbeamer, "will run in excess of $25,000,000, more than $2,000,000 a month for every month in the year. We have not halted in a single undertaking in our program of building for the future. We are going right along with our dam, power houses and ditches on our Salt Springs project on the Mokelumne River, and there will be no let-up on this project until it is finished in 1931 or 1932.

"Work on our steam-electric plant in San Francisco is likewise moving ahead with full crews at work, under orders to get th efirst of two large steam turbines ordered for that station into operation this fall. Our natural-gas program is being carried on as laid out last year and the year before, and construction crews are now building into Napa, Sonoma and Marin counties, which will be supplied with natural gas before the end of September. Extensions, gas and electric, are going ahead in every city and town where there is demand for them."

GUARANTY BUILDING AND LOAN PROSPERS

Resources of Guaranty Building and Loan Association have increased more than $500,000 during the first half of July invesment period, indicating that total assets of the institution will exceed $12,-000,000 by August 1, Gilbert H. Beesemyer, secretary-manager, announced yesterday. The heavy accumulation of building-loan funds in the Los Angeles associations will provide ample money for fall home financing, he added.

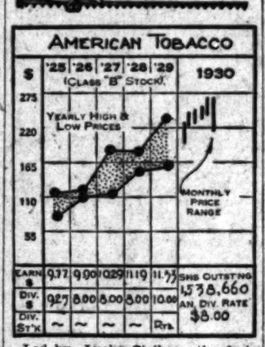
OKLAHOMA UTILITY GAINS IN EARNINGS

Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation, a subsidiary of American Natural Gas Corporation, reported yesterday gross earnings of $11,002,-380.85 for the year ended May 31, 1930, as compared with $10,655,190.97 for the preceding twelve months. Net operating income amounted to $4,722,786.36, which compares with $4,425,130.67 for the year ended May 31, 1929.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



Led by Lucky Strikes, the fastest-selling cigarette in the world, the company's popular brands of cigarettes and smoking tobaccos account for about one-third of the annual production of the country. In April of 1930 Lucky Strikes showed an increase in sales in comparison with a decline among other popular brands, while the increase for the year to date is said to exceed that of all other brands combined. The American Cigar Company, a subsidiary, is actively pushing sales of the popular-priced cigar Cremo with an extensive advertising campaign.

Net income has doubled since 1920, showing increases in every year except 1923. Last year's earnings were 20 per cent higher than in 1928. A current ratio of 13 to 1 places the company in an exceptional financial position. A recent letter to stockholders states that earnings for the first five months of 1930 are more than 100 per cent greater than for the similar 1929 period.

GOLD FLOWS TO EUROPE AGAIN

Bremen Sails With First Consignment Since January

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—The first important consignment of gold for export to Europe since January went forward to France today on the liner Bremen.

It consisted of $4,000,000 shipped by the international banking house of Lazard Freres.

Imports of gold reported today by the Federal Reserve Bank, however, left a balance in favor of the United States of $2,367,000. The imports to-$6,367,000 and consisted of $5,000,000 from Brazil and $1,000,000 from Uruguay received at New York, and $367,000 received at San Francisco from China.

FOOD MACHINE NET HOLDS UP

Nine Months' Report Issued by Corporation

Profits Equal to Previous Year Forecast

Sales for Period Slightly Lower to Date

Food Machinery Corporation for the current fiscal year ending September 30, next, should equal the profits for the previous year providing sales continue in the same proportion for the last quarter of the year as they have in the first nine months of the year, according to letters just mailed to stockholders by J. D. Crummey, president.

Combined sales of the corporation for the nine months ending June 30, last, totaled $5,660,911 as compared with sales of the individual companies for the same period ending June 30, 1929, of $6,036,-403, a decrease of only 6.2 per cent, Mr. Crummey reported.

After completion of the mergers which were pending at the end of the last fiscal year and after payment of stock dividends there were 190,065 shares of common stock outstanding as of June 30, last.

Net earnings of the company for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1929, after depreciation and taxes, amounted to $783,177.77, equal after preferred dividends to $5.77 a share on 127,908 shares, the average amount of common stock outstanding during the year. The 1929 report pointed out that the statements of the Cutler Manufacturing Company and the Florida Citrus Machinery Company were not consolidated until after the close of the 1929 fiscal year.

The company, which formerly bore the name of John Bean Manufacturing Company, manufactures through its constituent companies an extensive line of agricultural, food and auto laundry machinery. According to Mr. Crummey, the corporation is continuing its program of research and development on an even more intensive scale toward the end that it may increase the field for the sale of its products and at the same time materially benefit the various industries which it serves.

Net of Eastern Utility Higher

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey reported yesterday net income available for dividends and surplus for twelve months ended June 30, of $30,001,734, against $26,-677,738 for the same period a year ago, an increase of $3,323,996 or more than 12 per cent. Gross revenues aggregated $138,267,081, a gain of $7,214,217.

The report for the month of June shows gross revenues of $10,950,994, a decrease of $356,359, compared with June, 1929. Net operating income for the month totaled $3,320,-719, off $205,675 and net available for dividends and surplus of $2,325,-985, down $534,086 from the total for June, 1929.

Coast Counties Gas Income Up

Operating revenue of Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company for May yesterday was reported at $200,156, an increase of $10,599 or 5.58 per cent over the $189,567 for the same month last year, while net income after taxes, interest, depreciation and amortization was $52,926 as against $45,330, a gain of $7596 or 16.76 per cent.

For the twelve months ended May 31, last, operating revenue totaled $2,147,811, as against $1,963,543 for the preceding year, a gain of $184,-268 or 9.38 per cent. Net income was $510,846, as against $389,814, an increase of $121,032 or 31 per cent.

GOLDEN STATE MILK PLANS REORGANIZING

In conformance with an announcement made by Robert B. Henderson, chairman of the board of the Golden State Milk Products Company, to the stockholders at their annual meeting here last month, a special meeting has been called for August 6 to approve the reorganization plan which has been under contemplation for the past year and a half. In so far as the corporation is concerned internally, the reorganization is a routine matter, similar to the step taken by other large California companies which have taken out Delaware charters.

CHILE IN NITRATE COMPACT

Government Partnership With Guggenheim Group Revealed in New $350,000,000 Concern

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, July 16.—Have you read how the new $350,000,000 Chile Nitrate Company was formed? It's very largely a partnership between the Guggenheim brothers of New York City, who control 35 per cent of the nitrate properties of that country, and the government of Chile.

The nitrate business is to Chile what iron ore is to Minnesota. Today the export tax on nitrate from Chile amounts to about $25,000,000 a year. This export tax is to be eliminated and the government is given in lieu a 50 per cent interest in the new company, and guaranteed a minimum return for 1931, 1932 and 1933 of $22,500,000, $20,-000,000, and $17,500,000, respectively.

At the end of this time, 1933, the government will take the dividends on its stock, plus a 6 per cent income tax, to compensate it for the "loss of revenues resulting from the elimination of the export tax."

It's a victory for the government of Chile! It also puts the Guggenheim brothers of New York in the most favored position in Chile!

Besides, it's a new form of government endeavor. Should it prove successful for nitrates, it is sure to be tried in other lines of business.

Then the new motto will be—more business in government and more government in business!

The Federal government is still the biggest "going concern" in the United States. No private corporation spends so much money as Uncle Sam.

Congress appropriated for the new year $4,873,929,000—just $208,692,000 over the last fiscal year—according to Senator Jones, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

This sum is more than $450,000,-000 larger than the amount appropriated in Calvin Coolidge's last year.

Can the Federal government expenses be cut? Perhaps, but we're not working in that direction—now.

Take pensions! On the last day, Congress put the World War veterans on a pension—not a disability basis. Maybe it means $50,000,000 extra this year, but in the future it means billions extra. The bill passed after only a few hours of discussion.

Rail-Utilities Trust Reports

NEW YORK, July 16.—Railway and Light Securities Company for the six months ended June 30, last, today reported net profits of $883,-785 after charges and Federal taxes, equal after 6 per cent preferred dividends to $5.45 a share on 149,919 no par shares of common stock, against $806,027, or $5.07 a share in the first half of 1929, computed on the same share basis.

Profit on the sale of securities for the first half of this year after Federal taxes amounted to $609,795. The liquidating value of common stock on sales June 30, last, is stated as $67.05, against $69.46 on December 31, last.

Motors and Oils Turn Up on Brighter Outlook

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Stocks easily rode out a squall of short selling today and the bull faction piloted the market to net gains of 1 to 3 points in a broad list of issues.

Trading, although reduced in volume, was particularly active in the motor and oil shares, led by General Motors, Chrysler and Standard of New Jersey and New York. The irregularity of Tuesday's movements emboldened the bear crowd. Pressing the advantage gained in the lower opening, which reflected further profit taking, the shorts sold rather steadily during the morning and were instrumental in breaking prices 1 to 6 points. It was soon evident, however, that no resistance was being offered and the market turned extremely dull. The bulls brought the list out of its lethargy with an afternoon demonstration which embraced a wide representation of stocks, including the rubbers.

More favorable news from the petroleum fields attracted good buying to the leading producing and refining shares. The daily average output in the past week proved to be the lowest of the year, while gasoline stocks showed a marked decrease. Accumulation went forward in the group, bringing advances of 1 to 3 points in Standard of New Jersey, Standard of New York, Sun Oil and Pierce preferred. Reports that the motor industry would show to fair advantage in the second half-year were strengthened by a consideration of the con-

TRUSTEE STANDARD OILSHARES

SERIES "B"

. . . . Particularly at Present Attractive Prices?

19% AVERAGE RETURN

For the past five years, had this trust been in existence, the average annual return to holders would have amounted to over 14% on today's market price.

$5,439,000,000 IN ASSETS

This trust represents a participating ownership in Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard of Indiana, Standard of California and 20 other leading Standard Oil Companies. The combined assets of these companies total $5,439,000,000, a gain of over 1,000% since the group was split up in 1912.

$3,736,000,000 SURPLUS

Present surplus is by far the largest in Standard Oil history, indicating likelihood of tremendous future stock dividends in accordance with Standard Oil practice in the past.

A Net Decline of Only 15% for

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

as Against 43% for the Average Trust

THE superiority of the management and the strength of the underlying securities back of Massachusetts Investors Trust was again strikingly demonstrated in the recent market break.

This trust, according to a compilation issued June 20 last by the Boston "News Bureau," showed a net decline from the 1930 high of only 15%, while 24 other leading trusts declined from 27% to 67%, or 43% on the average. At the same time, the Dow Jones averages of 30 high-grade stocks lost 26%.

Judged by its record of returns to shareholders in actual practice, Massachusetts Investors Trust again proves its superiority. Original holders since 1924 have received an average of more than 6½% annual cash income and their capital has grown to 170% of the original investment. What better investment can you purchase now at present bargain levels?

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Curb stocks closed higher today, although trading was less active, and some irregularity cropped out, coincident to bear raids on the big board. Total sales aggregated 234,200 shares.

Some of the high priced or closely held issues recorded wide gains. Duke Power moved up 14 points, Great Atlantic and Pacific gained 13 points and Standard Screw 17 points.

Utilities, while active, failed to make much progress. American and Foreign Power warrants gained 2 points, but Electric Bond and Share moved in a narrow range, closing with a gain of ¼. Associated Gas A lost a point, Missouri Kansas Pipe Line tumbled 4 points.

Operations for the advance were aggressive in the intercontinental American Airlines. Aviation Corporation of the Americas sold up 4, and closed up 2½. New York Rio and Buenos Aires sold up 2, then lost half its gain.)

Anglo-Chilean Nitrate rose more than 2 points. Cord Corporation sold up 2 points to 9¼.

Fireman's Fund gained 7 points. Transamerica and National Investors mounted about 2 points while Goldman Sachs sagged.

Oils were largely dull. Gulf closed nearly 3 points higher.

The closing prices in combined when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Futures Ease Off After Early Advance

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Rain reports from Canada came in the nick of time late today to send wheat values downward after the market had averaged generally higher.

Enlarged, unofficial estimates of wheat yields in Kansas and Nebraska were also an incident of late advantage to believers in lower prices. Kansas being credited with 175,000,000 bushels and Nebraska 75,000,000 bushels. Based on threshing returns, earlier, the dominating influence was continued uneasiness over prolonged dearth of moisture in spring crop sections both north and south of the Canadian border.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at virtually the day's bottom level, ½@1¼c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@¾c off, oats, ½@¾c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

Lively switching of the market position was the rule toward the close, especially on the part of numerous traders who earlier had been conspicuous as buyers. There was active purchasing up to the last hour. Friends of higher prices laying stress on statements the spring wheat crop of this country and Canada was suffering through its most critical period under unfavorable conditions.

News of timely rains in Canada, however, resulted in wheat offerings becoming of greater volume than a corresponding influx of buying demand could absorb. Meanwhile, too, primary receipts of wheat were announced as being nearly double those of a week ago, notwithstanding arrivals at Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas points were much smaller. A further impetus to sellers was apparent smallness of export business in wheat from the United States.

Corn followed rather than led wheat. Oats eased as a result of sympathy with other cereals.

Despite downturns in hog values, provisions averaged higher on account of a scarcity of offerings.

FINANCIERS

Here is an exceptional opportunity to create an enterprise the absolute equal of well-known Agua Caliente or Bowman's Cuban National Syndicate of Havana—both of which are proven money-makers.

A resort is being constructed on beautiful Lake Chapala, Jalisco, Mexico, in the heart of the country with the delicious climate 365 days of the year. Initial works representing an expenditure of one million dollars have been completed and an additional two million dollars are required to make this resort the greatest producer south of the Rio Grande.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Trading Activity Increases as Stocks Continue Gradual Strengthening Trend

Security prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange continued to point upward yesterday sustaining an advance initiated several days ago. This is the first time since the break early in June that traders have succeeded in extending a rise for more than three or four days which seems to support a contention in some quarters that the technical position of the market is sound.

The uncertainty that was indicated by a slackened activity late Tuesday gave way to a brighter undertone yesterday when on the appearance of a firmer sentiment fresh buying was attracted.

Transamerica, while still leading the trading volume, was relieved of considerable selling pressure and on a smaller turnover than Tuesday scored an advance of nearly 2 points to 24 1-8. The issue which on Monday sold as low as 20 1-8, closed at 23 3-4. Claude Neon was also a star performer with a gain of 1 1-4 points to 31 1-2.

While fractional changes ruled on the balance of the board practically all were in an upward direction. Standard of California, with Union Oil and Union Associates traded rapidly, Standard advancing 7-8 to 63 5-8, Union 3-4 to 42 3-4 and Union Associates 3-4 to 42. Rio Grande firmed up slightly while Richfield held steady to 18 on brisk sales.

Southern California Edison, after reaching 59 1-2, ended at 59 1-8, up 1-8, and Pacific Public Service gained another 1-2 to 27 1-2. Trading in the balance of the list was quiet with only a few minor price changes.

Sales totaled 25,838 shares, valued at $846,819; previous day, 23,631 shares, valued at $733,880.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Cord Corporation, on a sudden spurt in activity, was the surprise feature on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday. The issue which is generally inactive on this board, jumped 2 points to 9 on a turnover of 2500 shares. There was no interruption in the advance, the stock closing at the high for the day.

Crystalite also recorded a marked improvement with an advance of 1 3-4 points to 14 1-2 and Goldman Sachs, another inactive, turned up 1 7-8 from its last previous sale to cross the board at 21 5-8. Interoast added another 5-8 to end at 13 3-8 and Gladding McBean spurted 1 1-2 points to 41 1-2. Fokker, Detroit Aircraft and Electrical Products improved fractionally.

Why Do Ocean Liners Have Life Boats?

To guard against emergencies, of course. Then why invest your funds in fixed trusts which have made no provision for anticipation of "shipwrecks" among certain underlying stocks.

COLLATERAL TRUSTEE SHARES

—represent ownership in 75 of America's strongest common stocks. In case of an unsatisfactory change that may result in decreased earnings for any underlying stock, the management may sell that issue and replace it with a security from the emergency list of 25 selected stocks. You know where you stand at all times. You have guarded against emergencies. Many other interesting facts about this unusual trust on request below.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—An irregular line charted the movement of fixed income securities on the stock exchange today. It showed no large spread between day's top and bottom but the domestic list, including some of the high grade investment issues, suffered considerably in realizing. The course of the best list was characteristic of previous days of the week with a firm undertone prevalent, and rising tendencies perceptible in some instances.

Little interest was displayed in better class issues in the industrial group whose list has not kept pace with standard rails and utilities. The averages reflected buoyancy demonstrated by leaders as contrasted with fractional declines in the averages for rails and utilities.

Demand for foreign issues was subdued, and some issues were strong. Yield on foreign bonds is greater than any other group in the list and they are profiting from the increased interest in fixed income securities.

Latin-Chilean Nitrate 7s and Lautaro Nitrate 6s were moderately strong holding one point gain. South American and European issues were active, Bolivian 7s, and Uruguay gained points each.

Cuba 5½s sold at the year's peak. Canadian issues reached a new high.

Stock privilege issues were lower. American Tobacco 4s lost 1½ points and 1 point each of yesterday's better-than-right rose ¼ of a point. Shubert gained one while Paine warrant ½ and 2 points.

Arrow fluctuations marked the movement of rail bonds, with a slightly firmer tone at the close. Atchison 4s and Union Pacific 4s lost ground.

In the industrials gains were made by Swift & Myers 7s and Sinclair Pipe Line 5s. Several new highs were established, Certainteed 5½s rose nearly points.

Treasury issues yielded ¼ of a point in dull trading and all United States governments closed lower except Liberty fourth 4¼s which were firm.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

MOTION PICTURES

Boyd's, Eighth between Broadway & Hill. "Devil's Holiday."

Carthay Circle, Wilshire at Fairfax. "This Mad World." Opens today.

California, Main near Eighth.—"Once a Gentleman," Edward Everett Horton making his way to several laughs.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center.—"So This Is London." Will Rogers going abroad again and finds London as funny as ever.

Chinese, 6926 Hollywood.—"Hell's Angels," $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it is worth it.

Criterion, 1313 South Grand.—"Big House." An exciting and realistic drama of prison life featuring Wallace Beery and Chester Morris.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard.—"The Office Scandal," French nonsense without much humor by Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Fargo, Figueroa at Santa Barbara.—"The Flaming Girl." A music melange of the gay 1890's.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine.—A fine example for the artistry of silent films. Well worth while.

Fox, Fox at Norton.—"Numbered Men." Conrad Nagel exerts his very fine influence on numerous, would you care more than they?

Lowe's State, Broadway at Seventh.—"Lummox." Opens today.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third.—"True to the Navy." Clara Bow, for once, has a role she can handle.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine.—"The Big Pond." The genial Chevalier amuses, and all in good clean fun.

Paramount, 916 at Sixth.—"Love Among the Millionaires." Opens today.

Rialto, Broadway at La Brea.—"Across the World With the Johnsons." And the world's Art Study Club meeting, May Company Hall, 10 a.m. Johnsons are human in the other.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth.—"She's My Weakness." Genus Edmund.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth.—"Lawful Larceny." Bebe Daniels struggles to comprehend but has all been said before and better.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth.—"The Secret Witness." Lowell Sherman and Lorrain Lorrain Young in just another snoopy chiller.

United Artists, 934, nr. 9th.—"Anybody's War." A succession of cast, some of which are very funny, pul over by the Lya de Putti charm.

Uptown, Wilshire at Tenth.—"Safety in Numbers."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh.—"Night Lights." Another back-stage musical drama with music, color and Dorothy Mackaill.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"Under a Texas Moon." Another musical laureate with a lot of scenery and such, from Dolores.

Wilshire, 8383 Alvarado.—"The Devil's Holiday."

STAGE

El Capitan, Holly'd Blvd. nr. Highland.—"Is the Life Worth Living?" Dr. Frank Crane's quasi-city provides amusement such as only Glenn Hunter can offer.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 N. Vine.—"Fata Morgana." Elsie Ferguson charms anew in this dramatic tale by Ernest Vajda. Hollywood Playhouse is near to being a sensation as the box.

Mason, Broadway near 52nd.—"Subway Express," a gripping and thrilling murder mystery of New York. With Lee Ouriss.

Music Box, 8th at Eleventh.—"Molly Machree," Melodrama and climax with Chauncey Olcott which might appeal to some. With Crane Wilbur.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main.—Burlesque.

PROSECUTOR NIX FORCED TO RESIGN BY MAYOR

Porter's Action Follows Tilt of Official and Shuler Over Flint Murder Evidence

City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix late yesterday tendered his resignation from office in deference to an ultimatum from Mayor Porter that he either do so or be summarily removed. The resignation is to become effective August 15.

All negotiation came with startling suddenness after Nix and Rev. [illegible] Shuler had engaged in a rapid exchange over the murder of Motley H. Flint.

Nix was the first to discuss the matter on the air. In an address over KHJ Monday night he called to the report that a copy of Shuler's booklet entitled "Julian Thieves" had been found on the person of Frank Keaton, slayer of Flint. Then, after charging the press with having "said things and with expressive zeal," he advised a hearing-in to "exercise a proper caution in permitting [illegible] others to form judg-

SHULER'S REPLY

Shuler replied to the prosecutor's charges against Nix with having [illegible] apparently to make his hearers believe my little booklet 'Julian Thieves in Politics' had something to do with the murder of Mr. Motley H. Flint." The pastor then recited the details of the murder, [illegible] with the assurance that he was not "remotely interested" in whether the booklet was found in [illegible] possession or [illegible] mail.

Yesterday Nix was told to [illegible] or be thrown out.

MAYOR DENIES CHARGE

Mayor Porter was quite indignant [illegible] that Nix should intimate [illegible] had anything to do with the [illegible] prosecutor's forced resignation.

"Did you tell Nix bring Shuler into [illegible]?" the Mayor inquired.

"No, I was pointed out that the [illegible] followed so quickly the [illegible] between Shuler and the [illegible], the Mayor still insisted [illegible] broadcasting preacher had [illegible] to do with his action in the [illegible].

"I have not discussed the Nix [illegible] with Shuler," he declared. "Nix made no request that Nix [illegible] and it is an absolute lie [illegible] has been made to understand [illegible] job depended on winning [illegible] approval. I discovered some [illegible] shortly after I took office [illegible] me to ask Nix to subdue [illegible] imagination. He continued to [illegible] and yesterday I requested that [illegible] submitted. That's all there is [illegible]

Yesterday Nix gave out the following statement, announcing his [illegible]

"At his suggestion I have this [illegible] written the Mayor as follows:

"Hon. John C. Porter,
"Mayor of the City of Los Angeles.

"Dear Mr. Porter:

"As per our several conversations [illegible] it is necessary to tender [illegible] my resignation as City Prosecutor of the city of Los Angeles, [illegible] to take effect on August 15, 1930.

He has [illegible] he is perfectly satisfied [illegible] the service I am rendering as [illegible] Prosecutor. But he has re[illegible] clear Rev. R. P. [illegible] does not like me. GRAND JURY HEARS TWO ENGINEERS

Testimony in Dam Case Taken as Inquisitors Adjourn for Summer

Two independent engineers who have surveyed the San Gabriel Dam site were called before the grand jury yesterday to tell their findings concerning charges that contractors were paid for the excavation of 273,000 yards of earth which was never removed.

After hearing the two witnesses the grand jury adjourned for its summer vacation, which expires on September 4, next, without announcing the appointment of a committee of engineers to make a comprehensive survey of the excavation.

It is understood that appointment of the engineering committee, however, is under consideration by a committee of grand jury members appointed Tuesday. They are expected to act in the matter within the next week.

State Building Property Deeds Given to Webb

Plans to erect a new State Building at First and Spring streets advanced another step yesterday when deeds for the property were submitted to Atty.-Gen. Webb for approval, according to word received here from Sacramento.

Los Angeles county and the Department of Finance prepared the deeds and submitted them to the Attorney-General for immediate action.

KENT RITES CONDUCTED

Funeral services were conducted yesterday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Mrs. Clara Ruth Kent, Hollywood club woman and wife of Dr. Curtis H. Kent, Los Angeles dentist. Death came to Mrs. Kent Monday at her home, 3400 Gracioso Drive. She was 59 years of age and had resided in Los Angeles since 1908.

KEATON STOCK DEALINGS TOLD

Flint Slayer Not Penniless, Records Reveal

Made Purchase on Day of Banker's Murder

Insanity Will be Defense at Trial

Scarcely an hour before Frank D. Keaton rose from his seat in Superior Judge Collier's court last Monday, and without warning fired the three shots that ended the life of Motley H. Flint, he had visited the downtown office of his broker and purchased 100 shares of motion-picture stock, depositing a check for $800 to cover his margin, it was disclosed yesterday.

The fact he made the purchase after losing heavily in previous stock deals and furthermore using what is believed to have been all his available funds in this last deal was emphasized last night by Public Defender Vercoe, appointed by the court to represent him, as supporting the contention Keaton was mentally unbalanced when he shot Flint.

PLEA DUE TODAY

At 10 a.m. today in Superior Judge McComb's court, Keaton will enter a double plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, the Public Defender said. According to another client of the brokerage house who talked with Keaton just before the slaying, the latter seemed in full possession of his normal faculties, but Defender Vercoe argued the purchase of stock sixty minutes before the killing, particularly as it necessitated an overdraft at the bank, was not the act of a sane man.

"Would a sane man who had lost all his money in stock speculation, and thought Flint responsible in some remote way, spend his last dollar for additional stock, just before committing murder?" was the way one of the investigators for the Public Defender phrased it.

On the other hand, the other client of the brokerage house already referred to insists his manner differed in no respect from that when he made his other purchases, a list of which was revealed last night.

DEALINGS TRACED

Keating, it was disclosed, began his transactions in December, 1928, with $10,000 and traded in shares of the Atlantic Refining Company, Bethlehem Steel, Freeport Texas, Richfield Oil, Yellow Truck, Sinclair Consolidated Oil, American Bosch Magneto, Midway Northern Oil, Lorillard Tobacco, American Agricultural Chemical and other companies.

No record was found that Keaton bought or sold Julian Petroleum stock.

The bank stock which the slayer claimed had brought him heavy losses when it suddenly dropped 100 points, was sold by him in 1927, before he began his almost daily transactions on the exchange.

CREDIT AT BROKER'S

Further inspection of Keaton's stock market activities disclosed that last May he had a credit balance at his broker's of $689.65 and owned in addition 100 shares of Indian Motorcycle stock. This stock was sold by him in June, leaving him a credit of $1240.82 on the books.

Keaton's proposed defense of not guilty by reason of insanity again drew to the foreground the presence of a pamphlet called "Julian Thieves," written by Rev. R. P. Shuler and a copy of which the police said they found on Keaton when they searched him shortly after the murder, and which is now held as evidence in the case by the District Attorney's office.

If an insanity defense is interposed, it was learned at the District Attorney's office, the pamphlet may be introduced as rebuttal testimony to support a contention that the killer had a motive for the murder. The pamphlet contains several passages depicting Flint as a close associate of persons accused of complicity in the crash of the Julian Petroleum Corporation. When Keaton was first arrested he declared that Flint had been the cause of his losing much money in stocks.

With the potential importance of Shuler's booklet growing, more efforts were exerted to pierce the maze of conflicting statements about just how it was obtained by the policemen that searched Keaton. Considerable light was thrown on the situation yesterday when the court re-

HEAT WAVE WILL LAST FEW DAYS

Fourth Death of Warm Spell Reported from Imperial Valley

A continuation of warm weather for several more days was predicted yesterday afternoon in the forecast of the United States Weather Bureau, whose officials declared that as long as the present high-pressure area continues over the ocean and a low pressure is found covering Southern California, the usual ocean breezes will be absent and high thermometer readings are to be expected.

The fourth death in Imperial Valley during the present heat wave was reported last night from El Centro, when John Schmid, 52 years of age, of San Diego was stricken as he traveled from Brawley to El Centro on a stage line. He died as he reached the El Centro station.

VALLEY GIVEN RELIEF

Relief from the heat in Imperial Valley was given late yesterday when a strong breeze from the direction of the Gulf of California brought lower temperatures. The official gauge at the Imperial Irrigation District registered a maximum of 101 deg. yesterday afternoon and the Department of Agriculture at Calexico, 100 deg. Unofficial guages at Brawley and other valley towns showed as high as 104 deg.

Redlands and vicinity continued to suffer yesterday under high temperatures, the highest reported being 104. Yucaipa had 100 and temperatures ranging from 99 to 104 were general throughout this section on official government thermometers. Rain storms in the mountains back of Redlands late yesterday brought a promise of lower temperatures today.

POMONA REPORTS 104

Pomona yesterday reported a high temperature of 104 deg. at 2 p.m. A minimum of humidity gave some relief. Yesterday was said to be the hottest day of the year in Pomona.

Increased humidity at Indio with 110 deg. was the highest since the thermometer touched 116 Saturday. There were no prostrations from the heat, however.

For the second day in succession in Alhambra, the temperature there mounted to 101 deg., a record for the year. The mercury clung to the 101 mark for three hours there yesterday but by 5 o'clock in the afternoon had fallen three degrees and stood at 98 at 4 p.m.

Maximum temperature at Riverside yesterday was reported by the government observers at 107. The minimum was 61 deg. Cloudy skies and showers in the San Jacinto Mountains made the day sultry and the most oppressive of the year. Yesterday's maximum temperature was the highest of three years, government observers said.

NIGHT RECORDS SHATTERED

All records for high night temperatures were shattered at San Bernardino last night when the district entered the fifth hot night. Since Saturday every night has registered a thermometer reading in excess of 70 deg., for the first time in the history of the weather bureau.

Yesterday all parts of the San Bernardino Valley reported maximum readings of more than 100 deg. Maximum temperatures at various points near San Bernardino yesterday were: Highland, 103; Fontana, 104; Colton, 106, and San Bernardino, 107. The minimum was 74. Heavy clouds from Arizona helatorms are blamed for the failure of the temperature to drop at night.

RAINS PROMISE RELIEF

Relief from at least part of the heat wave which has baked residents of San Diego and near-by territory was expected today from the thunderstorms which raged over the mountains of San Diego county as far as Imperial Valley, late last night. The rain not only brought the temperatures in the mountains down some fifteen degrees, but also stopped the spread of two or three small brush fires which threatened serious trouble and reduced the fire hazard at least for several days. Lightning started one forest fire near Campo but the flames were soon out under the lash of the rain.

The maximum temperature in San Diego yesterday was 83, the warmest July 16 on the records of the Weather Bureau.

YOUNG LAMEL'S BODY FOUND

Rangers Solve Fate of Los Angeles Youth Lost in Attempt to Scale Mt. Whitney

The crushed body of Howard Lamel, 18 years of age, of 1135 South Mansfield avenue, who disappeared on the 5th inst. while attempting to climb Mt. Whitney from the all but unconquerable eastern slope, was found late yesterday in a crevice 13,500 feet up the mountainside, it was announced last night.

The discovery was made by Robert Evans and Norman Clyde, veteran mountaineers who joined the search last Saturday at the request of the boy's father, Edward G. Lamel, who with Howard and another son had started on the climb.

HOWARD LAMEL

Howard, ambitious to write his adventures, had separated from his father and brother at the 12,000-foot level and had started alone up the eastern side, which has been scaled only by one of two veteran climbers.

The place where the body was found showed that the boy had managed to ascend 1500 feet up the perilous side of the mountain before the fatal plunge sent him to instant death.

Airplanes and more than 100 forest rangers and volunteer searchers had been seeking the lost boy since he failed to join his father and brother at the summit of the peak, the highest in continental United States.

BODY UNRECOVERED

No attempt was made late yesterday to bring the body out of the mountain, the searchers declaring removal will necessitate much preparation.

During the progress of the search the boy's mother had expressed confidence her son would be found alive. Howard, she said, was trained in mountain climbing and her theory was that the boy, finding himself unable to scale the east slope, had turned back, following a trail that would bring him to a settlement near the base of the mountain in a few days.

FILMDOM TO PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMBER

Rudolph Schildkraut to be Laid to Rest Today by Fellow-Craftsmen

Hollywood will pay its last respects to Rudolph Schildkraut, veteran character actor, when funeral services are conducted for him this afternoon from the Glasband & Groman's parlors, 910 West Washington street. Members of the film colony are expected to attend the services in numbers. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

Joseph Schildkraut, son of the famous actor, was unnerved by the shock of his father's sudden death. The elder Schildkraut was Joseph's closest companion and their devotion was much the same as that between Elsie Janis and her mother, who was buried Tuesday.

Schildkraut died at his home in Hollywood Tuesday night from a heart attack. His characterizations in many great pictures stamped him as one of the leading character actors in Hollywood. His career in pictures followed a successful one on the stage. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Erma Schildkraut, besides his son.

COUNCIL APPROVES MAP

The City Council yesterday approved the assessment district map for the improvement of streets in the Marmont avenue and Woodshill Trail district.

GARLAND HOME, WELL PLEASED

Europe Reported Enthused Over Olympic Games

City's Great Preparations Cause Astonishment

Record Number of Entries Believed Assured

"Europe's enthusiasm for the 1932 Olympic Games is unbounded," said Col. William M. Garland, vice-president of the International Olympic Committee and president of the California Tenth Olympiad Association, on his return yesterday afternoon from a nine weeks' trip to Europe. "We in Los Angeles are going to have a job on our hands to complete our own preparations promptly so that our European friends will realize that their confidence is not misplaced.

"Germany assured us of a truly representative team. France was never in better shape financially and is making preparations to send a large organization, and all through Europe I found that the enthusiasm of the general public for the games which will be held in Los Angeles quite matched that of the delegates to the Olympic congress in Berlin.

REPORT PLEASES

"The completeness of the report which our committee gave to the Olympic congress simply swept them off their feet. The special and remarkably low transportation costs which had been secured through the efforts of the Los Angeles organization, the completeness of the training facilities already available and the plans for further enlargement of our Coliseum were a revelation to the Europeans, who had never known such extensive preparations so far in advance of the actual dates of the games.

"European newspapers are giving tremendous publicity to our preparations for the games and have evidenced their confidence in us by proceeding at once with their own preparations for a whole-hearted and truly representative participation in the games," Mr. Garland concluded.

The games, which will be conducted from July 25 to August 5, 1932, inclusive, in Los Angeles, will, in Mr. Garland's opinion, not only have the largest number of entries from the sixty-five nations which have been officially invited to participate, but will also have color unequalled in the history of the United States, through the attendance of royalty and high dignitaries of practically every country on the globe.

Films made in Los Angeles by M.-G.-M. and taken by Garland to the congress had a tremendous influence in convincing the Europeans that the Los Angeles committee was already well under way with its preparations. At the request of the International Olympic Committee, Mr. Garland left one of the films over there to be shown in the various countries planning to participate.

"Mrs. Garland and I are certainly glad to be home again," were the first words spoken by the Olympic leader as he stepped from the Chief at the Santa Fe station late yesterday afternoon, and properly enough these words were spoken to Charles Cooke, official "greeter" of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who headed a large welcoming gathering.

SPEAKS TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Garland left Los Angeles May 8, last, proceeding directly to Berlin for the International Olympic Congress and after the official sessions closed they made a tour of a number of European countries, finally sailing from Southampton the 6th inst. on the Leviathan.

This morning Mr. Garland will be the guest of honor at the Breakfast Club, where he will be greeted by representatives of the city, county and State governments and a large committee of representative citizens. The occasion will be featured by a departure from the ordinary Breakfast Club menu, as mountain trout and Virginia ham will be served to the accompaniment of Gus Arnheim's Cocoanut Grove Orchestra. Mr. Garland's remarks will be broadcast.

Following the Breakfast Club session Mr. Garland will start almost immediately for San Francisco to be a guest of honor at the annual affair of the Bohemian Club, which starts Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Garland were met at Pasadena yesterday afternoon by their son, Jack

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

I GET a great kick watching the battleships at anchor at Los Angeles Harbor. At the same time they curdle the Scotch portion of my soul.

Think of the money that would be saved if the nations could agree on some cheaper type of killing machinery. They would be just as well off in relation to each other in the event of war.

I have no doubt that our two airplane carriers—the Lexington and Saratoga—cost as much as the total cost of all the warships afloat at the time of our naval triumphs in 1812. As I remember it, the original cost of Old Ironsides, was under $400,000.

POSTAGE STAMPS

The scream that will go up if the postal rates are raised to two and one-half cents for a two-cent stamp will make the hills shake.

The attitude of the public is curious. They will pay three times as much for a necktie, endure without protest a dizzy rise in the price of food. They are grateful when gasoline goes down but uncomplaining when it goes up.

But just let the folks try to stick up the price either on street car fares or postage stamps and you would think a public massacre of little children had taken place.

A good deal of the $30,000,000 deficit would be covered if the Postoffice Department would double the price on air mail and leave the present two-cent rate as it stands. If people demand telegraph speed for their letters let them pay for it. There is no reason why those of us, not in such a lather, should pay what the government loses on carrying an air-mail letter for 5 cents.

LETTER WRITING

People write too many letters anyhow; both ordinary and air mail. Nine-tenths of those mailed need not have been.

Napoleon always allowed a letter to lie for three weeks before he opened it. He said that most of the burning questions people wrote him about were settled by themselves before he had to read the letters. Only those of real importance remained. It was an automatic sorting process.

LANGUAGE

My idea of nothing to worry about is conducting a campaign to induce Englishmen and Americans to pronounce the language through the medium of the same noises.

One scientist contends that Englishmen talk that way because the London fogs get mixed up in their vocal chords. On the other hand, Mary Austin contends that our speech, as well as our skittish manners and our habits of thought, are the reflection of tempo. We have just emerged from the plow period of America; have thrown off the burden of the pioneer.

SIGNS

It would be better if we all stopped talking anyhow and used the Indian sign language. This is the most graceful and interesting method of communication ever devised between human beings. By means of it an Apache can speak to a Cheyenne or a Mandan, of whose existence he has never heard. Seriously, it has possibilities by way of an international language. You can say anything with the sign language that you can with words. And with much less long-windedness. No one knows who invented it; it is as old as time. And it is wonderful.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID FLINT

Body of Slain Financier Laid to Rest in Crypt Near That of Late Senator

In the Sanctuary of Hope off the Corridor of Vistas in Forest Lawn Memorial Park Mausoleum yesterday a group of relatives and friends placed the body of Motley H. Flint, financier victim of an assassin, in its last resting-place overlooking the Glendale hills. His body rests in a crypt but one sanctuary away from that of his brother, Frank P. Flint, one-time United States Senator, who died more than a year ago.

And just at the close of the ceremony at the crypt, the widow of the Senator stepped forward, gathered a little bouquet of roses from the bier of Motley Flint and took them to the flower receptacle to lie by the crypt of his brother and her husband. Motley Flint's own widow, a frail little woman, from whom he had lived apart for many years, bore the service both at the church and cemetery stoically, but with evident repression of grief.

Miss Jeannette Spooner, who was Mrs. Flint's secretary, fainted just after the church service, but was restored shortly and insisted upon going with the cortege to the cemetery. Mrs. H. S. MacKay, Jr., niece of the slain man and daughter of Mrs. Frank Flint, fainted for a moment or two at the mausoleum service, but quickly was restored.

In the same mortuary where only a few days ago Motley Flint had sat with bowed head during the funeral service for his aged mother, about 100 of his friends gathered at 2 p.m. yesterday to pay their last respects to him. It was in Turner & Stevens mortuary, Pasadena. Rev. James Leishman, associate pastor of Pasadena First Presbyterian Church, conducted the rite at the mortuary and then read a part of the Presbyterian ritual at the crypt and offered a prayer in closing.

"But a few days ago," Dr. Leishman said, "Mr. Flint attended funeral services for his beloved mother. He was deeply moved. One could not but see the peculiarly strong affection which he had for the one to whom he had ministered so faithfully through the many years.

"And now his body lies in our midst. He himself has answered the call, the sudden, the unexpected call, by the hand of one whose over-

DAME FORTUNE SHOWERS MILLIONS ON LOCAL MAN

Twice within the past year George Wesley Taylor, retired contractor living at 336 Speedway Drive, Beverly Hills, has received bequests amounting to about $5,000,000 each from the huge fortune built up by his uncle, the late Henry M. Flagler, one of the founders of the Standard Oil Company.

News of the second bequest came in a dispatch from New York yesterday, which said letters of administration were granted yesterday in the Surrogate's Court of Orange county, New York, for the estate of Mrs. Ida Flagler, 83 years of age, divorced wife of the Standard Oil millionaire, who died Saturday at a sanatorium in Central Valley, N. Y. Although rated the richest woman in the world, Mrs. Flagler had suffered for years from the delusion that she was poverty stricken.

George Wesley Taylor, according to the dispatch, will share his late aunt's estate with another nephew, William W. Taylor, a lawyer of New York City, and a grandniece, Mrs. Ruth Taylor Pontius of Evanston, Ill., wife of a medical student.

Word from the East yesterday said the net amount of the estate, which the three heirs will share, is between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000. An official accounting of Mrs. Flagler's riches, which was published last March, placed her gross estate at that time at $16,094,097.41.

The $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 which George Wesley Taylor will receive from his aunt's estate comes within a year of the receipt of about $5,000,000 from the estate of his uncle, according to his Beverly Hills neighbor, Edward Stark of 332 Speedway Drive. Mr. Stark, who is president of Edward Stark, Ltd., said yesterday Mr. Taylor told him about the first bequest about six months ago. Before receiving either bequest Mr. Taylor was accounted a wealthy man.

He is in the East at present with his wife in connection with the settlement of his aunt's estate. He is about 60 years of age and has one son, who is married and lives in the East.

MERCHANTS LOSE TAX PLEA

Supervisors Say They Have No Power to Reduce Levies on Spring Street and Broadway

The County Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of tax equalization, yesterday denied the application of property owners between Fourth and Tenth street on Broadway and Spring streets, who appeared before the board asking that assessments in that district be reduced materially.

Members of the board stated that they are not empowered by law to make reductions in taxes, but only to equalize assessments on adjacent parcels of property. Reductions in property by districts, it was pointed out, can only be made by the tax assessor, who was elected to office for that specific duty.

Attorneys J. Wiseman MacDonald and Phil Gibson, representing some of the property owners, made an extensive argument, stating on behalf of their clients that present downtown building rentals do not justify the assessments imposed on property owners.

"My clients, the owners of the Loew's State Building, are assessed just twice as much as they should be," said Attorney Gibson. "If some remedy is not applied business is going to be driven off Broadway between Fourth and Tenth streets to districts where rents and taxes are lower."

John Bullock, department store proprietor, stated that the west side of Broadway is discriminated against because of a "solar myth," there being an idea prevalent among real estate men that people prefer to shop on the west side of the street, particularly in the afternoon.

"This is mighty unfair to property owners on the west side of the street," said Mr. Bullock.

Among other properties represented at the meeting were: The May Company, Sun Realty Company, Story Building, Eastern Outfitting Company, Lankershim Building, Paramount Building, Lissner Building and the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Building.

POST TO CELEBRATE

Sunrise Post No. 357, American Legion, will celebrate its first anniversary this evening in the Whittier playground community house, Fresno and Seventh streets. Among the guests will be Department Commander Clarence Kincaid and District Commanders Chailaux and Ricca. The entertainment program will be followed by installation of new officers.

THREE BROKERS INDICTED IN QUIZ

Grand Jury Acts in Bucket Shop Investigation

E. K. Fleming and Aides to Plead Next Tuesday

Other Stock Dealers Still Under Scrutiny

E. K. Fleming, head of E. K. Fleming & Co., brokers; M. G. Phillips, a member of the firm, and Charles Glanz, general manager, were indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday charged with four counts of grand theft and six of operating a bucket shop.

Immediately after the indictment was returned the defendants appeared in Superior Judge McComb's court and were arraigned. They were ordered to report in Department Twenty-seven of Superior Court at 10 a.m. next Tuesday to enter their pleas to the charges. Fleming and Glanz were released under $5000 bond each, while Phillips was permitted to remain at liberty on his own recognizance.

The indictment came as the result of a grand jury investigation into the asserted bucket-shop operations of a number of Los Angeles stock brokers whose licenses were suspended by the State Corporation Department recently. Other firms still are under investigation.

Count one charges the grand theft of $3000 from John L. Brandt; count two charges bucketing in the same transaction; count three charges the grand theft of $691.25 from C. O. Stewart; count four charges the grand theft of an automobile valued at $500 from Mrs. M. A. Stewart; count five charges the theft of $380 from Mrs. J. E. Pickelson; count six charges bucketing in the same transaction; counts seven, eight, nine and ten also charge bucket-shop transactions in which Carl Wedburg, Robert Cordner and Mrs. H. Mahler were the asserted victims.

PLUMMER ADDRESSES HOLLYWOOD VETERANS

Clyde Plummer, candidate for Sheriff, addressed the members of the Hollywood unit of the United Veterans of the Republic yesterday at a luncheon meeting held at the Pig 'n' Whistle. His twenty-one years as a peace officer in Los Angeles city and county will constitute his platform for election, he said. Plummer promises that if elected there will be no compromise in the Sheriff's office between law and crime. He will speak Thursday evening at a banquet given under auspices of the Civic Research League of California at the First Presbyterian Church in Alhambra.

porter's transcript of the proceedings at Coroner Frank Nance's inquest over the body of Flint Tuesday morning became available.

The transcript of the testimony of Detective Lieutenant Eddie Romero, who personally searched Keaton, shows the following questions and answers:

Q.: (By Coroner Nance.) Did you search him?

A.: We made a preliminary search there (in Judge Collier's courtroom, where the murder took place) and then at the station we searched him again.

Q.: What did you find on his person?

A.: Found his wallet in his inside coat pocket, there were some blank checks on the Citizens' Trust Bank, a $10 check and about $8—close to $8—two $1 bills and some small change.

Q.: Any papers?

A.: There were some papers on him, there was one booklet, but I don't know what kind of literature was in it.

Q.: You don't know the title of it?

A.: No, I don't, because immediately after we searched him, we started questioning him.

MAY USE RECORD

When the presence of the booklet became known to him Tuesday afternoon, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart declared that up to that moment its existence had not been revealed to him by the police and he called all of the officers to his office and took a written statement from them regarding it.

At the time Stewart questioned him, Romero suddenly was unable to recall whether he had taken a pamphlet from Keaton or not, although two of his brother-officers had previously declared that such a document had been found on the prisoner. There was only one pamphlet listed among Keaton's effects, and Romero's sworn testimony at the inquest, therefore, will probably be used to refresh his memory in case Shuler's pamphlet is needed as evidence at the forthcoming trial.

Mental and physical tests will be given Keaton almost daily from now until his trial, Stewart announced. Drs. Victor Parkin and Thomas J. Orbison, alienists, who examined the Flint killer a short time after the deed, made their first of exhaustive studies yesterday afternoon in Keaton's cell. They will make no formal report of their findings until called at the trial, according to Stewart.

Keaton denied himself to all callers at the County Jail yesterday, and was allowed to remain alone except for the visit of the alienists. He is confined in the same cell that housed William Edward Hickman. The prisoner is under the scrutiny of two guards at all times, and Chief Jailor Peoples has issued orders that no chances must be taken and that Keaton shall have no opportunity to harm himself.

The Flint slayer shows interest in all matters concerned with operating the jail and talks with his guards about his quarters. He refuses, however, to discuss his crime. He told them that he had been advised not to talk to anyone and to refuse to pose for photographs, but would not divulge his adviser.

Further substantiation of statement that Keaton was in the habit of haunting trials of various Julian defendants was forthcoming yesterday. Attorney William H. Neblett, who represented one of the sixteen business man recently tried and acquitted of usury before Superior Judge Aggeler, yesterday made a statement to investigators for the District Attorney that he recognized Keaton as a man that was present on many occasions in the spectators' seats during the usury trial.

It was also learned from Roy Clark, clerk in Judge Aggeler's court, that Keaton did service as a juror in that department from October 1 to December 14, 1928, and that he once asked to be excused from service on a jury being examined as to their fitness to hear an embezzlement case because, Clark said Keaton told the court, he was once swindled in a stock deal.

PLANE GUIDES FIRE FIGHTERS

Aerial Survey Assists in Quelling Thirty-four Forest Blazes

Summoned to action under a fire-patrol contract with the government, an airplane of the Aero Corporation of California yesterday played a prominent part in preventing thirty-four brush fires from causing serious damage in the San Bernardino National Forest. When the call was received, Pilot Ole Olson took the plane to San Bernardino, where he was joined by J. E. Elliott, Forest Supervisor. Circling over the region in which the fires were reported to be burning, Elliott dropped messages to his rangers, instructing them how to reach the smoldering areas. All fires were reported beaten out within a few hours. They are said to have been started by lightning.

CAPTORS TAKE GANGMAN EAST

Frankie Foster Aboard Chief on Way to Chicago

Start from San Bernardino to Avert Trouble

Suspect's Wife on Train by Odd Coincidence

Frankie Foster, dapper Chicago racketeer, left California last night and is scheduled to arrive in his home city Saturday morning to answer a charge of aiding in the murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, newspaper man.

Fearing attempts to free Foster, the prisoner was placed aboard the Santa Fe Chief at San Bernardino shortly before midnight by Investigators Dudley and Scherping of Chicago, who came here four weeks ago trailing the wanted man.

FOSTER'S PLEA FAILS

Foster made a bid for liberty here when he filed a habeas corpus writ asserting that he was not in Chicago on the date of the Lingle slaying and consequently could not be extradited on the warrant and indictment sent here by the Illinois authorities. He was denied this plea Tuesday by Superior Judge McComb, and two hours later was behind the bars of San Bernardino County Jail, where he was spirited by Dudley and Scherping to prevent service of additional writs or attempts by companions here to prevent his return.

Word of his whereabouts was kept secret and last night as the limited for Chicago pulled into San Bernardino he was rushed from a secluded corner of the station and hurried into a private compartment. Chief Investigator Mathews and Investigators Kings and Chrim of the District Attorney's office assisted the Chicago officers in seeing Foster safely aboard.

GOES IN IRONS

He will wear irons throughout the entire trip, according to Dudley, and will not be permitted to leave the compartment. He will be taken from the train at a suburban station in Chicago and hurried by automobile to the Cook County (Ill.) Jail.

The two Chicago officers were surprised last night when they started to board the train and ran full face into Mrs. Foster, wife of the prisoner, who was held here in technical custody during the investigation of her husband's activities.

WIFE ON SAME TRAIN

Mrs. Foster was released at the same time as her husband, and by a strange coincidence was on the same train. She, however, boarded the Chief at the station here. She was standing in the vestibule as the two officers hustled Foster aboard.

The Chicago racketeer was arrested here more than two weeks ago, along with five other members of the group and his wife. It was asserted they were planning to build a brewery here and start beer selling along the entire Pacific Coast.

George Davis, bodyguard of Foster, who was arrested during the raid, left for Detroit yesterday, where he is to answer to a charge of attempted murder. Davis also is wanted by the Federal authorities in Michigan on a narcotic charge. Fugitive charges against Davis in Federal Court here were dismissed yesterday by United States Commissioner Head, so that the Detroit officers might return their prisoner.

RELEASE ON BAIL GIVEN TO LAVINE

Bond of $10,000 Pending Appeal from Conviction to be Posted Today

A motion that Morris Lavine, former newspaper man, be released under bond pending his appeal from conviction on a charge of attempted extortion, was granted by Superior Judge Schauer yesterday. The court fixed the bond at $10,000 and entered the further order that the defendant, in addition to guaranteeing his appearance in court, also guarantee to pay a $5000 fine imposed as part of his sentence. Lavine also was sentenced to a year in the County Jail.

Leontine Johnson, who was convicted with Lavine, is at liberty under $5000 bond. She was sentenced to nine months in the County Jail.

Lavine's attorneys, Richard Cantillon and William T. Kendrick, Jr., announced that the bond will be furnished today.

she declared repeatedly when interviewed by reporters.

Fear to the contrary was felt by others, however, knowing the dangerous character of the mountain and the difficulties of conquering the snow-covered trails leading through steep crevasses and down dangerous precipices.

The searchers managed to follow the boy's trail to the 12,000-foot level on the east side, where all marks were lost until yesterday, when Evans and Clyde risked the dangerous ascent on that side.

Mrs. Edward G. Lamel, mother of Howard, who had borne up bravely during the long search for her missing son, was prostrated when she received the news of his death last night at the Lamel home. The boy's father, who had assisted in the search for more than a week and then returned home on Tuesday night, also was overcome when he learned of his son's fate. Arthur Lamel, another son of the couple, remained with the searchers until the end. Relatives of Mrs. Lamel were making arrangements last night for the return of the boy's body to the family home today.

The British War Office has announced that the total strength of the territorial army, exclusive of the permanent staff, is now 6638 officers and 127,157 of other ranks.

WOMAN'S DEATH PROVES PUZZLE

Chemical Analysis Ordered to Test Poison Theory

Mrs. Adelaide E. Show Dies Just After Breakfast

Notations in Purse Give Hint of Divorcee's Suicide

An autopsy failing to show cause of death, Coroner Nance yesterday ordered a chemical analysis to be made in an effort to determine whether poison caused the death yesterday morning of Mrs. Adelaide E. Show, 36 years of age, in a drug store near Pico and Flower streets.

Mrs. Show, who lived at 2956 Edgehill Drive, had eaten breakfast at a cafe near the drug store with her ex-husband, Emmett W. Show, police said. As they arose from their table to walk out Mrs. Show fainted. She was assisted to the drug store by Mr. Show. Before a police ambulance arrived she died.

While detectives who investigated expressed the belief that the woman died of natural causes, notations found in her purse suggest suicide, they said. These notations gave complete directions for the disposal of her home and personal property.

Show, according to the detectives, declared his wife obtained a divorce from him a year ago. He said he had merely made a social visit yesterday, intending after breakfast to accompany her to her place of employment and then leave. Mrs. Show worked as a stenographer for John B. Yokey of 1031 Citizens' Building.

WOMAN'S DEATH PROVES PUZZLE

Chemical Analysis Ordered to Test Poison Theory

Mrs. Adelaide E. Show Dies Just After Breakfast

Notations in Purse Give Hint of Divorcee's Suicide

An autopsy failing to show cause of death, Coroner Nance yesterday ordered a chemical analysis to be made in an effort to determine whether poison caused the death yesterday morning of Mrs. Adelaide E. Show, 36 years of age, in a drug store near Pico and Flower streets.

Mrs. Show, who lived at 2956 Magnolia Drive, had eaten breakfast at a cafe near the drug store with her ex-husband, Emmett W. Show, police said. As they arose from their table to walk out Mrs. Show fainted. She was assisted to the drug store by Mr. Show. Before the ambulance arrived she died.

While detectives who investigated believed the belief that the woman died of natural causes, notations found in her purse suggest suicide, it is said. These notations gave specific directions for the disposal of her home and personal property. Show, according to the detectives, advised his wife obtained a divorce from him a year ago. He said he had merely made a social visit yesterday, intending after breakfast to accompany her to her place of employment and then leave. Mrs. Show worked as a stenographer for Mrs. F. Tozey of 1031 Citizens' Building.

PAVING BIDS OPENED

The Board of Public Works yesterday opened bids for the improvement of streets in the One Hundred and Seventeenth street and Avalon district and for the grading and improvement of Virgil avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Fern street. All bids were referred to the engineer for analysis.

WIVES' OUSTER ON JOBS ASKED

Church Group Wants City to Dismiss Where Couple Both on Pay Roll

On recommendation of the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, a communication from the men's brotherhood of the University Christian Church, demanding that married women on city pay rolls, whose husbands also are city employees be dismissed forthwith, has been referred by the City Council to the City Attorney for a report.

Wife Who Met 'Other Woman' Granted Divorce

Bringing "the other woman" to meet the wife, R. Somers Vreeland introduced them, according to the complaint of Mrs. Leona Vreeland, who yesterday obtained a divorce on grounds of desertion. Superior Judge Rector granted her a decree.

Mrs. Vreeland complained that on several occasions her husband "brought the other woman to his wife" and told the wife that the woman with him was the one he loved. Then, continues her complaint, he left her. The Vreelands parted on their wedding anniversary, February 16, 1929. They were married February 16, 1923.

Judge Rector awarded Mrs. Vreeland $100 a month for the support of herself and adopted child.

LIGHT ORDINANCE VOTED

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance of intention for the lighting of Los Feliz Boulevard between Vermont and Western avenues. It was set for the hearing of protests August 26.

"Black Gold" Discovery Recalled

Industry Has Swift Growth

OIL ANNIVERSARY MARKED

Doheny Revisits First Well Drilled Thirty-seven Years Ago and Sees Newest of His Rigs

The thirty-seventh anniversary of the discovery of oil in the Los Angeles area by Edward L. Doheny and his coworker, Charles A. Canfield, near the vicinity of Beverly and Glendale boulevards in 1893, was celebrated yesterday by Mr. Doheny and Charles O. Canfield, son of the pioneer Canfield, by a visit to the site of the first oil rig erected here and an inspection of Doheny's newest derrick now being constructed at Signal Hill.

Unusual interest surrounded the visit to the oldest well which was drilled at a cost of $50 and after thirty-seven years of service is still pouring out six barrels a day, in contrast with the newest wells at Signal Hill, each producing more than 5000 barrels daily.

USED "ELBOW GREASE"

"I was told that if I did get oil I would be unable to sell it," Doheny said, looking back to the time when with a hand shovel he dug his first shaft to a depth of twelve feet and later, with the aid of a horse and a dirt bucket, sank the shaft to 150 feet.

"After much excitement when the oil was finally found I was able to sell it for $2.50 a barrel to J. D. Hooker & Co., who used it to dip pipes for preservative purposes. When the market outlet proved insufficient I persuaded the Troy Laundry to use oil as fuel in heating water."

OWNS RECORD WELL

Today Doheny is recognized as one of the world's major oil producers and his oil land ownings are scattered over many countries. One of his wells in Mexico holds the world's record for daily flow.

Still taking an active interest in the oil industry, Doheny makes numerous airplane survey flights over his refineries and wells and is one of the Southland's greatest boosters for the airplane industry.

HUSBAND SHEDS TEARS IN SEEKING DIVORCE

Weeping on the witness stand yesterday Napoleon Zillincar told Superior Judge Moncur he regretted asking a divorce from Julia Zillincar, but she had deserted him and refused to return. A pretty daughter, Mildred, 19 years of age, corroborater her father.

The Zillincars married May 30, 1905, and separated March 20, 1927. Judge Moncur granted the husband a divorce and approved of a property settlement.

CONVICTION AFFIRMED

Conviction of John Frahm on a second-degree burglary charge was affirmed yesterday by the District Court of Appeal in a decision written by Justice Gates, pro tem. Frahm was asserted to have stolen ten cases of nails and ten gallons of oil from a warehouse at 6300 Wilmington street, Los Angeles. The case was tried before Superior Judge Fricke.

CIVIL SUIT TO WAIT ON CRIMINAL

Oesterreich Action Put Over Pending Outcome of Woman's Murder Trial

Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, whose husband was slain in the "Attic Man" killing, yesterday was to have defended a civil action in Superior Judge Guerin's court. Because the widow of the slain clothing manufacturer is preparing her defense in a forthcoming murder trial Judge Guerin continued the case until October 22.

The plaintiffs, F. J. Bayh and M. D. Sale, assert in their complaint that Mrs. Oesterreich and real estate agents acting for her induced them to take a lease on a drive-in market at Wilshire Boulevard and Hamilton Drive, Beverly Hills, on false representations. They complain that this caused them to lose $3100.

In her cross-complaint Mrs. Oesterreich and her codefendants seek $3400 from Bayh and Sale, asserting that they closed the market on July 1, 1929, owing back rent.

Burial in East for Ex-Warden

Ward Alanson Garner, who passed away at noon Tuesday at his home, 1613 Curson avenue, was for fourteen years warden of the Indians State prison, and for eight years following occupied the same position in the Connecticut State penitentiary. Twelve years ago he resigned and came to Hollywood.

Mr. Garner had been ill since last fall and his death was not unexpected. He was born in Knox, Ind., October 23, 1868. He leaves a widow, who will take the body east for burial; a brother and other relatives in the East.

MURDER TRIAL'S END NEARS

Arguments in Rogers Case Due to Close Today; Officer's Slayer Pleads Self-defense

Final arguments in the trial of Glenn A. Rogers, accused murderer of James Costello, Los Angeles police officer, will be made in Superior Judge Fricke's court today. With the close of the arguments Judge Fricke will deliver his instructions to the jury and the case will be submitted for verdict.

Nearly the entire session yesterday was given over to arguments presented by Tom Menzies, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case. The prosecutor charged that Rogers shot the officer when he was stopped for questioning because he feared he would be arrested for possession of a revolver and a blackjack.

While testifying in his own behalf Rogers declared that he shot at Costello only after the officer's partner, Elmer Hoffman, opened fire on him.

Investigators assert that when Costello accosted Rogers at Seventh and Lucas streets on the night of March 31, last, the youth pointed a revolver at the officer and ordered him to get back into his automobile. Hoffman, seeing his partner in distress, drew his own gun and opened fire on Rogers, officers assert.

In the shooting affray, Rogers was wounded in the knee and Costello was fatally wounded. Rogers was captured when he sought treatment for the bullet wound.

Today's Bible Text

Wherefor, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.—Phil. ii, 12.

JUST A SET-UP

One ginger-ale producer admits the shipment of 2,000,000 bottles of his wares on a single day. It is predicted that some of this liquid gets into bad company.

SAVING THE SAVED

Walter Damrosch says that radio is saving the American home which the automobile recently threatened with destruction. But the larger question now arises, who will save us from the loud speaker?

INTO THE FIRE

"Imitation is the sincerest flattery." New York merchants have a campaign to make the metropolis an "all-year city," and are inviting Cubans and Floridans to spend the summer there. Judging from recent weather reports, they will be made to feel at home.

UNMARRIED MATRICULATORS

Only five of the 107 outgoing seniors of the Connecticut College for Women plan to marry. Maybe the brand of male nutmegs was not up to the scratch. And yet a crab said that one of our own local universities was a matrimonial agency.

NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY

New Yorkers have been paying $11 a seat to see a theatrical revue that is made up mainly of nude maidens. A policeman coughed up the price the other night and when a dancing girl came out with nothing on but an ostrich feather he pulled the show. There are some things that even a Tammany cop cannot stand.

COUNT CUTELLI

Count Cutelli makes his living by making noises of birds and beasts for the movies. He doubles for animals, sea waves, motor boats, steamboats, airplanes, whistles, hurricanes, trains and other sounds for the talkies. He can crow like a rooster or croak like a frog. He substitutes for both animals and infants and has functioned in such films as "The Love Parade," "The Trespasser," "Condemned" and others, according to the Hollywood News. At least Count Cute can be counted on to stop when he is through.

BUG VS. BUG

The citrus experiment station in connection with the University of California has been combing the earth in the effort to find bugs or parasites that will give combat to the insect pests that prey upon our plant growth. In a recent expedition into Africa some fifteen or more different specimens were obtained, but all but one died in the hazards of the journey to this country. The sole survivor is the lippomastix of Abyssinia. He is an interesting little cuss who seems to have a feud against the mealy bug—which is predatory in these parts. If we could have a lot of these Abyssinian volunteers we could cut a swath in the ranks of this pest. Another raid on Africa is to be made and this time the collectors will give much thought to the transportation of the needed parasites. Even the airplane will be brought into commission. The business of setting bug against bug is quite an industry.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

In the wrangling over the demand of certain Senators that the papers and correspondence preliminary to the naval treaty be submitted to the Senate for inspection Senator Glenn of Illinois declared that he had some confidence in President Hoover. Whereat Senator Hiram Johnson interrupted with: "Confidence nothing! It is a question as to whether you are man enough to stand up and demand your Senatorial rights." Later Senator Reed, who was one of the parties to the treaty, offered to show the documents to individual Senators in confidence, but this would not do for Hiram. He does not care so much for the papers as for embarrassing the President. The rebellious Senators do not want anything in confidence—in fact, they haven't much confidence in themselves or one another. Maybe a good confidence man could do a nice business in Washington.

CALIFORNIA LAND TITLES

For the sake of everyone interested in California real estate, basis of all the Southland's wealth, steps should be taken effectively to prevent the sporadic raids made from time to time by organized claim jumpers on the validity of land titles which date back to the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. If the recent attempt of more than a score of persons to settle on Malibu district land brings public pressure to bear on all such provocative issues, the trouble will have served a good purpose. This dispute should be settled peacefully, but it should also be settled definitely.

Now that the Chamber of Commerce and the legal authorities have taken steps to clear up this matter and the United States Land Office has promised its assistance, the way should be opened to prevent in the future these attempts, whether engineered by interested schemers or bred in the imaginations of rainbow chasers to cloud title deeds by dipping vaguely into the ancient history of the State. While in the past seven years about 800 such filings have been rejected by the United States Land Office, these constant attacks may cause an impression in other sections that our titles here are faulty.

Those laboring under the delusion that through attacks on titles they can obtain valuable California lands for a mere song have only to read the record of the money and time wasted in the past in such abortive proceedings. Talk about frauds perpetrated by Mexican officials prior to the year 1848, when California came under United States jurisdiction, is idle and irrelevant. There must be some limit to the time from which land titles can be validated. That time in the case of California is the year 1851, when the United States Land Office ruled on all land holdings in the newly acquired territory. The old Spanish land grant, invoked in the search for easy money, is as much a legal myth as the fabled castle in Spain.

President Fillmore, in a message to Congress in 1850, referred to "the uncertainty which exists in regard to the validity of land titles in California" and in March, 1851, Congress passed an act providing for a commission to investigate titles and to settle all land claims in California. Under this act all claims not presented to the commissioners within two years after the date of the act are deemed part of the public domain of the United States, which provision sets at rest contentions of fraud committed previous to the year 1853 and lays effectively the myths attaching to the old Mexican land grants.

The act first came before the United States Supreme Court in March, 1855, and was upheld in both the Fremont and Ritchie cases. The court held the object of the act to be "to place the titles of land in California upon a stable foundation and to give the parties who possess them an opportunity of placing them on the records of the county in a manner and form that will prevent future controversy." In the case of Botillier vs. Dominguez the court also ruled "there can be no doubt of the proposition that no title to land in California dependent upon Spanish or Mexican grants can be of any validity which has not been submitted to and confirmed by the board appointed for that purpose in the act of 1851."

These decisions make the records of the United States Land Office in determining titles practically holeproof. They are further strengthened by the Statute of Limitations, Act of March 3, 1891. The applicable portion of this section reads: "Suits by the United States to vacate and annul any patent heretofore issued shall only be brought within five years from the passage of this act and suits to vacate and annul patents heretofore issued shall only be brought within six years after the issuance of such patent."

As for the claims of the squatters on the Rancho Malibu, based on the allegation that the patent did not include a strip of land lying between the exterior boundary lines and the high-tide line of the Pacific Ocean, these assertions also are apparently based on a misconception. The patent from the United States to Matthew Kellar, issued August, 1872, pursuant to a decree of confirmation by the Land Commission, specifically states: "It is further ordered that the claim of the appellant is good and valid and the same is hereby confirmed to him."

In the legal description the deed recites, that the rancho line shall run from stated points near the high-tide line, "thence meandering along the shore of the Pacific Ocean." The error of the homesteaders occurs in their failure to understand the correct meaning of the word "meandering." If all would-be disputers of California land titles would take the advice of well-known and disinterested lawyers—or even themselves make some investigation of the statutes—instead of listening to the promises of easy-money squatter claim organizers, these constantly recurring troubles with a loss of money to all concerned, except possibly the promoters, might be set at rest for all time.

PROBLEM OF LEISURE

As if we had not problems enough in these hectic times, Dr. J. C. Mace Andress of Boston, writing in the Journal of the National Education Association, assures us that one of the knottiest is yet to come. It would be one result of the threatened shortening of the hours of labor in factory and office, he says, apparently taking it for granted that the five-hour day will be well established in the near future. The problem is, what will people do in the leisure time thus gained?

One of the chief functions of the educator, Dr. Andress holds, is to prophesy. In view of the fact that the machine age in which we are living has brought many ungrasped opportunities for cultural improvement, he predicts that unless we learn how to use it properly our added leisure will prove of little use to us. While it may result in the elimination of the fatigue incident to overwork, ample leisure will do us no great good if it is not filled or partly filled with new hours of study. If we use the extra time in rushing about in automobiles and playing gambling games in a frantic effort to entertain ourselves we may not be as healthy mentally as before.

This crossing of the leisure bridge before we come to it may be all very well as a bit of speculative adventure, but in the meantime the world is pretty busy earning and spending and is not worrying very much about the problem of its future idle hours. Veblen, in his interesting volume, "The Theory of the Leisure Class," does not discuss leisure so much as a problem as a fact. He takes the people of leisure as they are. One does not rise from the reading of his book with the idea that the leisure class is any happier than the workers. In fact, as Carlyle stoutly insists, the idle must of necessity be unhappy.

One blessed thing about this country is that its leisure class is very small compared with that of England or other leading nations. It may be a long time before idleness is prevalent here, and when it becomes so it will be time enough to apply Dr. Andress's panacea of special training to enjoy it.

THE GOLDEN RULE

It has remained for Judge Valentine of the Municipal Court of Los Angeles to think of applying the Golden Rule to traffic conditions in this city. He is a superb optimist.

And yet the police department does not seem to be able to whittle down the number of fatalities. The State constabulary has not made much of a dent on conditions on the highway. The speed demons are roaring about taking their toll as usual. And it seems the better the day, the better the deed! The careless driver cannot be awakened. The absent-minded are not yet at home.

Some rule has to be brought into action to secure results and preserve the human race. So the judge would have each autoist drive his car as he would have the others drive their cars.

For thousands of years pulpiteers have thundered the value of this rule in churches. The pews have slept under its benign influence. Some business men still say it is an iridescent dream. Governmental experts do not seem to have much confidence in it as yet as a social specific.

But at last when we are cornered and it is your kindliness or your life, we are beginning to think of the Golden Rule. This is a strange world. The highest ideal of the race is summoned for application in crass traffic. It is the only salvation of humanity.

And yet a large number of drivers do obey the Golden Rule. Occasionally you find some one who stops on a busy street and motions you forward first. Now and then there is some one who does not seem to be a road hog. Every now and then a chauffeur has time enough to be courteous. The famous rule used in our dreams may have little of the gilt left; it may not resemble the original measuring rod of a gentleman and is all twisted out of shape; but when it is found on the highway, it works. And so justice is appealing for mercy. The judge has sent a personal appeal to many through the mails to forget themselves and think of others.

The idea is not half bad. Drive by the Golden Rule and the police will have a vacation!

LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

IT IS an established fact that there are more motor cars per capita in Southern California than in any similar geographical division of the earth. It probably is equally true that there are more radios, vacuum cleaners, electric refrigerators and thoroughly modern rural homes, here where irrigation governed by electric power reaches the great majority of farms and ranches. We can take you to one-acre ranches close to Los Angeles which represent investments of $25,000 and are earning fair dividends on the investment.

Yet in spite of all the play-pretties the high-pressure salesmen sell us, Southern California is exceptionally a land of prosperity. There are many very rich people here and thousands who are moderately rich. And in spite of that it is the most truly democratic land that we have ever found.

All in Same Class

The number of boys and girls who are working their way through our universities frequently amazes us and many of us have had the experience of being waited on at table in a student dining hall by a boy who later, wearing a tux, was introduced to us at a student hop—and then danced away with one of the belles of the party. But it is not only in college circles that we find that democracy. Intellect always has wiped out the lines of caste. When a man shows genius we don't care much what he sprang from or what his color is. A Negro baritone now is being feted in England just because he is a remarkable baritone. But our English cousins would find it a little hard to understand an incident which occurred recently in one of our smaller and classier suburbs. A noted author was giving a little party and one of the invited guests called up the local taxi driver to ask if he could take him to it. "Surely," said the taxi driver—"I'm invited, too."

The taxi driver happened to be an author himself, but poor health had compelled him to take up outdoor work.

People of Quality

Not long ago we received a sparkling contribution from some woman whose name meant nothing to us. A few days later the baker's wagon stopped at our door and while our helpspend was buying our daily bread the driver introduced his wife. Then we learned that she was the author of that contribution—a well-educated, cultivated woman. And yesterday our laundry driver saw us pottering about our garden and mentioned an article we had written about a noted scientist. "He's my nephew," he explained.

In another community we know a cement worker, a good man to build cesspools and things like that, who is a social leader in the musical set. He not only has a splendid, well-trained voice, but is a well-read, clever man, with far more scientific knowledge in his head than many a society-born man can hope to acquire.

All that is as it should be. The people who do the world's work well are entitled to the world's respect. But we doubt that our English cousins could understand it—and are the prouder of this land of true democracy because here it is thoroughly understood. It ought to be, for we see it every day on every hand.

Realities

I used to wish for fame and gold,
For fairy gifts scarce worth the giving.
Now all I ask is work to hold
My heart and make my life worth living.

And I believe all men who dream
Of needless gains and bauble glories,
But children blinded to the gleam
Of worth by vapory fairy stories.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT

The census takers say that so far as they have been able to determine the oldest man in the country is Maj. Barnes of Stamford, Ct., who was born 117 years ago. Aside from the fact that he never died the major attributes his advanced age to the fact that he has always maintained a contented mind and a reasonably active body. Also he smoked and drank when he wanted to, but did nothing to excess.

FAREWELL ROMANCE
By James J. Montague
(The only pirate vessels left on the seas are small Chinese junks)

In the days of the past sailors panted aghast
At the sight of a low rakish sail,
For the pirates of old were delightfully bold
And the theme of full many a tale.
But the seas are now rid of great rascals like Kidd;
The buccaneers' vessels lie sunk,
And the pirate today scours inlet and bay
In a little old twenty-foot junk.

No whiskers has he to float fluffy and free
When the tempest is howling off shore—
No room in his hold for great cargoes of gold—
Bright sovereigns and trim Louis d'Or.
The goods that he steals are the skins of fur seals
Which he stows in a moth-eaten trunk,
For the pirate's estate is so fallen of late
That his business is done in a junk.

It is true, while he loots, that he often times shoots,
And his victims are killed quite as dead
As the lads who were slain on the old Spanish Main
When from savage old Blackbeard they fled.
Yet askance we must view the piratical crew
Whose yen-hoks are lit with a punk,
And who, timid, of heart, seek to ply a great art
In a small, grimy, open-faced junk.

Captain Kidd's is a name with an echoing fame,
The proudest of vessels he sank,
And watched with a smile of ineffable guile
As their occupants stepped off a plank.
But far-fled are the times of such glorious crimes,
Which won gold by the glittering chunk,
There is never a chance for a glint of romance
When a pirate sails forth in a junk!

Hogue Rebuked

PHOENIX (Ariz.) July 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An article appearing in the Los Angeles Times of June 19, 1930, was recently brought to my attention. The writer, Mr. Fred Hogue, devotes almost two columns to telling the world what an apparently over-rated piece of scenery is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona. He makes his criticism a very personal matter; says that the scenery awakened in him no feeling of awe, characterizes the canyon as a "big ditch" and states that no artist could ever successfully paint a mere "hole in the ground." He attributes this failure to successfully portray its wonders on canvas to the fact that the whole thing is monotonous and the broken sections are not artistic in composition.

Arizona does not try to exploit the Grand Canyon as purely an Arizona possession. This glorious wonder is accredited to the Southwest and it would seem to me that any attempt to belittle it would detract from the attractiveness of the Southwest as a whole. I do not know Mr. Hogue, but it would seem to me the better part of wisdom to have a strict censorship put upon such articles, which may be assumed to flow from the pen of one whose digestive apparatus might have been slightly out of order on the day he received his impressions of the scenic wonder which has overwhelmed with awe some of the greatest artists and critics of the world.

"A big ditch" truly, and "a hole in the ground," but it is also the handiwork of God which defies comparison with any man-made wonder in the world. Let us invite the world to come and view it in the full conviction that it will gain a lasting impression of its beauty and immensity, rather than warn people to stay away because one critic failed to grasp the beauty of this marvelous scenic wonder. As citizens of the great Southwest, let us join together in lauding the beauties which nature has scattered with a lavish hand throughout this part of the land.

JOHN C. PHILLIPS,
Governor of Arizona.

Inconsistent

AGURA (Cal.) July 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is very strange that the Hearst papers and other papers all over this country support the prohibition of Morphia and its derivatives while at the same time, and often in the same issue, they encourage the violation of the Eighteenth Amendment and condemn, criticise and obstruct every attempt to enforce it.

Alcohol is a habit-forming beverage. Its free use disturbs society and the peace of the home. Its supporters dictate our political conventions as in the State of Washington, dictating nominations, polluting our Statecraft at its source and corrupting our legislative and Congressional bodies and even dictating our political conventions with "free whisky." Morphia addicts are never accused of such actions.

The Hearst papers today criticise and condemn the Eighteenth Amendment because of the drastic severity of its penalties, while on another page they defend the Harrison narcotic law, which carries penalties at least ten times more drastic and severe.

There is considerable hypocrisy in the claim that one opposes the Eighteenth Amendment because it infringes on personal liberty and sneer, "It cannot be enforced," while they support the Harrison Drug Act, which does the same thing in the same way and for violation of which there are more men in jail.

The Welfare Society of Boston, where no attempt is made to enforce the law, during the past three years intemperance has figured in only 8 per cent of the cases handled by this society whereas before prohibition it figured in 25 per cent of the cases.

WHERE CAN I LEARN
Piano?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Piano accompanists who can transpose are always in demand and transposing is taught free at the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, on Friday evening. The work of this class also includes the study of Bach, Beethoven, Haydn and Mozart, as well as velocity and octave studies.

There are beginners' classes on Monday and Wednesday, where first lessons are given in groups on portable keyboards. After this stage come two intermediate classes, on Tuesday and Thursday, where students go to the piano and play and receive the criticism of accomplished music teachers. All practice must be done away from the school, but often the teachers know of private homes where practicing can be done for about 25 cents an hour. Of course, the more practice, the quicker progress.

All classes are free to people of all ages. The hours are 7 to 9. The room is No. 357 on the third floor of the Auditorium Building, facing Washington Boulevard.

MISPLACED CHIVALRY

BY BAILEY MILLARD

"Well," said the old motorist, as he knocked the ashes out of his pipe, "this is sure getting to be a fearsome age. We're all afraid of one another. And there isn't half as much reason for it as there was in the brave old feudal times when a man was likely to get a rapier thrust through him at the next turn and any woman was fair game. Plenty of highwaymen in those days, but cash wasn't carried in armored cars and a fellow didn't have to pull up at a crossroad and look up and down to see if some reckless driver wasn't ready to smash into him.

"Yes, we're all a lot of 'fraid cats. Women are the worst. A stranger hesitates to be polite to them nowadays—afraid they'll think he has some evil designs or other. When automobiles first began to run about a lady would be glad to have you give her a lift even if she'd never laid eyes on you before. Today you'd hardly dare to offer her a ride. She'd take your little piece of well-meant gallantry as an insult or an attempt to abduct her.

"But though I knew this well enough, I did manage to lay myself wide open to the scorn of a number of women in just that way. It happened in Eagle Rock. I had waited with a bunch of women at a car stop for what seemed to me an hour for a trolley car, but there was a tie-up somewhere on the line and none hove in sight. With my patience exhausted, I walked back home, five blocks, got into my old bus and started for downtown.

"When opposite the car stop where I had left the wearily waiting women I paused and made bold to sing out: 'Ladies, if some of you want a ride down the line I'll gladly take you.'

"Silence. Not a nod, not a smile. The whole bunch turned and looked up the track for the car that wasn't in sight.

"'All right,' I said, as pleasant as pie, though with a snubbed feeling, as I drove ahead. 'Maybe you're in no hurry.'

"Four blocks down the street there stood another bunch, this time five elderly women. They were all standing and they looked tired. Again I ventured to do a bit of gallantry. As they were all advanced in years and there were so many of them, I thought there was no reason for them to suspect me of heinous designs. But it immediately became evident that they did, for, like the other bunch, they all turned away and didn't make the slightest acknowledgment of my perfectly innocent offer.

"'Excuse me, ladies,' I remarked, 'but I thought you'd remember there's safety in numbers, to say nothing of . . .'

I didn't quite have the nerve to say 'age,' but perhaps they understood. As for me, I hit it up for town with most ungallant thoughts in my head.

"'Never again,' I muttered to myself. 'They might all be marooned in a flooded street and the water rising, and I'd leave them there to their fate. Hereafter I'm the kind of a Samaritan that passes by on the other side. I'm going to be like the man who was asked, "Where is your chivalry?" and who replied, "Ain't got none. I traded it in on a Buick."'

THE DOLLAR BOOK

"A dillar, a dollar, a 10 o'clock scholar," is apt to be the slogan of the coming book season, when literature is to be sold for the round and handy sum of one dollar over the counters of every kind of and variety of store and it becomes the fashion to include a book purchase in the shopping tour. "Make books as easy to buy as candy, cigars, drugs, cosmetics and bargain gifts," say the advocates of the dollar book. "But this makes books merchandise instead of literature," contend opponents of the plan. "A vast new market will be opened up by the cheaper book," say the first sellers, "which will make of us a reading nation. People will buy and discard books as they now buy magazines and every writer will have an enormously increased following." "The true book lover buys 'to have and to hold' and rereads his treasured volumes which he selects with discrimination. It is the natural thing to buy books in book stores, where selection is aided."

So goes the argument pro and con in the book price war. Meantime "remainders" and reprints and oversupply are unsolved problems and a serious situation has arisen because prolific writers insist on pushing pens across reams of paper, zealous publishers continue to stage publicity programs for best sellers and the middle man bookstore keeper is ground between the millstones of the best sellers dead in three weeks and the bargain-hunting public which has gone canny on next month's price and excellent reprints. However, now comes the census and the estimater who calculates that the per capita book expenditure should run to $1.50, which means that you and I may buy one book and go fifty-fifty on book number 2.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

Intelligence tests as practiced in many schools and colleges today are not only stupid and unintelligent, but are even disastrous, according to Joy Elmer Morgan, lecturer and editor of the National Educational Association Journal. He says that Lincoln would have failed in a "Binet-Simon" test which brings out to advantage the smart-Aleck superficial quickness, but takes no account of the deliberate and thorough thinker, whose ability to weigh and consider is the basis of his success. Mr. Morgan adds that the business of the college is to raise the level of the masses, not to establish an intellectual autocracy selected by "intelligence tests."

I WALKED BY A RICH MAN'S GARDEN

I walked by a rich man's garden,
And the green lawn stretching there,
And the hedge and the blooming roses,
And the wild flowers everywhere.
They are mine—I said of the roses—
He planted and went away;
They are mine—for I see them oftenest,
Whenever I pass that way.

The odor of orange blossoms
And the scent of the lilac tree—
In a beautiful dream of fragrance
Come over the hedge to me.
It cost me never a penny,
His money has done it all—
And I'm sure that I thank him daily
For the rose on the garden wall.

For the pine tree at the entrance
And the brook and the little dell,
Yes, they are his in a measure—
But then, they are mine as well.
I'm glad that he had the fancy
To plant and to water and care,
For it's mine, though he may not know it,
The beauty—that's growing there.

So whenever I pass his garden,
I pause for a little spell,
For mine and his are the roses—
But then they are God's as well.

BRILLIANT WOMEN

Whatever the masculine attitude toward her, woman (of the fourteenth century) was playing a widening social role. She was beginning to look askance at the fireside and family wash, and to gaze beyond the thresholds of her home. In all of which may be seen a sixteenth-century version of women's rights. It was a century of brilliant women; a mere list of their names is a bit daunting: Marguerite d'Angoulême, Vittoria Colonna, Anne Boleyn, Catherine De Médici, Diane De Poitiers, Sir Thomas More's daughter, Jeanne of Arc and, a little later, Elizabeth, Mary Stuart and others.—[From "Portraits of Italy, Man of the Renaissance," by Samuel Putnam.

Dandruff in 3 days

Dandruff, whether dry or oily, should always be regarded as dangerous. Unchecked, it may lead to serious scalp infection, falling hair, and even baldness.

Dandruff is a condition brought about by over-activity of the sebaceous or fat glands which expel white globules called sebum. Many dermatologists assert that this over-activity is a result of infection.

Actual tests by thousands of men and women show that full strength Listerine used as a part of the regular shampoo, or independent of it, is highly successful in getting rid of loose dandruff and improving the condition of the scalp. In hundreds of cases, one or two treatments were found sufficient. In other cases three days were required. And in stubborn cases, ten days or more.

You simply douse Listerine on the scalp and massage vigorously till the entire scalp tingles. The massage is important as it increases the circulation of blood to the hair roots.

Listerine dissolves and removes the thick, greasy, repellent scales known as dandruff. It stimulates the skin around the hair and soothes and cools the entire scalp. Moreover when infection is present it instantly combats it. For Listerine, as you know, is a marvelous germicide and antiseptic.* (See below.) Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest time accurately recorded by science).

State Rail Board Asks for Briefs in Case

Four Witnesses Called at Hearing's Wind-up

Features on Overhead of Corporation Aired

Loose ends of the State Railroad Commission's investigation into the rates, rules and practices of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation were brought together yesterday, after which the case was ordered submitted upon briefs to be filed within the next two weeks.

Four witnesses were summoned to clear up phases of their testimony. They were J. A. Speice, assistant engineer for the commission; A. J. Luick, Chicago public utility expert; R. A. Wehe, assistant engineer for the commission, and F. E. Dufour, valuation engineer for the commission.

Speice explained features of his analysis of overhead charges. Luick testified as to the earnings of the company, saying that since 1913, in only one year, 1929, did the company earn more than 8 per cent on the capital investment in its gas properties. Wehe elaborated previous testimony as to depreciation charges. Dufour gave technical testimony as to the valuation of the properties.

The hearing has been in progress about a month. It was called in an investigation to determine whether the company is earning more than 7 per cent to 7.5 per cent on its gas property investment.

SCATTERGOOD TRACES CITY POWER DEVELOPMENT

E. F. Scattergood, chief engineer of the city's Bureau of Light, yesterday outlined the city's entry into the power development business, at the hearing of the city's suit to enjoin the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation from using certain streets to distribute power other than lighting. The hearings are before Superior Judge Collier.

Under examination of S. B. Robinson, special counsel for the city, Scattergood traced the city's power business origin as part of the development of the Aqueduct from Owens Valley. He traced the various bond issues for the power development, and testified as to negotiations between the city and private companies relative to the disposal of the city's power. He was still on the witness stand at adjournment.

Lee Moselle, formerly of the business office of the Bureau of Power and Light, testified yesterday. He was cross-examined by Garrett McEnerney of the company's array of counsel, as to the competitive practices between the city and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation during the early period of the city's power business. The testimony dealth chiefly with a great mass of records assembled.

Attorneys Paul Overton, Samuel Poorman, Jr., and Alfred Sutro are associated with McEnerney. For the city with Robinson appear Deputy City Attorneys Cooper and Fox.

BROTHER OF ACTRESSES GETS YEAR

Noonan Given Lighter Sentence in Return for Burglary Information

Jack Noonan, brother of two screen actresses, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Fulkerth to serve one year in the County Jail on his plea of guilty of receiving stolen property. In addition, Noonan is placed on five years' probation. A condition upon which probation was granted was that he reveal to the Sheriff certain information he is asserted to have concerning the burglary of the apartment of Ted Lewis, orchestra leader.

Noonan's famous sisters are Sally O'Neill and Molly O'Day. The imprisonment decreed yesterday is one-seventh of that imposed previously by Superior Judge Schauer, before whom Noonan once pleaded guilty to the same charge. Judge Schauer sentenced Noonan to serve seven years in Folsom prison, refusing him probation because of a prior conviction. In 1923, Noonan was convicted of forgery, and was given probation.

After Judge Schauer sentenced him, Noonan obtained a new trial by representing that he had pleaded guilty without knowledge of his legal rights. He went to trial before Judge Fulkerth, pleading not guilty to charges of burglary and of receiving stolen property. This trial was ended by his suddenly pleading guilty to the receiving charge.

Judge Fulkerth granted probation, holding that the law of prior conviction did not apply in Noonan's case because the law was passed in 1925, two years after his first conviction.

Japanese Wed in Romance of Trojan Campus

A Japanese romance of the campus of the University of Southern California was consummated last night in the wedding of Masao Dodo, Japanese newspaper man, and Miss Ruth Shizuko Komuro, daughter of Rev. Tokuji Komuro. The marriage was performed by the bride's father, assisted by Rev. Mr. Kamashima, pastor of the Japanese Methodist Episcopal Church, at 3500 South Normandie avenue.

The bride was attended by former classmates and was dressed in white. She is 22 years of age and graduated from the University of Southern California last year. The bridegroom is English editor of the Japanese Daily News, published in Los Angeles. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Young Men's Christian Association Hall, 204 East First street.

Following a honeymoon trip along the northern coast the couple will live at 1272 West Thirty-fifth Place.

CHILD PLEADS HER OWN CASE IN COURT

Damages Asked Mrs. L. W. Leech and Daughter Mornazell

Nine-year-old Mornazell Leech appeared in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday to show the jury her scars and explain how she must walk the rest of her life with a slight limp on account of injuries she is asserted to have received in an automobile accident at Normandie and Manchester avenues March 20, last.

The girl's mother, Mrs. L. W. Leech, sued M. E. Bennett, apartment-house owner, for $57,500 damages. The car was driven by J. W. Burton. Bennett denied he was responsible for the accident, and said the child's injuries are not as serious as claimed. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys Kemper Campbell and Charles L. Nichols.

BOTH SIDES IGNORE SUIT FOR MILLION

'Tarzan' Author Absent as Case is Called in Court; Plaintiff Also Missing

Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of the Tarzan stories, failed to appear yesterday in Superior Judge Guerin's court to defend a suit brought by William S. Campbell, agent, for a commission on the filming of the novelist's "Tarzan of the Golden Lion." Campbell also failed to put in appearance. With neither side represented, Judge Guerin ordered the case off of the calendar.

Campbell asserted that the novelist had agreed to pay him 50 per cent of the proceeds if he succeeded in placing the story with a motion picture concern and that Burroughs failed to keep his agreement after F.B.O. studios had purchased the story. Asserting that he handled the placing of the story Campbell added that the transaction netted Burroughs approximately $1,000,000.

It was explained that Campbell's attorney, Frank S. Adams, was prevented from appearing in court yesterday by injuries received in a traffic accident three months ago.

Former Espee Agent Criticises New Tariff Law

Dr. C. N. Thomas of Sanis Monica, former colonizing and industrial agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of Mexico, who in the last eighteen months has talked on Mexico before 100,000 high-school and college students in California, will be the chief speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Biltmore tomorrow.

Dr. Thomas yesterday commented on the hardships that will result from the high duties imposed by the new tariff laws on the importation of winter vegetables into California and the United States. Inevitably, he said, consumers will have to pay higher prices and the effect will be widespread in California, which virtually has provided all the money and much of the agricultural machinery used for the development of the winter vegetable industry in Sinaloa and Sonora.

At a beautifully planned bridge-luncheon given in honor of Miss Ann Fontron by Mrs. James Wheeler Lloyd, the engagement of the honor guest to William E. Forbes was formally announced. The wedding is scheduled for early September, although the date has not yet been definitely decided upon.

Miss Fontron attended Marlborough School and later was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles, where she is a prominent member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Mr. Forbes also attended University of California at Los Angeles, class of 1929, and is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

Those included in the charmingly appointed luncheon party were Mrs. Fred Moyer Jordon, Mrs. F. M. Slade, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. R. W. Draper, Mrs. John William Aicher, Mrs. William Holcombe, Miss Elizabeth Fontron, Miss Ruth McFarland, Miss Betty Heinzeman, Miss Oakalla Bellis, Miss Kate Frost, Miss Clara Frost, Miss Dorothy Grannis, Miss Kay Irving, Miss Fontron and the hostess.

Home With Babe

Mrs. Walter Weaver Candy, Jr., (Kate Winnett,) with her small son, Walter Weaver Candy III, arrived from St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday morning and are guests at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Winnett of San Vicente Boulevard, Santa Monica. Mr. Candy will join his family here later in the season to take them back to their eastern home.

Invitations Issued

Invitations are being issued by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Everett Polset of 1279½ Third avenue for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Gladys Sterling Polset, to Murl Ronald Cook, the ceremony to take place Sunday afternoon the 27th inst., in Immanuel Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock.

Wedding Data

Mr. and Mrs. P. X. Schreiner are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Marguerite Marie Schreiner, to Joseph Nenzell, the ceremony to take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in St. Gregory's Church.

Miss Elizabeth Schreiner will assist her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Stevenson of Seattle will be bridesmaid. Roy Donley will serve as best man and Ernest Pimphrey of Texarkana, Tex., will usher.

Rustemeyer-Long

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Theresia Rustemeyer, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Rustemeyer, to Joseph A. Long, Monday evening, June 23, in Westwood Community Chapel with Rev. Samuel Ramsey officiating.

The bride wore cream satin and carried brides roses and orchids, while Miss Marion Long, maid of honor, Miss Genevieve Molony and Mrs. Charleson Gray (Lillian Pearson) were frocks of net in varying shades of green and carried old-fashioned bouquets of daisies.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Long were prominent in campus circles at U.C.L.A., the former affiliated with Delta Upsilon Fraternity while the latter is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority. After a honeymoon in the north they will return to make their home in Westwood.

Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Weldon of North Las Palmas street are entertaining as their house guest Mr. T. L. Drumpelman of New Rochelle, N. Y., who is planning an extended sojourn in the Southland. Mrs. Weldon has just returned from an eastern trip and brought her friend west with her.

August 1 Dr. and Mrs. Henry Zerfing of New Brunswick, N. J., will arrive in Los Angeles and numerous motor trips, mountain outings and week-end parties to the beaches are being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Weldon for their house guests.

To Canada

Miss Emma A. Bowers, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bowers, left with a group of friends for Montreal, to sail on the Duchess of Bedford for a three-months trip abroad. Dr. Frederick Roman will meet the party in London and personally conduct the tour. Miss Bowers, recently of University of California at Los Angeles, is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota musical sorority, and among the farewell courtesies was a bridge party given by her sister, Mrs. R. W. Edwards, at her home.

Crain-Benedict

Another attractive wedding of recent date was celebrated in the First Methodist Church Chapel when Miss Mittie Crain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crain, 1370 Wesley avenue, became the bride of Walter Leslie Benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Benedict, 400 Ninita Parkway. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with yoke and sleeves of lace, a veil of rose pointe lace with a wreath of orange blossoms holding the cap in place. She carried a bouquet of orchids, gardenias and lillies of the valley. Miss Wurter Settle, maid of honor, was gowned in pink net with a tulle hat to match carried pink rosebuds. The bridesmaids, Miss Signa Settle, Miss Fern Flood, Miss Jane Arnold, Miss Marion Collins, Miss Linadell Tillman and Miss Margaret Aldredge, wore organdie frocks of various shades with hats to match and carried bouquets of blue delphinium and gladioli. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Harold Benedict was best man and Theodore Davis, Henry Rohr, Berwyn Riske, Wilmer Morby, Norman Pixley, Robert Hall and David Bryant ushered.

A reception followed the ceremony in the gold room of the Maryland Hotel.

Glendale Wedding

The First Lutheran Church of Glendale was the setting Wednesday evening for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Emelia Gutekunst to Winton M. Roche, Rev. Paul Luther Miller officiating at the service at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of 100 guests.

The bride wore ivory satin, her veil held by clusters of orange blossoms at either side, and she carried roses and valley lilies, while Mrs. R. M. Gutekunst, matron of honor, wore pale blue chiffon and carried rose sweet peas. Miss Dorothy Hackney and Mrs. M. A. Wingo in frocks of yellow and apple green chiffon, respectively, carried flame and orange sweet peas. R. H. Gunekunst served as best man and M. A. Wingo and Murray Lubin ushered.

Mrs. Roche has lived in Glendale for ten years and was graduated from Glendale High, while Mr. Roche, son of the late Senator John D. Roche of Indiana, attended University of California at Berkeley and is a Phi Kappa Phi member. After a motor honeymoon Mr. and and Mrs. Roche will live in Glendale.

National Convention

The eleventh annual convention of Sigma Tau Psi Sorority was held recently with the Langham Hotel as headquarters. Mrs. K. J. Koebig, 2322 Buckingham Road, grand president, was in charge of the business meetings, other convention activities were handled by Mrs. Clinton Secum, Mrs. L. S. Rounsavelle, Mrs. Ernest Becher, Jr., and Mrs. G. S. Follansbee, Jr.

Texas Girl Weds Here

Miss Ina Sires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Sires of Lamesa, Tex., recently became the bride of Harry S. Eggeling at the home of Maj. and Mrs. W. B. H. Birdwood, 2724 Palm Grove avenue, with Rev. C. Sidney Maddox officiating. Miss Lucy Gardner was the only attendant of the bride and Maj. Birdwood served the bridegroom as best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the home following the ceremony.

Maj. Birdwood is late of the Royal Horse Guards, London, and also served at flight officer of the Royal Air Force.

He is the son of Sir William Reddel Birdwood, field marshal of the British Army of India.

Sorority Function

An informal party for rushees was given by the Ganma Chapter of Beta Delta Gamma recently at the home of Miss Evelyn Moore, 422 North Oxford avenue. Those present included two guests of the sorority, Miss Catherine Collins and Miss Darleen Tague and the members, Miss Lucille Launder, Miss Mary Caffray, Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick, Miss Gerrie Bouche and Miss Lois Wills.

Will Enter University

Following her graduation at Erasmus High School in New York City, Miss Georgianna C. Filer will make her permanent home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marken at the Str Frances Drake. Miss Filer will enter the University of California at Los Angeles in the fall.

DEBUTANTE SKILLED AS RIDER

She Also Excels in Other Sports

[Photo, Ambassador]
Miss Barbara McCartney

AMONG the attractive members of the debutante set who are much interested in out-of-door sports are Miss Kathleen and Barbara McCartney, charming daughters of Mrs. Burrall O. Raulston of Hudson avenue.

Miss Barbara McCartney, who is an active member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority at University of Southern California, is an expert equestrienne. She also is an unusually clever navigator. She plays tennis and is an expert swimmer. Miss McCartney has entries in the Beverly Hills horse show this week and with her sister won several blue ribbons and cups at the Junior League horse show at the Flintridge Riding Club last month.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

SWOLLEN NECK GLANDS

Whenever you have a cold or acute tonsilitis, you probably have noticed a number of hard small lumps on both sides of the neck or under the jaw. These are swollen lymph glands of which there are 600 or 700 in various parts of the boy. The largest groups of these glands are in the neck, upper chest, in the axillas under the arms and in the groins. These glands act as filter and storage stations of the lymphatic vessels and they are frequently a battleground, where the white blood corpuscles fight disease germs and toxins.

The lymphatic circulation really is a drainage or sewage system which takes care of a large part of the fluid coming from the cells which must be purified before returning to the general blood stream.

Whenever one suffers from an infection, the lymphatic system must work overtime to get rid of the toxins and offending bacteria. This is the reason the lymph glands so often become inflamed and swollen during an acute crisis of a disease of the head and throat or other parts drained by the lymphatics. The glands in the neck enlarge rapidly during acute disorders and more slowly with chronic disorders, such as catarrh and tuberculosis.

Children especially are susceptible to enlarged lymph glands because they more often are affected by acute infectious disorders. The lymph glands become enlarged in the performance of their normal functions of filtering out toxins and bacteria and preventing them from entering the blood stream. These cases of enlarged lymph glands often are diagnosed as tubercular glands and liable to be operated on and the worst of the enlarged glands removed.

I do not believe these glands ever should be removed except as a last resort. To take out only a single lymph gland throws an additional burden on the remainder of the lymphatic system which must result in further trouble in the future. When the glands are removed and examined they seldom are found to contain tubercular bacilli.

It does not matter whether these glands are tubercular or not, it is merely a quarrel over names, and places too much attention on a dreaded disease, when the fact is there must be a definite cause of some infection in an adjacent region which is forcing the glands to enlarge. The cause must be searched for and removed, and the swollen glands then will subside as soon as they have completed their work of elimination.

After the infection has been cleared up the glands always can be made to disgorge their contents by such sensible treatment as fasting and dieting and the use of hot applications to the affected parts. An operation on the glands is not necessary to do this.

By far the greatest number of cases of swollen glands in the neck automatically would become well just by curing the acute and chronic nasal and throat catarrh which is usually present. The dieting program which I have so often outlined for catarrh, will be found to be beneficial in practically every case of swollen neck glands.

If the glands are enlarged because of tubercular infection, then the regime I have outlined for tuberculosis should be used. But always, in treating swollen glands, treat the real cause of the trouble and not the effects.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Clean Work

If you want to keep crocheting or tatting particularly clean while working on it, always wash your hands before you start to work, dry well and dust with white talcum powder. It will mean cleaner results.

Preservation of the Wringer

When the washing is over, unscrew the wringing machine until the rollers are open wide enough to slip two thin pieces of wood between them to allow air to pass through freely. This will preserve the wringer wonderfully.

A Mustard Foot Bath

When preparing a mustard foot bath, be sure to dissolve the mustard in cold water first. Then add it to the hot water. If just dumped in, the mustard is very apt to stick to the skin and cause a burn or blister.

A Disinfectant

A few drops of a strong disinfectant placed in the garbage pail every few days during the summer weather will aid greatly in keeping it smelling sweet and will also keep away prowling cats and dogs.

The precaution you observe in making hot biscuits is the one observed in roasting HILLS BROS COFFEE

You don t throw all the ingredients in the bowl at once. You combine them a little at a time and make a perfect, spongy dough. Hills Bros. roast their coffee by a continuous process—a few pounds at a time—never in bulk, and develop a flavor such as no other coffee has.

Fresh from the original vacuum pack. Easily opened with the key. Look for the Arab on the can.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

FARMER BROWN'S BOY HEARS A GUN

The killer has a heart of steel;
No pity does he ever feel.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy had had a great thrill. When Egret the Great White Heron and the three white Little Blue Herons took to their wings and flew away from the Smiling Pool over to the Big River, Farmer Brown's Boy had been near enough to see them. He had rubbed his eyes. In fact, he rubbed them twice. "Did I, or didn't I?" said he to no one at all, for there was no one there to talk to.

He watched the four Herons until they had disappeared behind the trees along the bank of the Big River. He guessed just where they were going. Then he started in that direction. When he got near to the bank of the Big River, opposite the place where he thought he would find the Herons, he crawled, being almost flat on his stomach. You see, he didn't want to be seen. At last he was where he could peep over the edge of the bank. At first he experienced great disappointment. He could not see those Herons. But, at last, farther down along the shore, he saw something white. He just crept back and then circled around so as to reach the bank opposite that point.

This time when he peeped over the bank his heart fairly leaped with joy. He could plainly see all four Herons standing out in the growing wild rice. "One of those is an Egret," said Farmer Brown's Boy to himself. "Yes, sir, the biggest one is an Egret! I can't be sure, but I think those others are young Little Blue Herons. I've read about these White Herons, but I never expected to see any up here."

Farmer Brown's Boy remained watching those Herons just as long as he could. Then he had to get back home to do his chores. Such an excited boy as he was when he told Farmer Brown and Mother Brown about those four big white birds. He could talk of nothing else. "It would be just like some killer with a terrible gun to try to shoot one of those birds," said he. "The more rare and the more beautiful a bird is, the more some people want to kill it. I don't understand that at all. I certainly wouldn't for the world have anything happen to those birds."

"I hope he wasn't shooting at those herons," muttered Farmer Brown's Boy

The next morning Farmer Brown's Boy was at work down in the cornfield. He was thinking about those Herons and hoping that he would find time to slip over to the Smiling Pool, or the Big River, to look for them. Suddenly he heard the bang of a terrible gun in the distance. The sound seemed to come from the Big River. Farmer Brown's Boy dropped his hoe and you should have seen him run! Straight across the Green Meadows he ran. In the distance he saw a man with a gun running up along the bank. Then he disappeared. When Farmer Brown's Boy reached the bank of the Big River, he saw the man in a boat out in the middle. It was too far for him to see who it was.

"I hope he wasn't shooting at those Herons," muttered Farmer Brown's Boy, as he began to anxiously search the shore with his keen eyes. At first he saw nothing out of the way. Then he saw a white feather floating in the water. Patiently and anxiously he then searched through the growing wild rice and so at last he discovered a beautiful white bird with wonderful plumes that was trying to hide. At a glance Farmer Brown's Boy saw that that bird had been shot and that one wing had been badly hurt.

"You poor, poor thing!" said Farmer Brown's Boy. "You poor, poor thing!"

WORLD TO HEAR LINDBERGH TALK

Will Carry Eagle's Voice Around Globe

Least, on August 8, Next, to be Given by KHJ

KHJ Slated for Welcome into Don Lee Chain

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 6:30 p.m. Fred Hogue, editorial writer, on "When the Waters Receded." World Wide News 11:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Radio has become a clearinghouse for catastrophies. A man flashes into existence, and immediately the world hails him on the air. Next Friday, August 8, next, from 6:15 p.m. (Pacific standard time) Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will broadcast a talk on "International Relations" which will circumnavigate the globe.

The feature will be not only a talk by the Lone Eagle, whose solo flights have exceeded all previous records of aviation devoid of human, but also will prove a remarkable test on what may be termed "hearing the world by radio." Although will speak from WABC, New York, the key station of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and will be heard locally over KHJ. Flying America, perhaps, will receive the greatest thrill through the broadcast. As a result of Lindbergh's achievements large numbers of youngsters have engaged in model airplane and have entered contests, such as those of the Times-Playground Aircraft Meet. In fact, he is held up as a hero of the decade. The old Eagle will undoubtedly also be found listening to the receiver to hear the voice which is regarded by many as the present-day model of American citizenship.

ON TODAY'S DIAL

At 6:30 p.m. will bring a program of foot-stepping dance music by a latter of comedy patter. Gene Byrnes and Lindsay Sharpe. For an after-dinner treat it will be worth dialing at 6 o'clock the Merrymakers, who, we hear, promise a hot program a flock of male quartets, including Carr, Helen Bliss, Al Bradley, Ray Vincent with his own orchestra, "When the Bloom Is on the Sage." From 7 to 8 p.m. Abe Paige and his concert orchestra will offer light classic and popular compositions. At 9:30 p.m. the Singing Violins, under the direction of Christian Sprotte, will provide forty minutes of concert music. The program also will serve as the initiation KFRK of the Southern Division into the Don Lee chain. Besides KHJ will put on a "listen-something extra" for the new member of their family—so tune in.

BUSINESS FEATURE

Will offer a tidbit for the business man at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Merle Thorpe, editor of The Nation's Business, is to deliver a talk on "Advertising's Present Opportunities."

portunity." Dance music by the Hilo Hawaiian Orchestra, selections from American composers and Rachmaninoff's works will be heard at 6 p.m. over the NBC chain. Shilkret's Orchestra and the Men About Town Trio will complete the program. A high light of the concert will be the first performance of "Evolution." At 7:45 this evening the Standard Symphony Hour will feature music of foreign lands. Michel Piastro is to wield the baton and the program will include several violin solos by him. Saint-Saens's "Suite Algerienne," Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite No. 1" and Rossini's "William Tell Overture" will be included.

KNX at 8:15 o'clock this morning will broadcast the Hollywood Breakfast Club frolic, where a number of stars of the stage and screen will be guests of honor. Elsie Ferguson, Tom Douglas and Lionel Belmore are to be among them. Cora Bird, soprano of the air; Nick Moro and Frances in woppish musical fancies and Tom Kelly, described as the "Man With the Green Gloves," will try to bid for your dial. At 6:30 p.m. Horse Fly and His Wranglers"—the singing cowboys—are to make their last appearance this week. If you like them let KNX know—they may become a feature. At 8:30 tonight Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, will be heard with the KNX Trio in thirty minutes of songs, while the Nomads will take listeners-in to India at 9 o'clock.

GARLAND GREETING

KFWB at 8 this morning is to present the Los Angeles Breakfast Club superfrolic as a civic testimonial to the return of William May Garland, who will report on his European endeavors toward the 1932 Olympic Games. "Mountain Trout and Virginia Ham" are on the menu—but not on the air. Plenty of excellent entertainment is promised, along with Gus Arnheim and his Cocoanut Grove Orchestra. "The Way of All Men," at 7:30 this evening, will include dramatizations of scenes of forthcoming screen productions with a continuity built around musical hits.

KMPC will offer John P. Groen and his vibraphone playing "Monastery Bells" and other selections at 8 tonight, while 8:15 will find Simmy and Mike debating from their Arkansas country store. The Beverly Hill Billies will sing and play from 10 to 11 p.m.

KTM says "this is a good stunt in radio and should provide good entertainment." It is Frankie of the team of Frankie and Johnnie, leaving on a trip around the world by radio; 10:30 p.m. is the time.

The Times Forum yesterday, over KHJ, carried as its theme "Friendship." Ray Winters, baritone, was guest artist. The spirit of friendship was carried out to such a degree that Jack Tucker of Arkansas renewed an old-time friendship with Winters, offering a solo and singing a duet with Winters. Lionel Spencer, baritone, sang "On the Road to Mandalay."

YOUNG GOES NORTH FOR COUNCIL MEETING

Gov. Young left Los Angeles last night for Sacramento to attend a meeting of the Governor's council today and to speak at the opening session of the California State Postmasters' convention at Oakland tomorrow.

The Governor will return here the 25th inst. to resume his Southern California campaign for renomination in the August primary.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

APRICOT PARISIAN CAKE

One-half cupful of butter, four egg yolks, three cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of almond extract, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of milk, the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs. Cream the butter, and three-fourths of a cupful of the sugar, beat the yolks of the eggs until light and creamy and add the other three-fourths of the cup of sugar, combine the two mixtures, and beat well. Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt four times, and add the flour to the butter mixture alternately with the milk, beating well. Add the extract, and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in two oiled and floured layer cake tins, in a moderate oven, and when cool, fill with the following filling:

APRICOT FILLING

Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatine in one-fourth of a cupful of apricot juice, or syrup, and add to it one cupful of cooked apricot pulp that has been pressed through a fine sieve, allow this to heat in a double-boiler until the gelatine is dissolved. Allow the mixture to cool, spread it over one layer of the cake, then cover with whipped cream, place the other layer over it, spread the top layer with whipped cream, and decorate the top with halves of cooked apricots.

SPANISH CHICKEN PIE

Cut a young chicken into eight pieces, and remove all the fat, place the fat in a saute pan and melt, place the chicken in a satuce pan, cover with boiling water, and simmer until tender. Drain, and remove all the meat from the bones, add to the chicken fat two peeled and sliced onions, two seeded and chopped green peppers, and cook until the peppers and the onions are a golden brown, add one-half a cupful of mushrooms chopped fine, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, and two tablespoonfuls of chopped celery. When the vegetables are tender, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, stir and cook for two minutes, mix in two cupfuls of tomato and twenty-four ripe olives. Scrape the pulp from six ears of cooked corn, place a layer of the corn in a baking dish, combine the chicken and onion mixture with a half a cupful of the chicken stock, place a layer of this on top of the corn, season with salt and pepper, and add one slice of garlic. Cover with the corn, place a cover on the dish, place in the oven, and allow to brown.

APPLE CROWS NEST

Four medium-sized tart apples, one cup of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one and one-fourth teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one-fourth cup of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of butter, about one-half cupful of milk. Pare the apples, slice them thin, place them in an oiled baking dish, and dot with bits of butter, sprinkle with cinnamon. Mix the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift twice. Chop in the butter and add enough milk to make a soft dough, spread this over the apples, and bake in a moderate oven about twenty-five minutes, when baked turn out of the dish, upside down, sprinkle with a half cupful of sugar that has been mixed with one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Serve hot with whipped cream, to which has been added a few chopped nut meats, and dust over the top a little cinnamon.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answering in this department. PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

One thing for which women may thank the cinema stars—retention of the maiden name. It always has seemed senseless that women should forego their names, upon being married. Even though that name may not be famous, by it the bearer is identified, and upon its loss identity is obliterated. Many a pleasant acquaintance and even friendship is lost through this silly custom. "I hear that Nina is living in Los Angeles, but she married soon after we finished school and I do not know her married name." How often one hears this. Adoption of the husband's name is but a left-over from the days when women were tribal chattels; modernism should banish the custom, and the cinema stars are blazing the trail.

Fur Protector

A clever bag for protection of your neck fur—a bag doubly designed to shut out moths, is shown at that brotherly store. The bag, shaped like a long cylinder, is of dainty cretonne, while a side opening which may be tightly closed contains a hanger for one's neck fur and dangling beside the fur is a long, narrow bag for holding moth balls. This container requires but little space in the clothes closet and is "sure-fire" against the destructive pests, it is declared by those who have used it.

Fruity Pitcher

Those hot days set one thinking about cool, long drinks—"soft," of course. Beverage sets are among the must-haves of summer, and also are they among the most practical of gifts. A recent import in that brotherly store which makes a point of gifts from all nations, in its inside shop of that name, is showing the most charming of pitchers for summer drinks. In china, with molded fruits outstanding against dainty backgrounds in yellow, blue and other tints, these pitchers suggest the fruity contents and are most inspiring. Bands, in plain contrasting colors, top these fascinating jugs, which are both gifty and inexpensive.

Swedish Crystal

With the vogue of glass come many interesting novelties from foreign ports and among these none more dainty than the Swedish crystal which is shown in both stemware and in bowls as well as plates. The reinstated finger bowl is especially lovely in this ware, which has the effect of hand-carved glass. In shapes both graceful and practical, this glass ranges itself with the gift-worthy objects of summer.

Linen Blazonry

The colorfulness of table linens is noteworthy. Those of coarse weave form a modernistic contast to the finer damasks, the coarse colorful sets usually chosen for luncheons, breakfast or for the porch tea.

An intriguing window display, in that great furnishing store, attracted more than passing attention. The sets, in pastel or more vivid tones of violet, red, yellow, green, were woven in modernistic patterns, some against contrasting grounds, and each set was so folded—in geometric fashion—as to add further to the modern angular design. Prices, too, were in keeping with the jubilee event now in progress at this interesting store.

Bath Blankets

The English call them bath sheets but in the quality offered for beach use I would name them blankets. Of heavy terry cloth, or as we are used to saying it, "turkish toweling," these big wrap-ups come, this season, in multicolored effects, in shapes somewhat longer than wide and very accommodating for drying as one lies at rest on the sands after the morning dip. The newest ones are furnished with a big buttonhole at the front, through which is passed one corner of the blanket, fashioning it to a loose robe, as the corner is weighted with a huge tassel in colors to harmonize with the wrap.

A "Hot Number"

With that inconsistency often shown by Madame la Mode, felt hats seem first choice for the present season. That the shapes are pokish and hence shadeful, somewhat alleviates the "hot" effect, and in some cases the black is offset by a big bunch of flowers, posed at once side, half underneath the wide brim. The more exclusive shops present these flowers created from fine feather fronds, but the cooler looking ones have flowers which seem more natural to the season.

London Dots

Thus are named the smaller, more conservative dotted fabrics designed for summer frocks. In many instances these tiny dots come in two backgrounds, intended to offset each other in the ensemblage.

Cord-and-Tasseled

With felts predominating in summer millinery, as they inconsistently do at present, and with conservatism carried to the nth degree in the way of trimming, it was quite natural that the cord-and-tassel effect should appear. Some of the most chic of hats depend for adornment solely upon cords running through the pierced openings at one side, each cord terminated by a tassel. The light pastel tones are especially evident in these soft felts for summer wear.

Whispers of Fall

Whispers anent autumn millinery show in advanced mode hats of kittens-ear suede, in black with satin in a light beige tint as bandings and bows. For the most part these hats are of the turban variety or head-hugging in some fashion.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers helpful on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, sprue, tube, lime water, rupture, sores and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

NO CHILD IS PERFECT, REGARDLESS OF DISCIPLINE

Mothers are so much more comfortable if, in following any line of conduct, they have the applause and commendation of their families and friends. The mothers who thrive on opposition are in the minority; the vaster number want Mrs. A. to admit that they are feeding their Busies just exactly right, and if she disagrees they won't be happy until they have persuaded her.

In the matter of discipline there are always two camps engaged in constant warfare. One camp is all for peace, persuasion and an education toward obedience. The other is for instant, painful punishment unless there is perfect obedience. What possible argument can bring these camps together? None that I can think of. One type of mother couldn't possibly be persuaded that her child needed to be whipped to make a "good" child of him, the other couldn't be convinced that any other method is usable. They are two distinct types of personalities and what pleases one offends the other.

NO PERFECT CHILDREN

What both camps need to realize is that by no method ever devised were we able to get perfect children. There are no perfect children. Children when dumped into this complicated existence we call home and society have a thousand things to learn. They start learning from the first day of their lives. They learn not to cry for attention, if their mothers are wise enough to teach them. They learn to wait for their meals and baths and outings, not to demand and get them at their own sweet will. They learn that some things can be touched and handled, while others must be dropped when mother says, "Not for baby." They learn these things by patient repetition, not by handslappings. They learn by noting that mother is pained and unhappy when they continue their reprehensible lines of conduct. They learn far better from a soft-voiced mother who is consistent in her attitude of saying "no" to some things and then offering dozens of other pleasant substitutes. They learn by doing so many, many things during the day that the few things they can't do are accepted without a murmur. They learn by always seeing around them the kind of exemplary conduct they can follow.

LEARN BY REPETITION

Being children, they need to be told over and over the very same things. Not in a mean way, not angrily, but patiently. Children learn much more aptly when they are not confused by scenes of strong emotion.

No mother would ever be convinced that any teacher was justified in spanking her child. She would tell the world at large that she didn't send her child to school to be punished, but to be taught. But both mother and teacher show themselves lacking in a knowledge of sound educational methods when they resort to punishment.

One mother said, "Tact and understanding may be all right for some children, but others just have to be spanked." Shall I whisper to you what children have to be hurt to make an impression on them?—children of low mentality—without the ability to learn. Surely no mother deliberately admits that her child belongs in that class!

Pie Periscopes

When making fruit pies that are heavy with juice, moisten the edges of the crust with a little milk and press down tight. Then insert two or small pieces of macarino in the center of the pie. The juice will bubble into the macaroni instead of saturating the crust.

Fall Philosophy Forum Planned

Announcement was made yesterday by the University of Southern California of a fall philosophy forum to start with the opening of the academic year in September.

The philosophy forum will consist of a course of lectures with a series of half-hour conferences immediately following.

Four lectures each by Dr. H. Wildon Carr, Dr. F. C. S. Schiller, Dr. E. D. Starbuck, Dr. D. Willard Lyon, Geraldine Carr and Dr. Ralph Tyler Flewelling are scheduled.

A Terraced Home

If you are planning a house with a terrace that must be fairly steep, plan two lower terraces rather than the one high one. They will be easier to mow and the grass will grow better. Besides, it will add more beauty to the approach of your home.

Security-First National Bank has MONEY to LOAN on REAL ESTATE

THIS BANK loans money on residential or business property. The Bank's rates are moderate. It charges no "commission" for money thus loaned...only the necessary expenses of the transaction.

Because of this policy of moderate charges, the demand for loans from this Bank is naturally heavy. We are perhaps the largest lender on real estate in Southern California.

Wise borrowers come first to the Bank to see about financing, or re-financing, their real estate loans.

Many people find they can re-finance, at a more moderate rate, loans made on an installment basis on which they have increased their equity by steady payments until it comes within the Bank's margin of security.

We make loans both on straight term, and on an installment or "amortizing" plan. Loans may be arranged for at any Office or Branch with equal facility.

TALES OF WEST ENLIVEN TRIAL

Plainsman's Widow Accuses Zane Grey

Infringement of Copyright Asserted

Author Denies Charges in $500,000 Suit

Tales of buffalo hunters and early-day plainsmen enlivened the proceedings in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court yesterday in the trial of the action of Charles A. Maddux against Zane Grey, western author, in which infringement of a copyright is asserted.

Maddux appeared as assignee of the interests of Mrs. Alice Victoria Schmidt, widow of John R. Cook, a plainsman and author of a book called "The Border and the Buffalo," which the widow and Maddux assert was used as the main plot for Grey's story, "The Thundering Herd." The plaintiff is suing for $500,000 damages.

Mrs. Schmidt, who ascended the witness stand in spite of the fact that she lost both feet in a blizzard in North Dakota and has to walk on crutches, testified that her husband wrote "The Border and the Buffalo," and that the information in it was used by Grey for his story, Maddux likewise testified.

Grey testified that he obtained most of his information for his story from Buffalo Jones, a famous plainsman, and from a book by Jones. He said he talked over his forthcoming story many times with Jones and also read many stories and accounts of the Southwest, among them Cook's story, but did not get his plot from Cook's story. He said most of it he got from Jones and his book. Mrs. Grey also testified in a similar manner. It is expected the trial will end today.

Zehner Heads Election Ticket of 233 Club

Harry H. Zehner, assistant general manager of Universal Pictures Corporation, will head both tickets at the annual 233 Club election August 20, next, President Rex B. Goodcell announced yesterday.

Reports of rival nominating committees read at the July assembly of the theatrical Masonic club last night made Zehner the unanimous choice for president during the organization's next fiscal year.

John Le Roy Johnston was the unanimous vote for executive vice-president, with Henry Otto, Charles Crockett, F. A. Be Hannesay, C. E. Toberman and Jean Hersholt vice-presidential candidates. Otto K. Olsson was named the sole candidate for treasurer, Morris Resch, Abraham Goldman and Lee King candidates for two secretarial positions and Marco Hellman, W. S. Van Dyke, Edwin Carewe, Samuel Kress, J. J. Franklin, Lloyd Whitlock and Clifford Smith candidates for the board of directors.

The 233 Club has grown from a group of twenty-four theatrical Masons to an organization of 2000 men in six years.

ROMANY BANDS GO ON SEA JAUNT

Gypsy Groups Off for Summer Stay in Hawaiian Islands

Dusty Caravan Trails Deserted

Gypsy women, children and baggage on board liner City of Los Angeles on way to Hawaii. Inset—King John Miller and King Francis White.

FOR at least twenty-two passengers sailing for Honolulu yesterday noon aboard the Lassco flagship, City of Los Angeles, she is a Romany caravan.

They comprise two bands of gypsies who have forsaken the dusty trail for a summer in the Hawaiian Islands. John Miller heads one group, while the other is of the White tribe. Francis White, chief of the White clan, was forced to abandon his voyage at the last minute, but his place was taken by the newest son of the tribe, born to Mrs. Dana White just twenty-four hours before sailing. Mother and son were given special honors in a first-class cabin, while the rest of the party travels in steerage.

Capt. Fred I. Hamma, the ship's grizzled skipper, said the gypsies' multi-colored skirts, head-dresses and kerchiefs have him worried.

"I'll have to keep that gang under hatches when we pass another vessel," he explained, "otherwise, the other ship will think we have hoisted a signal for help."

PIONEER RESIDENT PASSES

Mrs. Drusilla Jenifer, Octogenarian, Who Came Across Plains Via Ox Team, Taken by Death

Mrs. Drusilla Jenifer, a resident of the Southland for sixty years, died early yesterday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. E. G. Otis, 280 Linda Vista avenue, Pasadena. Death was due to pneumonia, with which she was stricken while recovering from a hip fracture suffered in a fall at Del Mar three weeks ago. She was 85 years of age.

Born Drusilla McKee at Frankfort, Ky., Mrs. Jenifer came to California by ox team when she was 13 years of age, settling at Marysville. There she met and married John M. Jenifer, a settler from Illinois. The couple spent some years in Yuba City, moving to Ventura county in 1870, and to the San Fernando Valley seven years later. Mr. Jenifer engaged in farming in the valley and, following his death there in 1904, Mrs. Jenifer came to Hollywood. She lived there until two years ago, when she took up her residence with her daughter.

Besides Mrs. Otis, Mrs. Jenifer leaves one other daughter, Mrs. G. T. Gower of Hollywood; four sons, John O., George M., Frank M. and James H. Jenifer; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Rush of Inglewood and Mrs. Lydia Lenox, pioneer resident of Compton, and one brother, Thomas McKee of Ventura.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Hollywood, Highland and Franklin avenues. Interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery, Chatsworth.

Youth Loses Life in Grass Blaze

Howard Avery, 20 years of age, of Mesa, Ariz., died last night from burns received yesterday when, blinded by the smoke of a grass fire, he walked helpless into the blaze he had offered to help extinguish.

Avery, with his mother, Mrs. Rose H. Avery, had been visiting friends at 520 Mount Washington Drive, when he was attracted to a grass fire in the rear of 3522 Thorpe avenue with the arrival of Engine Company 44. The youth offered his services to Fire Captain Leo Chesich and a few moments later was seen to stumble into the flames, blinded by the smoke. Capt. Chesich, with Fireman R. L. Lincoln, dragged him from the blaze and took him to the Pasadena avenue Receiving Hospital, where he died. The body was taken to the morgue.

Werner to Fix Tideland Status

A resolution calling on the City Attorney to institute an investigation to determine the exact status of certain tidelands, ownership of which is claimed by the city and individuals, and thereupon to proceed to file suits to quiet title, was introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Williams and sent to City Attorney Werner.

Certain of these tidelands have been the subject of litigation for years.

Continued publication of war books which "defame our honored dead . . . and serve no useful purpose," has been condemned at a British Legion conference at Sussex, Eng.

VETERANS SCORE WITH ART FIESTA

Hollywood Bowl Stage of Artistic Triumph Before Audience of 6000

With scores of artists of the voice, instrument and dance on the program the Fiesta of Arts, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was given last night at the Hollywood Bowl before an estimated audience of 6000.

Taking part in the varied program were vocalists, composers, instrumentalists, dancers and orchestras and a band. The numbers given were largely operatic.

Ferullo and his band opened the program with "America" and was followed by Tudor Williams, baritone, who sang three popular ballads. The Aeolian Harp Trio, composed of Elizabeth Hughes, Mary Jane Mayhew and Emily Sullivan, were given a spontaneous welcome in response to their three numbers. Master Billy Lennon, accompanied by Charles Wakefield Cadman, gave three numbers, singing with sureness and ease. Ferullo's band followed with three operatic numbers.

Gennaro Barra, operatic singer, presented three favorite operatic numbers and was followed by Mme. Ethel Baird Franchetti, lyric soprano. Barra and Franchetti then appeared in a duet from "La Boheme." Calmon Luboviski with his "Violin Choir" followed. He then presented two violin solos. Homer Grunn, composer-pianist, presented two of his compositions. Ernest Belcher's dance ensemble presenting "The Song of the Castanets," with Luis Arnold as soloist, followed. Billy Lennon then sang a single number and the program closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Mme. Franchetti.

F. M. REICHE OBSEQUIES ANNOUNCED

Funeral Services to Be Conducted Tomorrow For Pioneer Jeweler

Funeral services for F. M. Reiche, resident of Los Angeles for the past forty-six years, who died suddenly at his home, 535 West Fortieth street, yesterday morning following a stroke of apoplexy, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. from the First German Methodist Episcopal Church, 449 South Olive street. Rev. R. Zurbuchen, pastor of the church, is to officiate. Burial will be in Rosedale Cemetery. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of H. J. Riedemann Company.

F. M. REICHE

Mr. Reiche, who was 70 years of age, was a native of Madison, Wis., and came to California in 1880, settling at San Jose. In 1884 he moved to Los Angeles and from that year until 1911 he was engaged in the jewelry business here.

During his life here he had been an active worker in the First German Methodist Episcopal Church and at the time of death was treasurer of the church. He was one of the founders of the City Missionary Society of the church and also had a hand in the organization of the Deaconess Hospital, later called the Clara Barton Hospital.

He leaves his widow, Lucy Reiche, and two sons, Clarence and Charles F. Reiche, an attorney of this city who is a candidate for judge of the Superior Court.

TEACHING ARMY TO INVADE CITY

Education Convention Will Attract 20,000

Chamber Agent Back from Columbus Meeting

Entire Shrine Auditorium to be Required

Between 15,000 and 20,000 members of the National Education Association will come to Los Angeles for the organization's 1931 convention, Harry H. Main, manager of the convention bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday. Main recently returned from the association's conclave in Columbus, O., and is given credit for winning the convention for this city.

All of the facilities of the Shrine Civic Auditorium will be required, Main said, to accommodate the exhibits and meetings during the five days of the convention in the latter part of June or the early part of July.

Los Angeles was favored by thirty-six of the organization's fifty-six national directors, Main said, with Denver making a determined bid for the gathering. Atlantic City is seeking the organization's 1932 meeting, and Milwaukee the 1933 convention.

Main said that indications are that next year will be a good convention year.

Among the conventions listed thus far for 1931 are: Seventh annual Foursquare convention, Associated Bakers of Southern California, Master Painters' and Decorators' Association, to be held in Long Beach; Pacific States Butter, Egg, Cheese and Poultry Association, Southern California Retail Hardware Association, Order of the Amaranth of California, Oil Equipment and Engineering convention, California State Credit Men's Association, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, Western Association of College Comics and others.

MASONS TO CONDUCT SERVICES FOR EVANS

Funeral rites for Alexander Trimble Evans, veteran Southern Pacific engineer on the San Joaquin division, who died Sunday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the McIntosh & Mater chapel, 2730 North Broadway. Masonic services will be conducted at the grave in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Evans, who was 57 years of age, had resided in California since 1902. His home was at 3112 Chaucer street. He leaves his widow, one daughter, Miss Vivian Evans; his mother, three brothers and two sisters.

LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION PICKED TO KEEP CROWN

Adam's Craft and Experience Expected to be Margin of Victory Over Bronx Boy

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—For the second time in two years Sammy Mandell, debonair king of the lightweight clan, will toe the mark tomorrow night for another eager youngster to meet in the ring at the Yankee Stadium.

CRAGHEAD SHUTS OUT SERAPHS

Lombardi's Homer Wins 1-0 Contest for Oakland Over Los Angeles

OAKLAND, July 16.—The Oaks made it two straight wins over the first half champion Angels when Howard Craghead won a pitching duel from Art Deiney, a former Oak. Ernie Lombardi saved the pitchers from going into extra innings of toil by hitting a home run over the left-field fence in the second inning for the only run of the ball game.

HOWARD CRAGHEAD

Both pitchers allowed five hits. The Angels wasted three of theirs in the first inning when Frenchy Uhalt, Oak left fielder, made a couple of beautiful pegs to nail advancing runners. Sigafoos started the ball game with a long drive to left field and he was out trying to take third when Uhalt re-

IKE BOONE
NEW HEAVY-HITTING BROOKLYN OUTFIELDER BOUGHT FROM THE S.F. MISSIONS.

Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Mr. Ike Boone's fourth debut in the majors was what you might call auspicious, to say the least. Touted as a heavy hitter, but a terrible fielder, Big Boy Boone not only lived up to the former reputation, but completely squashed the latter indictment by starring at both bat and afield when he played his first game with the Brooklyn Dodgers on the 6th inst. The home fans—and they don't take their baseball any more seriously anywhere in the world than they do in Flatbush—were out in force to see their team play a Sunday game with the Braves, and, incidentally, to give the once-over to Manager Robbie's new outfielder, Mr. Boone, late of the San Francisco Missions.

BABE HERMAN

Well, the large Mr. Boone took his place in left field at the start of the game and allowed as how he'd make good even if he broke his neck doing it. You see, this was not the first time he'd been up in the big show—in fact, it was the fourth—and he wanted to stick this time. Mr. Berger, another big boy from the Coast League, was up batting third and, as every ball fan knows, Mr. Berger hits a lot of home runs. So Mr. Boone moved out a bit and Mr. Berger socked one on the nose that was labeled a "homer" on both sides. But Mr. Boone decided differently and

GAINES LOSES IN CITY EVENT

Ruggiero Defeats Former Los Angeles Champion in First Major Upset of Championship; Extra Hole Matches Feature Over Torrid Griffith Park Course

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Jack Gaines of Girard, fresh from a victory in the national Elks championship at Atlantic City, passed from the picture in the first round of the Los Angeles city golf championship at Griffith Park yesterday at the hands of Gene Ruggiero, public course golfer, 1 up in nineteen holes.

GENE RUGGIERO

JACK GAINES

The defeat of Gaines, 1927 city champion, furnished the first major upset of the tournament, which enters the second round of match play today.

First-round matches found the public-course golfers putting up a stiff front against members of Southern California Golf Association clubs. William Ruch, 20-year-old Griffith Park player, followed Ruggiero's lead by trimming Milo M. Marchetti of Rancho, 2-and 1.

Web Hanson of Wilshire, U.C.L.A. star, was forced to go to the nineteenth hole to defeat Dave Brassell of Griffith Park, and Gene Brown of California was carried to the twenty-second hole by another public-course golfer, Cecil Harris.

Vic Kelly, Hollywood High School coach, turned in an upset with a 2-and-1 victory over Guy Hanson, well-known California player.

In major second-round clashes today, Gene Brown, winner of the recent father and son championship of Southern California at California, meets Ernie Combs, Jr., of Virginia, former southern junior title - holder; H. B. Wesbrook of Annandale who is playing heads up golf in the city tournament, tackles Charles Berdrow, young Fox Hills Country Club sensation; and Phil Carter of Rancho, favorite to win the championship, meets Rex Balles of Virginia.

A consolation round for non-qualifiers and those defeated in first-round matches is scheduled for tomorrow morning. Golfers may tee off anytime before 11 o'clock in the morning.

Gaines's defeat was a surprise, although Ruggiero is known to be a fine match player, having won considerable mention in public course tournaments. Jack put up a battle

TIDBALL SCORES UPSET IN LONGWOOD BOWL PLAY

BROOKLINE (Mass.) July 16. (AP) E. W. Feibleman of New York, the veteran top-seeded in the thirty-eighth Longwood Bowl singles tennis tournament, today was eliminated in a third-round match by Jack Tidball, an 18-year-old Los Angeles youngster, by scores of 6-3, 9-7, 8-6.

The young Californian, playing his first tennis in the East, outsteadied his veteran opponent, who is ranked twentieth nationally, during the vital points of their keenly contested match. This was the only upset of the singles play, as the other four seeded players, who survived yesterday's opening rounds, advanced safely into the quarter-final round.

Clifford Sutter of New Orleans, the intercollegiate champion, reached the fourth bracket by outstroking David Jones of New York, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, and Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, seeded third, moved on by taking an extra-set match from Malcolm T. Hill of Boston, by 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3. Barry Wood, Harvard's great all-round athlete, had little difficulty defeating Leighton Brewer of Boston, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3, in their third-round play.

The other Californian survivor, Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, last of the band of ten "native sons" who started yesterday, became a quarter-finalist by upsetting G. H. Perkins of Boston, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

Two of the seven seeded doubles teams were defeated during the day's play, which totaled sixteen first and six second-round matches.

Seven-Run Rally in Second Wins for Portland

Four Hollywood Tallies Are Made in Sixth Round

Bob Johnson Raps Out Home Run in Fourth Frame

BY BOB RAY

Portland's Lame Ducks tossed away their crutches and enjoyed one big inning in the second yesterday, bunched six hits with a walk and three Hollywood errors to defeat the Stars, 8 to 4, and even up the series.

FRED ORTMAN

But for that one big round, during which seven runs scored, the Ducks were pretty tame but they did enough damage in that one inning to sew up the struggle.

Fred Ortman, youthful Portland southpaw, pitched a consistent game of ball for Larry Woodall's brigade, blanking the Vittmen in all but the sixth, when a flurry of base hits put over all four Hollywood runs. The Stars also managed to fill the bases in the second after two were out but in all the other rounds they were completely checked by the willowy portsider.

Emil Yde was Hollywood's starting twirler, but he couldn't last through the second, during which the Hollywood defense cracked behind him and Portland bats cracked in front of him to shove across seven runs. Otie Brannan was charged with one error in this round and very easily could have been chalked up with another boot and it was these two miscues that completely nullified Mr. Yde's efforts. George Hollerson finished up effectively for Yde, the final Portland run off him being scored when Bob Johnson clicked a home run in the fourth inning.

SHIFTED LINE-UP

Skipper Woodall presented a revamped line-up for the Ducks, putting Gene Robertson at shortstop, shifting Mack Hillis to third and sending Johnson instead of French out in center field.

After a scoreless first inning, the Ducks burst forth into violent action in the second, shoving across seven runs before the round was finally ended. The trouble started when Brannan muffed Ken Williams's grounder to put the big fellow on first. Rhiel doubled down the right-field line, just out of Barbee's reach, and then Hillis punched a single to center that scored both runners. Orwoll hit what looked like a cinch double play ball to Brannan, who attempted to snare the bulb on the short hop and let it go through him. The scorer generously gave Orwoll a double and the hit put Hillis on third. Joe Palm followed with a hit to center that brought Hillis and Orwoll over the plate. Dud Lee cut off Hill's throw-in and mistook Walter Mails on the coaching line for Mickey Heath, throwing the ball over in an attempt to pick Palm off first. Mails let the ball go to the dugout, Palm going to second

Coast League Magnates to Hold Meeting

Bill Lane, Hollywood club president, Boots Weber, Angel secretary, and Roy Mack, secretary of the Portland Ducks, will leave here tonight for San Francisco, where President Harry A. Williams has called Coast League magnates together for a special meeting tomorrow. The special confab has been called principally to discuss the draft question, which the majors' recent ultimatum has brought to a head. It also will be decided whether the Coast League is to send a representative to the meeting planned by the American Association, International and Coast loops, the three big minor circuits in organized baseball. The three big minors are expected to gather in Chicago next month.

TROJAN SPRINT FLASH TO REST

Glendale Greyhound Retires for Rest of Season

Coach and Physician Advise Lay-off for Sprinter

Star Dash Man Won't be on Mercury Track Squad

BY RALPH HUSTON

Frank Wykoff, star Trojan sprinter, who has twice run 9.4s. in the 100-yard dash, will not go east to represent the L. A. A. C. in the national A.A.U. championship track meet at Pittsburgh next month.

FRANK WYKOFF

Wykoff, on the advice of his coach, Dean Cromwell, who handles both the Trojan and Mercury track squads, and of his family physician, has definitely given up the idea of racing George Simpson, Hec Dyer, Eddie Tolan and other speedsters in the national title meet. Wykoff also will not run in the international meet with the British empire team scheduled for Chicago, after the A.A.U. meet.

The speedy Trojan flash has been in hard training since last January, and the long siege has been telling on him lately. Wykoff suffered ill effects from an operation the previous year, and still is not as strong as he should be. He has decided that he will not take any risks of overdoing his running this year, and will give up all track work at once, until next season.

Cromwell had a squad of fourteen talented athletes working out on Bovard field yesterday afternoon and has high hopes of regaining the national title, which the Mercuries lost last year to the Olympic Club of San Francisco. The team included Jimmy De Mers, javelin; Hec Dyer, sprints; Vic Williams, quarter; Bob Maxwell, low hurdles; Dick Pomeroy, 440 hurdles; Bob

Leading Players Move Up With Easy Games

Dorothy Bundy Shows Best in Girls' Division

LA JOLLA, July 16.—Quarter-finals in all of the fifteen divisions making up the forty-fourth annual La Jolla tennis tournament were scheduled for tomorrow, as the favorites progressed through the early rounds today, almost without exception.

ELBERT LEWIS.

In the men's singles, Dolph Muehleisen, Bob Muench, Alan Blade, Hugh McArthur and W. Hall, all of San Diego, moved into the quarter-finals along with Joe Ciano, Elbert Lewis and Jimmy Brasheer of Los Angeles.

In the women's singles, six visitors from Los Angeles moved up—Esther Bartosh, Gladys Patz, Elizabeth Delka, Mrs. William Henry, Dorothy Robinson and Ruby Bishop.

Doubles events got under way today, with the favorites winning as expected. The favored men's team of Muehleisen and Muench triumphed over Hughes and Matthews without much difficulty, 6-2, 6-0, while a crack pair from Los Angeles, Clay Mahoney and Harold Steiner, defeated Burton and Burton, 6-2, 6-4.

Dorothy Bundy reached the semi-finals of the girls-under-15 singles, when she defeated A. Cowan, 6-1, 6-3.

The only real upset of the day was registered in the veterans' singles, when W. Cooper upset the seeded No. 1 player, W. R. Bond, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. A. P. Hawes, who used to play in national doubles tournaments with Fred Alexander, eliminated C. W. Simon, 6-3,-6-3. Today's results:

VETERAN DOUBLES

BARRACUDA SCHOOL OFF SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, July 17.—Despite target practice by the fleet off Los Angeles Harbor, thousands of barracuda and halibut were again caught today in the enormous school lying a five-minutes' boat ride from the municipal pier, declared Cliff and Jack, operators of the live-bait boats Thrush and Palisades today.

The big school has been in about the same position for a week and has attracted boats from every port in Los Angeles county. So near ashore is the school that the big fleet of boats, some times numbering twenty-five craft, can be seen.

Trojan Sport Official Now Proud Father

"More material for Howard Jones," was the proud boast yesterday of Prof. Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the University of Southern California general athletic committee, and then he went on to explain that Hugh C., Jr., had put in an appearance Tuesday evening at the Methodist Hospital. The youngster, who weighed 7½ pounds, and his mother are both doing well, the Trojan sport boss reported.

PARE DEFEATED IN TENNIS PLAY

Defending Champion Loses in Clay Court Match

BY J. H. ANDERSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, July 16. (AP)—Eliminatoin of Emmett Pare, Dayton, O., the defending champion by Bryant Grant, Jr., of Atlanta and a long and terrific three-hour struggle between Wray Brown, St. Louis, and Frank X. Shields, New York, featured today's third-round play of the national clay court tennis tournament at the Rock Hill Tennis Club here.

For three hours preceding the Pare-Grant match in which the Atlanta midget vanquished the Ohioan in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4, the Gallerty had glued its eyes on the court, where the 19-year-old Frank Shields of New York and the 30-year-old veteran, Wray Brown of St. Louis battled. Eventually Brown won, taking the deciding set, 16-14, and the exhausted Shields limped to the clubhouse.

Brown swept through the first two sets, 6-3, 6-1. In the third set he became again the Shields of advance notice—putting his smashing service inside and taking everything Brown offered him at the net. After the regulation ten-minute rest Shields took the fourth set, but not until it was twice deuced. The score was 8-6. The endurance battle ended when Shields drove into the net.

At the end of the day the quarter-finals survivors in singles included three from the Middle West, three from the East, one from Texas and one from the old South.

Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, seeded player No. 10, took the measure of Julius Seligson, New York City, seeded No. 8, and a high-ranking player nationally, 6-3, 3-6, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3.

W. J. (Junior) Coen, Kansas City, and the southpaw George J. Jennings, Chicago, staged another endurance contest late in the day, Coen winning, 7-5, 3-6, 7-9, 6-2, 6-2.

The former Japanese Davis Cup player Saduzuka Onda, was beaten in straight sets by the Missouri Valley champion, Barnes, Austin, Tex., 6-0, 6-2, 6-3.

Without exertion the defending doubles pair, Frederic Mercur, Harrisburg, Pa., and J. Gilbert Hall, Orange, N. J., advanced to the quarter-finals in doubles, defeating William Martin, Jr., and Charles McMillan, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-4, 6-0. Mercur and Hall also won in singles.

Shasta Whoopee is Best Again

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 16. Shasta Whoopee, the only winning horse the Allo Carrodlo stable has been able to show this summer, scored his second straight triumph this afternoon in the Mesa Grande, a mile affair, featuring the mid-week program.

Shasta Whoopee caught Ted Healy, the early pacemaker, tiring at the end of the backstretch, and came on to win, drawing away by two lengths. Alma got the place and Hail Catch the show. Time for the mile was 1:40 1-5.

The one-horse stable of Jack Brannon, Jr., scored its second triumph of the meeting in the fourth race, a mile and one-sixteenth event. Carlos Maid was the gallant steed, the 4-year-old running in the van of the band of eight for the entire distance to win by a length over Shasta Nut. Amilcar got the show. Results:

First race, six furlongs, claiming—Busy Beth, first (Erickson); Felalia, second (Bertschy); Venture, third (B. Rines). Time, 1:13 3-5.

Second race, five furlongs, claiming—Totara, first (West); Shasta Cherry, second (Johns); Desert Queen, third (Hayward). Time, 1:01 3-5.

Third race, one and one-half furlongs, claiming—Lady Conard, first (Bertschy); Golden Orioles second (Quinn); Miss Bodger, third (Strandell). Time, 1:08.

Fourth race, one and one-sixteenth miles, claiming—Carlos Maid, first (Bertschy); Shasta Nut, second (Lemple); Amilcar, third (Johns.). Time, 1:47 4-5.

Fifth race, one mile, claiming—Shasta Whoopee, first (Healy); Alma, second (Johns.); Fair Catch, third (West.). Time, 1:40 1-5.

Sixth race, five and one-half furlongs, claiming—Frank D., first (Lennie); Madam Valeria, second (Bertschy); Platoon, third (Strandell). Time, 1:07.

Seventh race, seven furlongs, claiming—Capt. Gilbert, first (West); Beth's Queen, second (Bertschy); Shampoo, third (Strandell). Time, 1:26 4-5.

DON GEORGE RETURNS TO WIND UP TRAINING HERE

Don George, former amateur mat king, returned from the north late yesterday to complete training work for his finish wrestling battle with "Panther" Joe Malcewicz at the Olympic Wednesday night.

The match George had in San Francisco Tuesday night was his first since he defeated Lee Wycoff here more than a month ago and reports received here of the match were to the effect that the former Michigan mat star displayed a greater speed and a more smashing attack than he had in any of his local bouts. George won quickly, and with ease.

Starting today, George will begin working out ways and means of avoiding Malcewicz's paralyzing backward body slam. The Utican, who is scheduled to arrive here today from Boston, is said to have used this grip to win all of his matches since leaving Los Angeles the first of the year. He is executing the slam hold with the same speed that characterized his work here in his matches with Nick Lutze, Marin Piestina and Ed Lewis.

Lutze will tangle with Wycoff in the other finish match on this card. Wycoff has been training daily at a local gym, and reports of those who have been watching him work out are to the effect that he is showing the same speed and more wrestling holds than he did the night he clashed with Everette Marshall.

Steven Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," will meet Joe Stamalty, Greek light-heavyweight champion, in the opener.

YACHTS ENTER OLD CUP RACE

Twelve Expected to Sail in "Times" Trophy Event

King of Spain Cup Winner Will be Among Field

Marin to Start in Harbor Classic on Saturday

BY FRANK ROCHE

Twelve slick-looking racing yachts are expected to face Starter Paul Hiller's gun Saturday at high noon off No. 2 buoy, Los Angeles Harbor, in one of the oldest classics in Southern California yachting history, The Times trophy race. Ervin Jones, in charge of the entry list, announced yesterday that he has ten boats already signed for the event and that at least two more will be in before post time.

TOMMY LEE.

The racing boats now ready to battle for the trophy, which was originally put up in 1903, are as follows:

TWO MORE EXPECTED

Besides the above boats, the Willie, Will Watson's schooner, and the Ocean Waif, Smith and Angelman's racing craft, are expected to be at the starting line before the gun sends the yachts away on the eighteen-mile sail.

Although Owen Churchill's Babe will race, she will not be sailed by her owner. Churchill is at present in the East, where he will sail the Angelita in the Larchmont series. The skipper of his eight-meter sea charger here has not as yet been announced, but the boat is sure to start, the committee has been notified.

Owen Dresden will handle the stick on the eight-meter sloop Marin, winner of the King of Spain trophy. Vic Dalton recently purchased this beautiful yacht from Lewis Luckenbach, steamship magnate. Dresden made quite a reputation for himself locally during the last two years. He jumped from racing skimmers into the six-meter division when he bought the Clio and he won a number of important events during the 1929 season.

Tommy Lee will try and lift the Times trophy again this year. He has entered his six-meter sloop Caprice, one of the finest craft of her kind in local waters at present. Tommy won the Times race last year with his six Harpoon. The Harpoon incidentally has been renamed the Ednada V by George Thomas III, her present owner. She will be the defender Saturday.

The appearance of the Pirate on the entry list indicates that O. K. Hanssker is again back in the thick of things. This boat is one of the most famous in her class in the country. She won the Times race in 1928. Last year she raced with great success on the East Coast.

SYNNOVE DARK HORSE

Al Rogers's Synnove may be the dark horse of the race. The Synnove is always up among the leading boats and Rogers is just about ready to crash through with a few championships, the experts point out.

The race is open to all yachts between the universal handicap ratings of 16.0 to 35.0. The winning boat will have its name engraved on the Times trophy. A second-place and third-place prize will also be at stake. The course is from the No. 2-A buoy, thence around committee boat off Point Vicente, leaving same to port, and return to finish line. Point Firmin buoy must be passed to seaward in all cases.

Sunday a crack fleet of sloops, yawls and schooners will race over a fifty-mile course for the famous old Nordlinger trophy, which is second only to the Times cup in point of years. The Nordlinger trophy was awarded first in 1907. The old sloop Venus won the original race for the Times trophy and the Columbine the initial Nordlinger event.

ran as he never ran before, leaped for the ball, caught it and fell headlong into the left-field bleachers. He held onto the pill, however, so Boone of Brooklyn was the hero instead of Berger of Boston.

Also, in his first game as a Dodger, Boone hit a single and a home run, and it was unanimously decided that he had made good. Ike Boone is about 33 years of age and this is the eleventh club he has played with in his professional baseball career. Babe Herman, his new team-mate, has played with twelve clubs. Boone has led nearly every league he has played in in batting. His fielding, like Herman's up to this year, is not so good.

WEETAMOE IN FIFTH YACHT TRIUMPH

NEWPORT (R. I.) July 16. (AP)—Weetamoe beat Yankee by four minutes and six seconds and Enterprise defeated Whirlwind by six minutes and eleven seconds today. The yachts are competing for the honor of defending the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V. It was the fifth victory for Weetamoe.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

NO WONDER HE TOOTS

NIGHT baseball has an able exponent in Owner Bill Lane of the Hollywood club.

Hollywood played Sacramento under the stars in the capital city last week, and Owner Bill dragged down a $4400 check for the week.

That's a pretty fat rake-off as baseball cuts run in the Coast League, and Owner Bill returned home tooting loudly for the night games.

Only one afternoon game was played at Sacramento last week. That was the Sunday p.m. struggle.

Ordinarily this is the big pay day in baseball. Lane says it was the most lightly attended game of the series.

We get our first whiff of night baseball next week, when it is promised that the big lights will be in readiness for the series between Los Angeles and Sacramento.

It will be interesting to see if the Sacramento situation is repeated here.

LOOKS as if Hec Dyer, the Stanford sprinter, will have to do double duty for the L.A.A.C. at the national A.A.U. track and field championships in Pittsburgh this summer.

Like Gallant Fox, the holder of the world's record in the 100-yard dash has gone into retirement, Frank Wykoff of the flying feet has laid his spikes away until another season.

Sounds like a sensible move.

Frank is still a kid, and he's done quite a bit of high-geared sprinting this season.

Besides the Coast meets Wykoff traveled East for the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet at Cambridge and the national collegiates at Chicago.

He had an intensive season for a sophomore, and it won't hurt him to quit for the year.

The plan was for Wykoff to run the 100 and Dyer the 220 at Pittsburgh, and for both of them to race on the relay teams.

Wykoff's defection reduces the possibility of new relay marks, as far as the L.A.A.C. is concerned.

COMMISSION IS SUPREME

THE Boxing Commission is more of a law unto itself than some persons in California suspect.

The courts so decided yesterday when a disgruntled individual, denied a permit to conduct wrestling matches in this city, went to law about it.

Under the California law governing boxing and wrestling contests, there appears the following:

"The commission may, in its discretion, issue, and at its pleasure revoke, a license to conduct, hold or give boxing, sparring and wrestling contests, matches and exhibitions . . ."

This was submitted by the initiative, approved by electors November 4, 1924, and put into effect December 17, 1924.

The courts decided there was nothing to argue about, and forthwith rendered a decision in favor of the commission.

CAN'T SEE THE LIGHT

IT'S too bad to see old Grover Cleveland Alexander with his marvelous major-league record behind him, hitting the rocks to oblivion.

Released by the big leagues after a nineteen-year span of service, old Alex perpetrates misdeeds with Dallas that got him in dutch when he was in his prime.

His remarkable ability in the old days chilled many a beef, but now that he's on the toboggan Alex will find it a different story.

PICK MANDELL TO KEEP TITLE

Singer has been nursed along carefully, hasn't quite the experience to cope with a veteran of Mandell's ability, and yet seems completely to co-ordinate his speed, boxing skill and punching power into a smooth-flowing attack.

Although he has beaten Bud Taylor and most of the lightweights around New York, Singer could gain no more than a draw with Tony Canzoneri, lost a decision to Kid Chocolate and was knocked out in three rounds by a featherweight, Ignacio Fernandez.

Singer managed to gain his title shot without first dispensing of Canzoneri or Jackie (Kid) Berg, one of the outstanding challengers, though he did flay Fernandez in a return engagement. Singer is a genuine lightweight and will have no trouble scaling under 135 at the weighing in here at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Mandell's record of late has hardly been impressive. Since winning the title from Rocky Kansas in July, 1926, in Chicago, Sammy has engaged in only three genuine title defenses, winning the decision from Phil McGraw, McLarnin and, lastly, Canzoneri, who gave him a tremendous struggle for ten rounds last August in Chicago. He has lost two overweight matches to McLarnin and in both took generous lacings.

Due to the prevalence of fouls and the recent Sharkey-Schmeling match that took $750,000 from the pockets of the faithful, the bout tomorrow night has failed to stir up the expected interest among the patrons. Although the ticket scale ranges from $2 to $15, including tax, the gate is not expected to exceed $150,000. The title bout is scheduled to go on at 8:30 p.m., eastern standard time.

Considerable interest has been generated in the semifinal of ten rounds in which Justo Suarez, lightweight champion of South America, will make his North American debut against Joe Glick, the Brooklyn buttonhole maker. Suarez is one of the most colorful warriors ever to come out of the Argentine, where he is the greatest drawing card South America ever had.

Despite his great record, which includes knockout victories over Babe Herman and Lou Paluso in South America, Saurez has failed to show much in training here. He appears to be a rough, rugged, aggressive puncher, but seems easy to hit.

SKEETE BROTHERS CHALLENGE WORLD

One of the most unique challenges of the nautical world was issued yesterday by the four Skeete brothers star swimming combination of the Deauville Beach Club swimming team, according to Coach Tom Peirce.

The four brothers, Norman, Roland, Ray and Harold, put forth an open challenge to any other set of brothers in the country for a relay race in any type of conditions. Peirce stated that his athletes have been training for the past six months and will take on any other brotherly opposition in the free style, back stroke or breast stroke.

STATE FIGHT BOARD WINS COURT TILT

Judge Upholds Boxing Commission's Refusal of Wrestling Permit

After Fred Young, Jr., a promoter, late yesterday testified that Chairman Woods of the Boxing Commission refused him a wrestling permit because Lou Daro, promoter, had to recoup money lost, Superior Judge Guerin denied a writ of mandate sought by Young to compel the Boxing Commission to grant him a permit.

Young testified that he had applied to the commission for a permit and had $100,000 ready to promote wrestling matches in Los Angeles. The commission turned him down. Later, he said, he talked with Chairman Woods in the latter's private office here.

"Woods said to me that on account of Lou Daro having lost a lot of money here in building up the wrestling game, he felt the commission ought to protect Daro until he could make back the money he lost," testified Young.

Dep. Atty.-Gens. Praul and Campbell opposed issuance of the writ on the ground that the Legislature had vested the commission with absolute discretion. Counsel for Young cited many cases which he contended gave the Superior Court power to mandamus the commission.

Judge Guerin denied the petition, holding that the Legislature had vested the commission with power and discretion.

Commissioners Hanlon and Traung were in court, as were Joe Genshlea, secretary of the commission, and Frank Moran, inspector. Daro was not present, although his brother Jack was.

McKNIGHT VICTORIOUS VIA KNOCKOUT ROUTE

Jack McKnight, colored ring star, won from Frankie Burnell on a technical knockout in the third round of the main event at the Wilmington Bowl last night. Tommy Huffman outpointed Joe Bell in the semi-wind-up. Johnny De Lano stopped Ray Gonsales in the second round of the special event. Ritchie Thomas won on a technical kayoe over Pete Sylvatra in the fifth round. Frankie Boldt stopped Frankie Abendino in the third round. Warren Farrel won from Al Fredericks on a five-round technical knockout in the opener.

M'LARNIN WILL NOT FIGHT HERE

Belfast Spider Turns Down Olympic Offers

Baby Face on Way Back to Vancouver Home

Townsend Out for Revenge on Medill Monday

Jimmy McLarnin turned a deaf ear to all offers made for him to box in Los Angeles and was on his way back to his home in Canada yesterday. The Olympic bid up to $20,000 for the Irish spider.

JIMMY McLARNIN

The possible opponents named by Matchmaker Wad Wadhams were Sammy Mandell and the winner of the Billy Townsend-Joey Medill scrap.

Medill and Townsend hook up in a rematch Monday night next week, the club having moved its fight night up a day to keep out of the traffic for night baseball which opens the 22nd inst. at Wrigley Field.

Two weeks ago Medill spilled the dope badly by outpointing Townsend, the slugger who had appeared here in three sensational knockouts prior. Townsend couldn't hit the speedy Medill and that was the answer to the decision.

PLANS DIFFERENT FIGHT

In the rematch Townsend will fight a different kind of a fight. He will try to box his way inside instead of waiting for a haymaker shot. In the late rounds of the first engagement Townsend seemed to have Medill's elusive windmill style solved and was winning.

Townsend, if he could win sensationally from the Chicagoan, would make an ideal opponent for McLarnin. Such a bout might yet be made.

McLarnin's present plans are indefinite. He expects to box in New York in September, but his opposition probably won't be Jack Thompson, welterweight champion. Jimmy isn't particular about trying to win a championship until next year.

WOLGAST SIGNED

The Olympic has Midget Wolgast signed for the 29th inst. with Speedy Dado in a nontitle bout. The champion is slated to arrive here this week. There was talk yesterday of matching Young Sport and Canto Robledo for the semi-windup to the Dado-Wolgast fight for a big flyweight night.

Max Baer returned to Oakland yesterday by plane where Louis Parente is seeking a Baer-Lee Kennedy rematch. Kennedy won almost as he pleased from Baer Tuesday night. The Olympic is hunting an opponent for Kennedy for an August date.

Senators Bow to Seals Again

SACRAMENTO, July 16. (AP)—San Francisco won its second straight start of the new semester over the Sacramento Senators here tonight, 4 to 2. Elmer Jacobs was invincible throughout. He was opposed by Ray Keating, who went good after Cleeman tripled in the second inning, scoring the first two Seal runs. Jacobs's single tallied two more in the fourth. Score:

SAMMY JACKSON WINS BY KAYO IN FIRST

Sammy Jackson, colored box fighter, made short work of Omar Wright last night in the main event at Ocean Park, stopping Wright in the first round. The semi-wind-up also failed to last very long, Nish Kekorian kayoing Joe Arcineaga in the first round. Benny Stein beat Vincent Green in the special event. Mike Cordova won from Mel Cowie, while George Savage stopped Oriel Astudillo in the second round of the curtain raiser.

BEARCAT WRIGHT TO FACE PRIMO TONIGHT

OMAHA, July 16. (AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian giant heavyweight, will meet Bearcat Wright, Omaha Negro fighter, in a ten-round bout here tomorrow night. Carnera will weigh 263 and Wright 218. The fighters are meeting here after three postponements.

ALEX'S FATE IN DOUBT

DALLAS (Tex.) July 16. (AP)—Bob Tarleton, business manager of the Dallas baseball club, tonight said he would wait until tomorrow night to decide the fate of Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran big league pitcher who yesterday was placed on the suspended list for training rules violations.

No definite action had been taken regarding the disposition of "Old Pete." He had asked to be reinstated and given another chance. Skipper Ats appeared favorably inclined toward granting his wish. Waivers were asked on him last night, but no club put in a claim for him.

"Old Pete," who can remember when he used to receive $1000 bonus if he won twenty-five big league victories a season—and collected the bonus for eight straight years—seemed not particularly bothered by his baseball "future."

YANKEE CUP SQUAD READY

Tilden Says Netmen in Fine Condition for Match With Italy; Announce Line-up Today at Noon

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II

PARIS, July 16. (NANA)—The American Davis Cup team, to the minute to meet Italy in the interzone final round on Roland Garros. Capt. Fitz-Eugene Dixon has put his men through a course of practice. Long workouts, mornings and afternoons, have been the order. Each day Dixon would send his regulars against Kinsella, his alternates, Gregory and Mangin, for hard singles play. The team of Kozeluh and Mangin would work out in doubles against the regular pairs, Allison and Van Ryn, Lott and Doeg.

I have watched the past few days practice critically and closely with the boys in singles and

Dick WILSON

But everything points to Allison and Lott in the singles. Allison and Van Ryn in the doubles. Van Ryn has the finest all-in singles should there be a change.

Wilmer Allison is certainly the brunt of the American hopes, he seems in perfect condition so. He had a long workout with Karel Kozeluh on Tuesday and he seemed to be hitting the ball with fine control. He was right on his ground strokes and seemed to be gaining in control of his volley. That he should be ready for Morpurgo's greatest effort. Lott has twice had Morpurgo on the run and I was present by his great speed and soundness off the court.

Lott is playing better than the hard courts than he did at Wimbledon and is showing a distinct improvement over our match he has ever shown in France.

He seems in perfect physical condition and I have great confidence in him to win both his singles matches. John Doeg has been concentrating on doubles with Allison and Van Ryn, playing the same game as in tennis that won them the Wimbledon doubles title. I look to see him and Allison and Van Ryn win the doubles. Morpurgo and Kozeluh are doubtful starters but I would not surprise me to see both our boys beat them. I would not be surprised to see victory over Italy by a 4-0 or 4-1 win a great surprise.

Dixon plans to rest over the week-end and resume workout for the team Monday, more than four singles players only for the men who will play Pierre Gillou has been selected as the fifth player. The center court, which has been soft and dry-like for the past few days, will be taken out of play today and put into condition for the matches. Everything points to fine tennis with every player for a clean-cut victory for the United States. If Morpurgo can be beaten on the first day of play and I look to see the United States win all five matches, for it will be the heart of the Italian team

Lott is playing better here ... the hard courts than he did ... Wimbledon and is showing a ... tinct improvement over any ... he has ever shown in France.

He seems in perfect mental and physical trim for the matches and I have great confidence in him to win both his singles matches. John Van Ryn has been concentrating on doubles with Allison and they are playing the same magnificent tennis that won them the Wimbledon doubles title. I look to see both Allison and Lott decisively defeat Shlesinger and Allison and Van Ryn to win the doubles. Morpurgo's singles are doubtful matches but I would not surprise me to see both our boys beat him. The worst we can expect is a 2 victory while I would not call a 5-0 win a great surprise.

Dixon plans to hold an ... workout for the team Thursday ... more than one session and ... only for the men who wish to ... Pierre Gillou has been chosen ... erve. The center court, which ... been soft and dry the last few ... will be taken out of play on Thursday and put into perfect condition for the matches. Everything points to fine tennis with every indication for a close-cut victory for the United States. If Morpurgo can be beaten on the first day of play I look to see the United States win all five matches, for it will be the heart of the Italian team.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON ILL ON EVE OF SHAMROCK SAILING

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

LONDON, July 16. (Exclusive)—With the announcement that Sir Thomas Lipton's America's Cup challenger, Shamrock, is sailing for America from Gosport Saturday accompanied by the steam yacht Erin, it was learned today that her owner has had an internal chill followed by a severe attack of lumbago. Lipton, who is 80 years of age, said today he expects to be well enough to sail for America in the middle of August, but will not attend public functions for some time nor be at Cowes this year.

The occasion marked the season's debut of thrown pop bottles at Ebbets Field with Gabby Hartnett as principal target. The crowd held him responsible for the fact Del Bissonette, Brooklyn first baseman, was knocked out at the plate in a close play late in the first game although players reported he had struck his head on the ground in sliding. An argument between the rival pitchers, Root and Luque, after the Chicago hurler had dusted off the Cuban was choked off just before fists began to fly.

Luque weakened in the closing innings of the second game but had enough left to hold the Cubs in the ninth after Stephenson and Hartnett had hit home runs. Score:

layed the ball to Deviveros for an out at third base. Johnny Moore followed with a single and Dittmar fanned. Wes Schulmerich singled but he was out at second when Uhalt again pegged the ball to Deviveros, who passed it onto Dean at second base. From that time until the seventh Craghead did not allow a hit.

Johnny Moore started the seventh with a single and Dittmar sacrificed but Schulmerich fanned and Jacobs popped out. The only other Angel hit was a pop fly back of shortstop which Deviveros could not hold after making a hard try for it.

Lombardi and Uhalt seemed to be the only ones who could solve Delaney's offerings. Besides that home run for Lombardi in the second inning, he hit a line drive for a double in the fourth inning, the ball missing going over the fence by inches. Uhalt grabbed off two singles for himself. Score:

Seattle Sunk by 10-0 Score

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (AP)—Herman Pillette's air-tight pitching and his team-mates' heavy hitting, including home runs with one on by Hufft, Hofmann and Mulligan, gave the Missions a 10-to-0 victory here today over Seattle. The local right-hander kept the Indians' five hits scattered. Rudy Kallio and Hansen were less fortunate. Score:

Poloists Mix at Uplifters

Bending every effort toward lining up a combination that can break the winning streak of the Santa Monica Blues, Lionel Pedley, leader of the Uplifter poloists, has revamped his entire team, placing big Clair Brunson at No. 3 and himself at No. 2. Will Rogers may fill the No. 1 position in front of Pedley, while Carl Beal will attend to the defensive back position. Brunson should be quite an asset to the team as he is one of the strongest players at the club. He played on the team which twice downed the Santa Barbara four, present Coast junior champions, in their series of three games which closed last Sunday.

Snowy Baker's Santa Monica Blues are lining up exactly as they did last Sunday with John Brandis at No. 1, Lyell Puckett at No. 2, Baker at 3 and Dick Smith, back, this combination proving the most effective of any they have tried out so far.

Waltons Stage Shoot Sunday

The second monthly shoot of the Izaak Walton Trapshooters' Association will be held on the grounds of the Los Angeles Gun Club next Sunday, it was announced yesterday by Chairman C. L. Nickle of the association.

The first meet attracted nearly 100 shooters, and the coming event is expected to surpass this figure. There are a number of trophies up for winners of the different divisions.

All shooters are invited to attend regardless of their affiliation to the Walton League or the trapshooters' association. Trophies also will be awarded nonmembers.

The gun club grounds are on Telegraph Road east of the Samson tire factory.

SHEELY LEADS RACE

Earl Sheely started off the second-half season by hammering out four safe hits in five trips to the plate to boost his season batting average to .403 and supplant Wesley Schulmerich as the league leader. It is a great three-man race for hitting honors with Schulmerich at .399 and Severeid at .398.

CHICAGO, July 16. (AP)—Although they knocked Bob Grove out of the box early in the contest today, the White Sox lost to Philadelphia, 14 to 7. The league leaders hopped on Ted Lyons in the second and scored seven runs, but McKain, who finished for the Sox, pitched well except in the last two innings. The victory enabled the Athletics to retain their precarious hold on the leadership of the American League. Score:

TIGERS ON TOP

DETROIT, July 16. (AP) — Earl Whitehill failed to finish after pitching masterful ball against the Boston Red Sox today, but was credited with Detroit's 3-to-2 victory.

Detroit used three pitchers in the ninth. Whitehill left the game after Durst hit a scratch single. Art Herring pitched to two batsmen, one of whom reached second on an error. George Uhle went in then with Durst on third and Miller on second and retired the side without scoring. Score:

SOLONS DIVIDE

CLEVELAND, July 16. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and the Washington Senators split even in a double-header today, with both contests lop-sided. The Senators won the first, 10 to 4, and dropped the second, 13 to 6.

Alvin Crowder in the first game annexed his sixth victory in eight starts for Washington. The Senators made sixteen hits. Cronin, Harris and Spencer each cracked out three.

Milburn Shoffner's pitching was too much for the Senators in the second game. He held them runless until the ninth when they made their six.

STATE TO FIGHT CURB ON RADIO

Hecke Will Battle to Keep Short-Wave Channel

Federal Commissioner Will Open Hearing Today

Agricultural Interests to Oppose Restrictions

The Federal Radio Commission today will hear arguments by the State against proposed restrictions on the short-wave radio telegraph channels now being used for the collection and dissemination of market news. The hearing is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. in Room 806, Associated Realty Building, 510 West Sixth street, with Commissioner Sykes presiding.

G. H. Hecke, director of the California Department of Agriculture, who arrived here from Sacramento yesterday, will lead the fight in behalf of the State, assisted by a State-wide committee headed by C. B. Moore, secretary-manager of the Western Growers' Protective Association.

FIGHTS FOR RIGHTS

"Agriculture is not seeking anything that does not belong to it," Hecke said on his arrival yesterday. "It is not requesting special privileges nor asking favors. It is merely seeking the right to retain that which belongs to it and to which it has acquired title by use.

"If any restrictions are imposed upon the use of the air as a medium of exchange of information in the interests of public welfare, necessity and convenience, any group represented in such proportions as agriculture with its 6,500,000 farm units, its $80,000,000,000 of capitalization and its $13,000,000,000 gross income, occupying a most substantial place in our economic life, certainly should not be handicapped by any inequalities and discrimination.

"We cannot believe it possible that it is the intention of the Federal government to create one commission to aid in the upbuilding of agriculture, as in the case of the Federal Farm Board, and at the same time empower another commission to tear down the agricultural foundation. Our meeting Thursday will determine whether the opportunity for agricultural parity, about which we have been talking so much for the last few years, is to prevail."

OTHERS TO SPEAK

Others who will speak at the hearing are E. W. Graumitz, Sacramento, economist of the Federal-State Marketing Service; O. W. Schleussner, Los Angeles, sales manager, American Fruit Growers; Charles Jandt, Los Angeles, sales manager, Peppers Fruit Company; C. W. Gilliland, Los Angeles, sales manager, Sawdey-Hunt Company; Homer A. Harris, Los Angeles, secretary-manager, Associated Produce Dealers and Brokers; J. A. McNaughton, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Live-stock Exchange; R. A. Condee, Chino, president State Board of Agriculture; R. N. Wilson, San Francisco, director, agricultural department, State Chamber of Commerce; R. H. Lamb, Brawley, marketing specialist, United States Department of Agriculture, George K. York, Sacramento division of markets; V. A. Garrod, Saratoga, president, California Farmers' Union George Sehlmeyer, Sacramento, master California State Grange; R. W. Blackburn, Thermal, president California Farm Bureau Federation; Ralph Taylor, Sacramento, executive secretary, Agricultural Legislative Committee; H. R. Tolley, Berkeley, assistant director, Giannini Agricultural Foundation; Leo Monahan, San Francisco, vice-president California Vineyardists' Association; J. H. Duell, San Francisco, manager laws and utility department, California Farm Bureau Federation; Fred J. Hart, San Jose, president, Pacific Agricultural Foundation; M. B. O'Brien, Guadelupe, president, California Lettuce Growers, Inc.; C. L. Preisker, Santa Maria, chairman Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors; E. S. Kellogg, Santa Barbara, State Association of County Agricultural Commissioners, and Dr. George P. Clements, Los Angeles, manager, agricultural department, Chamber of Commerce.

SILENT BEADS WORN FOR TALKING FILMS

Lotti Loder

Hollywood's latest innovation is noiseless beads for the talking pictures. The beads are made of materials that will not clink together or against other objects, to guard against the necessity for retaking scenes where jewelry is worn.

The noiseless beads can be made to imitate any kind of stone or composition and when other jewels are needed the beads are strung with the new material, invented by a Hollywood woman, between each bead. Lotti Loder, Warner Brothers player, is the first to wear a string of the beads.

County Committeemen to Meet at Long Beach for Discussion of Problems

The Los Angeles County Citizens' Committee, comprising mayors, Chamber of Commerce presidents and citizens representing forty-four cities and towns, is sponsoring a mass meeting to be held at Long Beach on the 23rd inst., in the interests of county government problems, it was announced yesterday by F. A. Baughan, secretary. The meeting will be held in the Breakers Hotel, beginning with a dinner at 6:30 p.m.

It will be the purpose of the meeting to develop a general discussion of all county problems, with particular reference to ways and means of decreasing cost of administration. The committee, it is pointed out, is not proposing any definite plan but seeks to arouse general interest in the long-discussed subject of city and county consolidation.

The meeting will be featured by presentation of the report of a State commisison appointed at the last session of the Legislature to investigate the subject of county government. This commission comprises R. W. Blackburn, Thermal; Thomas M. Carlson, Richmond; Edwin A. Cottrell, Palo Alto, Jonathan S. Dodge, South Pasadena; William C. Jerome, Santa Ana; William J. Locke, Alameda; Samuel C. May, Berkeley, and Frank J. McCoy, Santa Maria.

H. M. LEE RECOVERING

Henry M. Lee, local attorney, is recovering from an operation at Hollywood Hospital, it was yesterday announced. He is expected to leave the hospital about August 1, next.

RICHARD ARLEN WINS NEW LEAD

Mary Duncan Plays Star Role in "Command to Love;" Warners Buy Best Seller, "Jack Straw's Strut;" William Boyd Cast in Bancroft Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Just going right along calmly and easily, without much fanfare of trumpets, Richard Arlen has just been cast for another fine featured role in Paramount's "Easy Come, Easy Go." He has the leading masculine part in the picture, to be exact.

Leon Errol, it will be remembered, is to have the featured comedy lead in the production, which is to be directed by Messrs. Otto Brower and Edward Knopf.

Another important role, that of the juvenile lead, was likewise provided for yesterday. No less accomplished an actor than Anderson Lawler was cast for the part. Lawler had come out to play the lead in "Her Cardboard Lover" in San Francisco and was all set to return to New York when he was sent for by Paramount and given the part above mentioned.

WARNERS BUYING POPULAR NOVEL

It looks as though Warner Brothers are out to buy all the popular novels in the market these days.

Their newest purchase is "Jack Straw's Strut," by Harriet Henry, published by William Morrow & Co., through John Davis.

No one is yet chosen for any of the roles. The story is one of modern New York life.

German Actor Opposite Garbo

Theodore Shall, noted German stage player, who recently came to this country to appear in the German talker version of "Olympia," will play opposite Greta Garbo in the German talkization of "Anna Christie," which Jacques Feyder will direct for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

In the foreign version of the Eugene O'Neil drama, Shall is to enact the role played in the English film by Charles Bickford.

MARY DUNCAN SIGNS WITH UNIVERSAL

From one brilliant role to another is that brilliant young actress, Mary Duncan, flitting these days.

No sooner had she finished the featured role of the dancing girl in First National's production of "Kismet," starring Otis Skinner, than she was engaged by Universal to play the leading feminine role, coveted of all dramatic actresses, in "The Command to Love," which Universal has renamed "The Boudoir Diplomat."

Miss Duncan's first success was made in "Shanghai Gesture," since which time she has entered pictures with sensational success to her credit.

William Boyd With Paramount

William Boyd, well-known stage actor, has just been engaged by Paramount.

The actor will play the leading juvenile role in "Rolling Down to Rio," the picture starring George Bancroft, which Rowland Lee will direct.

Boyd has been uniformly successful since coming to California to play in the talkers. Much of his work has been done for United Artists, to whom he is under contract.

DANSEUSE CHARMS AT MUSIC BOX

Agnes De Mille Offers Splendid Recital; Aided by Other Artists

BY MARY MAYER

Los Angeles dance lovers were given a second opportunity to witness the work of Agnes George de Mille, when that youthful artist presented another enjoyable recital last night at the Hollywood Music Box Theater. If her first program, given several weeks ago at the Windsor Square Theater, was a success—last night's was doubly so. A large audience greeted her appearance and sat spellbound from the first to the final curtain.

Miss de Mille has that gift, rare to dancers, of concentrating on more than one thing at a time. She dances with her whole being—not only with her feet. Every number tells a story that can be followed as easily as the plot of a play or the theme of a novel. She is not merely a dancer, one who has perfected certain gymnastics through which she moves with ease and grace—she is an actress who relates her narratives in rhythmic pantomime of face and body instead of with words.

Although last night's program consisted of many repeats from her previous recital, Miss De Mille added several interesting new numbers which are to be included in her New York and European repertory of next season. Among them were "The Parvenues," a clever character study of ballroom etiquette and dancing of the middle '70's and "Cafe Dancer," or Ouled Nail. The latter closed the program. It told the strange and fantastic tale of a group of Arabian women who tour the cities of Northern Africa until they earn enough money, by their dancing, to return to the desert, buy themselves husbands, and settle down.

Among the other selections to receive ovations were "Stagefright," and "Ballet Class," both inspired by the paintings of Degas. In the first, Miss De Mille draws an interesting caricature of the little Paris opera dancer, about to make her debut. The second, of the stern, relentless training meted out to youthful artists in the "corps de ballet."

In direct contrast to these, and in addition to the gay comedy of "May Day," in which Warren Leonard shared honors, and the ever enjoyable "Try Out" with its touch of pathos, was "Harvest Reel," a wild, impressionistic number, patterned in many respects after the strange code set forth by Mary Wigman. The comparatively new German influence was also noted in "Nocturne," a pas de deux in which the combined movements of Leonard and Miss de Mille were perfectly timed and co-ordinated.

"Blues," "Julia Dances," and the favorite "Can Can" from "The Black Crook" completed the program.

Warren Leonard showed skill and finish in such numbers as "Ascetic," "Spring Song" "Mazurka" and "Hero Saga." Mme. Bolesiavsky assisted at the piano and offered several interesting solo groups.

FARCE PRESENTED AT THEATER MART

"Don't Monkey" Involves Light Entertainment; Cast Pleases in Part

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Theater Mart sponsored a rollicking three-act farce, "Don't Monkey," from the pen of Lawrence Sterner, well-known London actor-playwright, and which proved properly light and sparkling entertainment for midsummer evenings.

The plot was a more or less negligible and perhaps a bit heavily padded, having to do with the proverbial lovers' quarrel, and involving the pursuit of suppressed or repressed youth in middle-aged folk. Monkey glands and their much-vaunted necromancies were dealt with summarily, inasmuch as upon their exposure they were rather proven as merely mental states of consciousness, by the doctor who resorted to the age-old device of water in fancy vials to tempt the frisky oldsters from paths of rectitude. The situations were amusing, though banal, and the lines were brightly contrived. The play moved with alacrity and variations on the theme furnished much hilarity. The company exhibited a spirited nonchalance in presentment of the opus.

A. S. Byron as the playful, elderly suitor managed a robust type of comedy and kept the tempo going expertly. As the kittenish aunt, Janet Sully was amusingly in the picture. Dainty Dorothy Gould as the beleaguered heroine acted her role with an air of pretty assurance. As the dashing and desirable naval officer Pat Kemp gave an interesting account of himself. A more pointed projection of voice would improve his diction. Louise Nowell lacked the sensuous feeling of the Spanish dancer role which she essayed and was too theatric in her assumption.

Romantic Farce Will Cofeature New Film Team

"She's My Weakness," featuring Sue Carol and Arthur Lake, will be screened, starting today, at the R.-K.-O. Theater. Miss Carol and Lake make up a new film team and are said to inject romance and comedy into their portrayals.

The picture is an adaptation of the stage play, "Tommy," by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson. Supporting roles are handled by Lucien Littlefield, William Collier and others. Mel Brown directed.

The new stage program at the R.-K.-O. brings Harry and Willie Lander and "Palm Beach Nights," a topical revue. Included on the bill are Sybil Vane, Welsh prima donna, and George Andre and company.

COMICS TO BROADCAST

A special radio booth has been installed in one of the sound stages on the R.-K.-O. lot which will be used by Amos and Andy in their two daily broadcasts, one at 3:30 p.m. for eastern States, and again at 7:30 p.m.

Sparkling Star Returns to Stage

Ina Claire

Who has been interspersing her footlight appearances with film roles, is said to give one of her best performances in "Rebound," a stage comedy by Donald Ogden Stewart, which starts at the Belasco Theater Monday night.

OPERA STAR SINGS IN FILM

Film audiences will thrill as did the music lovers in the Metropolitan Grand Operahouse in New York City when Everett Marshall, known as "the most popular baritone of the Metropolitan," makes his screen debut Tuesday night at the world premiere of "Dixiana" at the Orpheum Theater, according to the management.

In this, his first screen appearance, the grand opera star sings four solos, all of which were especially written for him by Harry Tierney, and shares another number with Bebe Daniels.

"Dixiana" has a romantic setting for its locale, namely the world-noted New Orleans Mardi Gras of 1840. The abandon of the gay old southern city to pleasure during this season is said to have been carefully captured by the camera in this picture.

"ROMANCE" DUE TODAY AT LOEW'S

Second Talking Vehicle of Greta Garbo Promises Unusual Portrayals

"Romance" will be served up by its queen, Greta Garbo, to Loew's State audiences today. The second talking picture of the heroine of "Anna Christie" is an adaptation of the play which starred Doris Keane on the stage for six years.

Although Cavallini, heroine of the story, may be regarded, in one sense of the word, as a demi-mondaine, there is little doubt but that everyone in the audience will fall completely under the spell of her charms, it is said. She not only intrigues, it is declared, but claims the sympathy by her gripping portrayal.

Clarence Brown's direction adds to the effectiveness of the picture as entertainment of quality and Lewis Stone and Gavin Gordon head the supporting cast, according to an announcement. On the stage Panchon and Marco present their latest colorful Idea, "Gems and Jams."

Stuart Erwin and Mitzi to Perform Here

"Love Among the Millionaires," Clara Bow's latest picture, starts today at the Paramount Theater.

STUART ERWIN

In addition to the feature an added attraction for this evening's shows is the personal appearance of Stuart Erwin and Mitzi Green.

Mitzi, 9-year-old child pantomimist and comedian of the talking screen, and Erwin, befuddled Romeo in "Sweetie" and "Dangerous Nan McGrew," will present a sketch in which both will sing and mimic well-known personalities of the theatrical world.

Directed by Frank Tuttle, "Love Among the Millionaires" tells of the romance of a waitress and a wealthy young man, and the difficulties they meet because of the elite's prejudice against an outsider.

Also included on the program are "Hungarian Goulash," a Terrytune; "Artist's Reverie," a Paramount novelty; sound news, and an Educational comedy featuring Eddie Lambert.

Eddie Prinz to Stage Numbers for 'Oh, Judge'

Eddie Prinz, director of tap and broken rhythm dances in Earl Carroll's "Vanities," "Sketch Book," "Fioretta" and other musicals, has been engaged by Strong and Wilson to stage the dances and ensembles in "Oh, Judge," new musical farce starting at the Vine-street Theater Tuesday night. He recently created the fast rhythm dances in "Madame Satan," Cecil B. De Mille's new film.

From the many show girls and dancers who applied for a place in the show, Prinz has selected a group of youthful beauties, it is said, all of whom have appeared in recent screen musicals.

Xylophonist Back to First Love at Circle

Xylophone player, then pianist, singer and back to xylophone player describes the brief but colorful career of Ted Dale, the agile pounder of the wooden musical blocks with Abe Lyman's orchestra at the Carthay Circle Theater.

The seemingly rubber-armed player was known as a talented xylophonist four years ago at the Los Angeles High School. Upon graduation, he teamed with Jack Dale of the same school, and the pair toured the major theater circuits in a double-piano act. They then turned to singing, with each taking turns at the piano. While performing this routine at the Palace Theater in New York, they were seen by Lyman, who contracted them to appear with his orchestra.

Jack is now taking a brief vacation, and Ted remains as xylophone player.

Youthful Cast Plays in Next Criterion Film

Youth will have its fling at the Criterion Theater starting Wednesday when "Our Blushing Brides" opens its local engagement.

Joan Crawford will lead the parade of beauty and talent, with Anita Page, Dorothy Sebastian, Gwen Lee, Mary Doran, and other M.-G.-M. featured actresses in support.

As for the males, Robert Montgomery will be back once more in the type of role which has won him note. Others are Raymond Hackett, John Mlijan and Albert Conti.

"Our Blushing Brides" is the companion to "Our Dancing Daughters" and "Our Modern Maidens." It also is the third talking picture in which Joan Crawford has been starred, her others being "Untamed" and "Montana Moon."

Hungarian Star Chief Player in "Lady to Love"

Vilma Banky, beautiful Hungarian star, plays the leading role in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "A Lady to Love," which is to have its first western showing beginning tomorrow at the California Theater.

"A Lady to Love," is Victor Seastrom's production of a story by Sidney Howard, and is said to be a colorful and entertaining feature. It's scenes are laid in a picturesque vine-covered valley of California.

Edward G. Robinson enacts the chief male role. Robert Ames, Richard Carle, Lloyd Ingraham, Henry Armetta, George Davis and Anderson Lawler head the supporting cast, and hundreds appear in the fiesta and Italian wedding scenes.

Langdon Will Be Featured

Harry Langdon has signed with Universal to play the featured role in "See America Thirst," a feature-length comedy-drama which Albert DeMond will produce. The story is an original written by Vin Moore and Edward Luddy. William J. Craft will direct.

Langdon recently completed final retakes on his latest picture, "A Soldier's Plaything," which is now being edited for future release by Warner Brothers.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

ARTHUR LUBIN, who came from New York to stage the tryout of "The Man Saul" with Paul Muni at the Pasadena Community Playhouse on the 31st inst., has picked his cast.

Marion Clayton, who acted this past year with the Civic Repertory group, will have the feminine lead. James Eagles will play the role of the invalid brother (the part for which Morgan Farley was once talked of.) Incidentally, as mentioned before, "The Man Saul" is not a biblical piece—it is a drama of two brothers.

Mike Donlin, once outfielder for the Giants, whose baseball prowess is perhaps better known than his acting, has a good character part. Alexander Lockwood, Jacques Vanaire Onslow Stevenson, Robert Griffin and Thomas Henry will be others seen.

Lubin is staging, with the help of Gilmor Grown, in behalf of himself and Richard Krakeur, general manager for the Selwyns. Krakeur will come on from New York in time for the premiere. It is planned, of course, to take the play to New York for a fall opening.

"The Man Saul" is from the pen of Sydney Robert Buchman, who will have two other pieces on Broadway this fall.

"Merton" in the Talkies

Speaking of Pasadena activities, "Merton of the Movies," that hilarious farce by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly from Harry Leon Wilson's story, begins a short engagement there tonight. The Pasadenans have "modernized" the show to the extent of setting it in a talking-picture locale, rather than the original silent atmosphere. Franklin Provo, a 16-year-old actor, who is said to have unusual ability, will play Merton.

About Tom Douglas

The talk of the rialto these days is the clean-cut, able work of Tom Douglas in "Fata Morgana" with Elsie Ferguson, at the Hollywood Playhouse. At the opening Monday night, a lot of people stood up and shouted their approval of his portrayal. Tuesday morning, bright and early, Irving Thalberg at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer sent for him.

Some folks are under the impression, despite the definite American accent, that Douglas is an Englishman. He did appear in the London production of "Fata Morgana," and in "Merton of the Movies," "An American Tragedy," "The Butter and Egg Man," "Growing Pains"—all in England.

He was born, however, in Louisville, Ky., and when only 14 years of age worked for D. W. Griffith in "The Country Flapper." He is now 26, a quiet young chap, rather modest about his work, and mildly interested in pictures. He played last year in New York in Samson Rapahelson's play, "Young Love" with Dorothy Gish and James Rennie.

And what is particularly interesting, Arthur Greville Collins, who is producing "Fata Morgana" at the Playhouse, is given credit for the discovery of Douglas. Collins it was who put the boy in "Fata Morgana" in London in which he scored his first big success.

Morosco in Long Beach

From Long Beach comes word that Oliver Morosco has leased the Lyric Theater there to reopen Sunday, the 27th inst., under a policy of alternating productions of old Morosco hits and brand new plays. The latter, when promising, will be brought into Los Angeles and then sent on to New York, Morosco says.

A company of actors will go into rehearsal next week, at which time the opening bill will be named. William C. Meek will be manager of the house.

French Farce at Play Shop

Miami Alverez, seen here at the Vine street in "Among the Married," Vincent Lawrence's play, will have the lead in "A Loving Wife," described as a risque French farce to be presented by Ralph Herman at the Play Shop the 29th inst. Dayton Lummis, Rose Apelle, Paul Spier and Carmen Mathews are others in the cast. Spier is directing.

Notes From New York

The English comedy in which Madge Kennedy is now rehearsing under the management of the Shuberts will be known here as "On the QT," instead of "Almost a Honeymoon," its London title. Betty Linley has been engaged by Murray Phillips to appear in the comedy which Lou Tellegen is now rehearsing. Miss Linley was last seen in Mrs. Fiske's revival of "The Rivals."

"Tattle-Tales," Alexander Leftwitch's review, will open Tuesday night at the Milbur Theater, Boston. Odette Myrill, Joe Penner, Val and Ernie Stanton and Fred Keating are among the principals in the show.

Screen Drama Starts Today at Boulevard

"This Mad World," the screen version of the French drama by Francois Curel, "Terre Inhumaine," will open today at the Boulevard Theater for its first local showing.

Kay Johnson and Basil Rathbone have the principal roles in a cast of five persons, said to be one of the smallest on record. Louise Dresser, Veda Buckland and Louis Natheaux are the other featured players.

William De Mille directed the picture which deals with the story of the conflict of love and hate between two enemies, one a French spy and the other a German princess.

The new stage show will be headed by Jackie Souders.

ACTRESS IN WILD RIDE

Alma Real, talented actress and singer, who is portraying the duenna in "The Gay Caballero," Warner Brothers' production, had all the pleasure of a wild stage coach ride the other day, accompanied by a movie hold-up with Victor Varconi as the bandit.

FORGERY BLAME PUT ON BERMAN

Ex-Julian Clerk Testifies He Obeyed Orders

Grand Jury Sifting New Data on "Bright Boy"

Schauer Charges Discussed; No Witnesses Called

How worthless Julian Petroleum Corporation stock bearing forged signatures was issued by the stock transfer department of the corporation was the subject of most of the testimony yesterday in the trial of Jacob Berman, charged with forgery and embezzlement, now under way before Superior Judge Schauer.

Ted Harris, one of the transfer clerks, occupied the witness stand during the greater part of the day and testified he had forged the name of T. P. Conroy, secretary of the company, at the direction of Jacob Berman, business associate of S. C. Lewis.

Before Harris was called as a witness Conroy under cross-examination by Deputy Public Defender Hill, representing Berman, admitted he had at various times given authority to others in the corporation to sign his name to some of the stock certificates.

While the trial of the former bright boy of the Julian company was dragging through a dull warm day in court the grand jury took under advisement the proposed investigation of Berman's other asserted criminal actions in connection with the Julian stock transfer department, called to the attention of the criminal complaints committee of the grand jury by Judge Schauer Tuesday evening.

As far as could be learned last night the charges made by Judge Schauer were discussed by members of the grand jury yesterday morning but no witnesses were called and no action taken.

ROAD AGENT TRACKED TO LAIR!

And He Proves Very Willing Captive

Who Wouldn't Surrender?

Mary June Napier covering the "bandit," Snowy Baker, with a gun while Alice Moore holds the lasso with which the captive is bound.

A BOLD bandit was tracked down yesterday in Santa Monica Canyon in one of the most unique chases of its kind in the history of the Southland. The bandit was cornered and caught by a posse composed entirely of girls. The bad man when securely lassoed turned out to be none other than Snowy Baker, Australian sportsman. He was charged with attracting too much attention with his red shirt and was sentenced to drink not less than three lemonades without straws.

The bandit chase is a feature inaugurated by the Riviera Country Club to promote riding in the Santa Monica hills. More than twenty women equestrian enthusiasts participated in the chase yesterday, which started at the Riviera Country Club, and carried the bandit and the posse through the Santa Monica Canyon for more than five miles. Miss Alice Moore, daughter of Tom Moore, motion-picture actor, located Baker in his hideout and summoned the posse.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO FLINT

wrought mind prompted the deed which has horrified the public, and has stricken to the heart those who loved him.

WITHOUT WARNING

"We would like to have a warning that the moment of departure was at hand that we might put our house in order. But without one moment's notice our friend was stricken, cut off in the midst of his days.

"Whatever may be the judgment passed upon us by our fellows, generous or harsh, kindly or bitter, we remind ourselves of a word concerning the judgment of God, 'Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?' We may come short of the expectations of our friends, we may fall miserably even in our own eyes. We can but cast ourselves upon the mercy of God.

"At such times ah this we see better what our fellowmen have tried to do. We understand their motives more fully. We seem to come closer to those who have gone, and to know something more of their struggle to fulfill life's obligations. And we may realize more fully whatever handicap has been upon their spirit. And even when shadows have fallen, as they have fallen athwart every life, we are inclined to be merciful, remembering our own shortcomings, and our own need of the forbearance of God.

SERVICE PRAISED

"Our friend was a man who could not live unto himself. Possessed of more than the usual energy and initiative, gifted with friendliness and a love of service, he entered into a fullness of life and effort to which many are strangers. As public official and responsible man of affairs, he endeavored to do his part in the world's work.

"Mr. Flint's affiliation with the Masonic order reminds those familiar with the high principles of that fraternity that he was one who had entered upon a solemn obligation both before God and man, to walk as under the eye of Him with whom we have all to do, and to live in honor and charity with all men.

"To his many friends who mourn his untimely end, to the members of his own family circle, one and all, our hearts go out with sincere sympathy. May the God of all grace minister to them of his manifold consolation.

PRAYER OFFERED

"Nor ought we to leave this place without the prayer that God may sanctify to every one of us this untoward event. None of us knows either the day or the hour when we shall be summoned to give account of ourselves before God. We are reminded by what has taken place that according to the biblical phrase, 'in the midst of life we are in death.' No man should live lightly who understands that we are all in relations with God and have obligations toward Him, and our fellowmen. God's mercy is continually offered to us in and through Jesus Christ, our Saviour. And His good spirit is ever with us to help us to live nobly and to fulfill our calling in this world. If our hearts are receptive, and the eyes of our heart open, we shall be ever conscious of the kindly light that would lead us in God's chosen path for life and service. God grant that we may be ready to be ushered into His presence."

LIST OF PALLBEARERS

The pallbearers were William Rhodes Hervey, C. W. Stringfellow, W. H. Harrison, W. P. Jeffries, Bernal H. Dyas, H. A. Bell, Abdull Naljan and John Warner.

Mrs. Norman Hasler sang "Nearer My God to Thee," accompanied by the chapel organ. Arrangements for the services were made by Mr. Flint's nephew and niece, William R. Flint and his sister, Mrs. MacKay.

Among the scores of floral offerings were three elaborate pieces sent by Warner Brothers and a Masonic tribute from Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles. The casket rested beneath a large pall of small red roses provided b ythe immediate family.

Bixby Appointed Live-Stock Head at State Fair

Fred H. Bixby of Long Beach, live-stock expert, has been appointed to head the live-stock department of the California State Fair, and also to serve on the horse show and speed events committees, according to announcement from Sacramento yesterday. The fair is slated to open at Sacramento August 30, next, and will help to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of California's admission to the Union.

Competitive drills are to be among the features this year, and teams from Los Angeles county are requested to file entries with Charles W. Paine, secretary-manager.

SCHOOL HEARING HEATED

Bitter Opposition Expressed Before Councilmen to Changing Board of Education Make-up

After an extended hearing Councilmen Davis and Burns of the City Council's Legislative Committee yesterday took under consideration the matter of placing upon the November ballot a charter amendment changing the formation and manner of electing members of the Board of Education.

The Federated Civic Organizations, with a number of speakers, proposed that the board contain fifteen members instead of seven and that they be elected by districts instead of at large. The gist of the argument advanced by the proponents was a complaint over lack of school buildings. The represented organizations were practically all from outlying, sparsely settled communities.

This scheme was attacked by Dr. E. C. Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles; Perry Weidner, Robert A. Odell, former president of the board; Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, former city superintendent; Joseph Scott, former president of the board; H. W. Frank, also a former president; Carl Bush of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and former United States District Judge Bledsoe.

Mr. Scott said the proposal was "going back to the pueblo days" and gave a graphic description of conditions under the ward system, as once was the case in Los Angeles.

The ward system came in for determined criticism from Mrs. Dorsey, who said the man elected from a small district naturally was interested in his district alone, to the exclusion of the welfare of other children of the city.

"Yes," said Mrs. Dorsey indignantly, "the good old days of the ward system, when the schools starved!"

The committee lacked the presence of President Sanborn, now on vacation. A report will be filed with the Council shortly.

BEACH OIL PERMITS UP FOR HEARING

Playground Body Will Resume Consideration of Applications Today

Further consideration of the applications for permission to pass over public beach at Venice to drill for oil in the ocean is scheduled for this afternoon at the regular meeting of the Playground and Recreation Commission, which met in special executive session Monday to decide on regulatory measures which must be required if any permits are granted.

The board is expected today to set a date for a hearing on the application of John A. Van Pelt for a permit to drill on city-owned tidelands at Venice. Van Pelt filed his application Monday. The application stated that he is "associated with Strong & Dickinson, subdividers and oil producers," but Van Pelt yesterday stated that he is not representing that firm in his application but a major oil company, the name of which he has not given.

More applications from oil companies to drill in tidelands at Venice are expected to be filed today, it was announced yesterday, and hearings on these also will be arranged.

The board plans to draw up provisions it will insist on in any lease before taking action toward granting any permits, it was announced, and then the best offer will be selected.

SUIT OF ACTOR SUBMITTED ON BRIEFS

Argument by attorneys in the suit of Lewis Stone, actor, to prevent drilling on city-owned beaches was heard by Superior Judge Hanby yesterday, and the matter submitted on briefs.

Loren A. Butt, deputy City Attorney, argued for the city, asserting that the municipality owned tidelands and submerged lands to a boundary line three miles offshore from high tide mark, by virtue of a special grant of the Legislature to the city of Venice.

Baldwin Robertson, for the plaintiff, declared that the drilling of oil wells would destroy intangible values of beach land possessed by every citizen, and particularly by his client, who owns beach property.

BLAST PUTS OUT LIGHTS IN INSTITUTE

Bible Student Guests Alarmed When Explosion Darkens Hotel Rooms

Intense excitement prevailed in the women's hotel of the Bible Institute last night when the sound of a loud explosion was followed by the extinguishing of all lights in the hotel. The guests who were in their rooms, many of whom had been asleep, paused only long enough to don wrappers and kimonas if they were not dressed and dashed for the elevator, only to find that it had stopped running.

After making their way down the stairs of the eight-story hotel the women congregated in the street, frightened but not knowing what it was all about as fire apparatus and police cars pulled up noisily in the street in front of the institute. At the north end of the institute where the men's hotel is located, stood an equally mystified group of guests, who also had rushed into the street when the lights went out.

Investigation by the firemen disclosed that the noise and subsequent extinguishing of the lights had been caused by the blowing out of a cylinder head in one of the boilers of the electricity generating plant. The plant is in the basement directly under the women's quarters.

No one except the engineer, Stephen Rydel, was in the basement at the time. He was some distance from the boilers and managed to get out of the basement without being scalded. It was half an hour before repairs were made and the electrical service restored.

RESPECT TO BENCH EXAMPLE STRIKING

Brother Peter

LAW AND PROPHET AT VARIANCE

Lex Justicia Doffs Coat in Deference to Heat; Evangelist Retains His

Anyone to approach a judge of the Los Angeles Superior Court in the old Courthouse yesterday with a proposition that judges be required to wear long black robes and full-bottomed wigs on the bench might well have been found in contempt of court.

Because the old Courthouse has an old-fashioned tin roof, and yesterday was no time to be under a tin roof.

Judges Hanby, Hazlett and Archbald not only allowed a coatless etiquette but set the example themselves.

"I can't see how a judge can dispense even-handed justice if he has to divide his time between fanning himself and mopping his brow with a handkerchief," said Judge Hanby. "What do I think of judges wearing ermine? Nothing for publication."

Among those who braved the heat at the Courthouse, however, was Brother Peter, an elderly man with a long beard, who is known as the "Prophet of North Broadway." Seeking judicial indorsement for revival meetings at the Walker Auditorium, Grand avenue, Brother Peter went to the Courthouse yesterday to interview judges. His only concession to the weather was bare feet and, to support his dignity as a prophet, he wore a heavy black claw-hammer coat, buttoned, and the aforesaid whiskers.

Writ Refused in Titles Suit

Superior Judge Hanby yesterday refused to grant an injunction to the Title Insurance and Trust Company, restraining the Security Title Company from using "base titles" of land formerly contained in Spanish and Mexican grants, as asked in a $30,000 damage suit filed by the Title Insurance and Trust Company.

It was asserted that an employee of the Security company sold a "base title," representing research into 1,100,000 court decisions, to the defendant.

FITTS CITES PROSPECT OF TAX RISE

Young Administration's Spending Under Fire in Three Addresses

Property owners will be forced to meet an increase in taxes within the next four years unless they insist that State government expenditures be kept within income, Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, declared in three addresses yesterday.

Fitts spoke at 11 a.m. before the State meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Pacific Palisades. At noon he addressed the Santa Monica Optimist Club at its luncheon at the Miramar Hotel and in the evening was heard at the Santa Paula Business and Professional Women's Club.

At all meetings he pointed out the importance of Southern California having equal representation with the north in governmental affairs in order to maintain a balance.

Pointing out that four more years of the present prodigal rate of expenditure will find the State facing a financial crisis, Fitts said: "Let us review Gov. Young's handling of public funds during the past four years. When he entered office he inherited one of the largest surpluses in the history of the State, more than $21,000,000. This sum was augmented further by the reversion of a $5,500,000 highway appropriation inadvertently authorized in 1925, and an increase of approximately $7,000,000 in inheritance taxes. These three items make a total of $43,500,000 that should be in the general fund surplus, had the State expenses been kept within the State income from regular channels. The Young administration has not only expended more money than received from all sources during the past four years, but it has depleted the general fund surplus of the State by $14,500,000.

"I promise you men and women this: If I am elected Governor you will receive action. I will rid the Capitol of the political worries, the political commissions; I will inaugurate a tax-reduction program that will provide relief. And I assure you that for every dollar spent in the name of the taxpayer that taxpayer will get a dollar's worth of service."

SANITATION DRIVE BEGU FOR HEALT

Sterilization of House Dishes Ordered to Combat Infant Plague

"Beware of the common cup" was the warning issued yesterday by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, city Health Officer, as he announced plans for a campaign to clean restaurants and eating places, sterilize all utensils and establish a preventive measure to stamp out infantile paralysis.

Investigation by county health inspectors has disclosed numerous violations of county ordinances and State laws requiring sterilization of dishes, the official said. Thermometers in hot water tanks are insufficient, as the germs cannot be killed by immersion in boiling water, the general manager or in a mere hand salutation, he said. Thorough rinsing after washing also is required, Pomeroy states that a new system of enforcement of the health laws in this respect is to be immediately. Money penalties for careless and repeated violations, though they should not be severely affected, he said.

Five new cases of the disease were reported to the Health Department of Los Angeles yesterday, bringing the total for the month of July to 49, with six deaths to date. This compares to eighty-four and six deaths during the entire month of June.

Four new cases were reported to the County Health Department yesterday, making a total for the month of July sixty-two since the 1st of the month.

DIRECTOR'S ASSISTANT NEAR DEATH

Bertholon Stricken With Mysterious Illness Is Returning to City

Stricken with a mysterious illness which resembles dengue fever, George C. Bertholon, assistant director of the R.-K.-O. circuit, was taken from the Biltmore hotel at Oakland yesterday and placed in the County Hospital, where he was reported to be at the point of death.

Efforts of physicians to save him from his coma were unavailing. His wife and children left for Oakland yesterday afternoon to be at his bedside. He resides at 2400 Genesee street.

At the R.-K.-O. studios Mrs. Bertholon had been informed that Ketchikan, Alaska, with a population of which left here on June 29 on the "The Silver Heels." He had been called in to take charge of a motion picture, which was supposed to be coming to start shooting. However, when the officials here heard from him, it was on Monday, when he was on one of them from Seattle.

A theory that Bertholon was poisoned is being followed by police.
